A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross-references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product, even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo. pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G.; Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI); but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the Vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

PERSIAN GULF—SHATT-AL-ARAB OR BASRA RIVER.

A dangerous shoal.

THE Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India has given notice that information has been received from Lieutenant Kendall, R. I. M., Commanding R. I. M. S. Lawrence, that a very dangerous shoal, varying in depth, forms in the Shatt-al-Arab or Basra river about 5½ cables to the southward of Muhammera Palace below the junction of the Karun and Shatt-al-Arab rivers: Approximate position lat. 30° 22′ 15″ N., long. 48° 12′ 35″ E. It is at its worst when the rivers Dis and Karun are in flood, independent of the rivers Tigris and Euphrates, and being much modified when those rivers are in flood simultaneously; and barely perceptible when the Euphrates and Tigris are in flood first. It is generally expected about the month of February. The least depth of water at L. W. S. found in February 1898 was 4 feet. The deepest water at that time was between the shoal and Dabba island, by keeping close to the island the least water a vessel would pass over was then 9 feet at L. W. S.

RISLEY said:—"I beg to move that the consideration of the motion which stands in my name, namely, to move that the Bill to amend the law relating to the Municipal affairs of the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta, and to authorize the extension of the same to the Town of Howrah, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Rai Durga Gati Banerjea, Bahadur, the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham, the Hon'ble Mr. Buckley, the Hon'ble Sahibzada Mahomed Bakhtyar Shah, the Hon'ble Mr. Turner, the Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen, the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, the Hon'ble Mr. Spink and the Mover, be adjourned till Saturday, the 2nd April. Hon'ble Members have represented that they have had insufficient time to study the principles of the Bill, and I think their objection is reasonable. In order to facilitate the study of the Bill, I have had prepared a statement which shows in parallel columns the functions assigned by the Bill to the Corporation to the Chairman and to the General Committee, and distinguishing those functions which may be exercised by the Chairman with the sanction of the Corporation or the General Committee, as the case may be. I trust this statement will render it simpler and easier to follow the application of the general principle of the Bill throughout its numerous sections."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I should have been glad had we been able to commence the discussion of the principle of the Bill to-day. It was not intended to take a vote on the motion at this meeting. But if it suits the convenience of Hon'ble Members, I have no objection to postponing discussion to next Saturday. This will put Hon'ble Members in precisely the same position in regard of time as if the Rules had not been suspended last week. It was desirable to get the Bill read in Council then, as we wished to circulate the measure for opinions as soon as possible, and this has now been done. The real work of the Select Committee will not in fact begin before July. It will thus be clear that the charge that the Bill is being rushed through Council is altogether baseless.

I may also point out that some Hon'ble Members have been misquoting to the outside public the rule of Council regarding translation of Bills. It is a mistake to suppose that Rule 31 requires translation into the Vernacular before reference to Select Committee. The words in that rule 'on some subsequent occasion' mean, and have always been held to mean, on some subsequent occasion to the meeting at which the Bill has been introduced. The rule runs:—

> 'When a Bill is introduced, it shall, together with a Statement of its Objects and Reasons, be published in the English and Vernacular languages in the official Gazettes of such parts of Bengal as are affected by the Bill. And on some subsequent occasion the Member in charge of it shall make one or more of the following motions:—
> (a) that it be referred to a Select Committee, or > (b) that it be taken into consideration by the Council at some future day, or > (c) that it be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon.'

"The only necessary preliminary to reference to a Committee is laid down in Rule 32, viz., that copies of the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons must have been seven days in Hon'ble Members' hands:—

> 'No such motion shall be made until after a copy of the Bill and a copy of the Statement of Objects and Reasons have been furnished to each Member. Any Member may object to the motion unless such copies have been furnished to him at least seven days previously; and such objection shall prevail unless the President, in exercise of his discretion, allow the motion to be made.'

"The translation of the Bill into Bengali, the Vernacular of Calcutta, is being made, but it is in this case sheer waste of time and money, as every person capable of giving a useful opinion on the Bill will read it in English, the language in which, I may observe in passing, all Municipal business is carried on here. I asked one of the Hon'ble Members last Saturday for whose benefit he was so anxious to hang up the Bill till translations were made, and he replied that 'the Marwaris ought to see it.' I have never myself met a Marwari who could read a Bengali Act, and Bengali is the only language into which the Bill will or can be translated. The inner meaning of this anxiety for translation I leave the Council to surmise.

"I should also like to take the earliest opportunity of removing another misconception, viz., that the Government of India had the Bill under consideration for only a week or two. As a fact they had the main principle of the Bill in full draft, and a pretty good skeleton of the rest of it before them in June last, and had it under consideration for over six months, while the Secretary of State was informally made aware of its general lines as far back as July. There was perhaps hardly ever a measure which has received more full and anxious consideration from all responsible for it. Mr. Risley and I have been working at it and consulting people about it for over a year. As I said last Saturday, the one feature in the Bill about which Government has made up its mind is the strengthening of the City Executive. All beside that is more or less tentative, and will, I hope, with the rest of the measure, be carefully examined by the bodies to whom we have referred for opinion. I am happy to know that very many leading citizens, both Native and European, are entirely with us in our main proposals But as the Hon'ble Mr. Risley is willing to accede to the wish of Hon'ble Members, I have no objection, and I adjourn the Bill to next Saturday.

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 2nd April, 1898.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORTS ON SETTLEMENTS AND SURVEYS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1897.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 4th April 1898.

RESOLUTION No. 1491.

READ—

Letter No. 71A., dated 15th January 1898, from the Board of Revenue, submitting the Reports of the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, on Settlements, and the Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys, Bengal, on Surveys in Bengal for the year ending the 30th September 1897.

The reports.

Both the report of the Director of Land Records and that of the Superintendent of Settlement Surveys were submitted to the Board by the due date.

Charge and inspection.

2. Captain R. T. Crichton, I.S.C., was in charge of the office of Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys throughout the year, with the exception of the period from 12th February to 17th March 1897, when he was on privilege leave, and Captain C. W. H. Symonds. Officiating Deputy Superintendent, officiated for him. Captain Crichton spent 95 and Captain Symonds 29 days on tour. The total of 124 days is less than the touring done in the previous year owing to the contraction of the field season in consequence of the famine in North Bihar. Mr. P. C. Lyon, C.S., acted as Director of Land Records up to 23rd November 1896, when Mr. W. C. Macpherson, C.S., resumed charge on return from furlough. Mr. Macpherson held charge for the rest of the year, with the exception of the period from 23rd June to 5th September 1897, during which he was on special duty in Orissa in connection with the settlement of that Province, and Mr. C. G. H. Allen, C.S., officiated for him in addition to carrying on his duties as Settlement Officer of Chittagong. Mr. Lyon, Mr. Allen and Mr. Macpherson were on tour for 4, 83 and 26 days respectively, exclusive of the period of Mr. Macpherson's deputation to Orissa, referred to above.

SURVEY.

General results of survey during 1896-97.

3. One small traverse section and two cadastral sections were employed in North Bihar during the year; but in view of the advent of famine, the original programme, which provided for the traverse surveys of 50 and 317 square miles, and the cadastral surveys of 500 and 600 square miles in the district of Saran and the north of district Darbhanga respectively, could not be adhered to in its entirety, and the Saran cadastral section ultimately took up only a small area in thana Basantpur, while the Darbhanga cadastral section confined their operations to the south instead of the north of the district, the areas being selected as those which were the least likely to be affected by the prevailing distress. In view of the reduction in the Bihar survey parties, Captain Crichton was, in addition to his administrative duties as Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys in Bengal, placed in executive charge of the Bihar survey, his head-quarters being transferred from Calcutta to Bihar. The outturn of survey work during the year ending 30th September 1897 amounted to 908 square miles of traverse survey; 845 square miles of cadastral survey; record-writing for 845 square miles; and topographical survey on the 16″ and 2″ scales, for 211 and 199 square miles respectively.

The following statement shows the general outturn and cost of survey-settlement work during the year under report and during the preceding three years:—

The following statement shows the comparative cost rates per square mile of survey work in different districts during the year under report:—

Localities.	Traverse survey.	Cadastral survey.	Record-writing.	Topographical. 16" scale.	Topographical. 2" scale.

Saran	89·31	142·03	128·62	55·48	...

During the year the total area cadastrally surveyed amounted to 845 square miles, and the total cost of cadastral survey and record writing to Rs. 1,78,511; the average cost of survey and record-writing was therefore Rs. 211 per square mile. The Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys has satisfactorily explained the reasons for the great diversity of the rates shown in the above statement, and the Board draw attention to the difficulties which they illustrate in making a fairly close estimate beforehand of the cost per acre of survey and settlement operations under the Bengal Tenancy Act. The rates in Midnapore are no criterion of the ordinary rates either in that district or elsewhere, as in addition to the small area under survey (three square miles), the operations were for special reasons conducted with great detail in order to ensure absolute accuracy. Otherwise the abnormally high rates of the year under report are due to the general contraction of the survey programme in Bengal, and to alterations and reductions of the programme in Bihar on account of the famine. The latter course was unavoidable, while it was impossible to employ the establishments at such short notice outside of Bihar, nor was it desirable to break up the highly-trained parties.

Changes in procedure.

4. With a view to giving effect to the orders of Government as to the survey of diara villages, it was decided during the year that all diara lands within the district boundaries should be traversed, and that a surveyor, provided with a skeleton map on a small scale of the village boundaries so surveyed, should pass over the ground and mark on the map an approximate line separating the fields having permanent boundaries from those subject to river action. On the river side of the line thus arrived at, all villages belonging to Government were to be cadastrally surveyed in the ordinary course, and all other villages topographically surveyed only on the 16-inch scale. During the year area slips for each holding showing the name of the principal tenant, the number of each field in the holding, and the area of each, were for the first time prepared in the Bihar cadastral survey camps, and supplied to the Settlement Department for distribution to the tenants some time before final attestation; the supply of similar slips to the landlords is contemplated. The issue of these slips some time before attestation will enable landlords and tenants to become acquainted with the areas of their fields in sufficient time to put forward any objections they may have to make at the attestation stage, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that this is a most valuable and practical innovation, and worthy of general adoption wherever possible.

Attitude of the people.

5. No difficulties in dealing with the people were experiencedin North Bihar. It is reported that in Saran the raiyats were apathetic in attending the cadastral camps during the detail survey stage, but showed great interest in the work at the time of khanapuri, and were anxious to obtain their parchas. In Darbhanga there was a little trouble at first, probably due to the sudden change of programme. In Noakhali no opposition, but on the other hand no help was offered. In Midnapore the test survey was accepted with indifference. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that great care is exercised in the imposition of fines for non-attendance, which, as the Board rightly remark, considerably affects the popularity, and consequent success, of the operations.

Training of young Civilians.

6. Owing to the exigencies of famine work, no junior Civilians could be attached to any of the survey parties for the purpose of instruction during the year.

The statement given below shows the total survey work done up to 30th September 1897 and remaining to be done on that date in each district:—

The survey operations in Muzaffarpur and Champaran were completed in 1895-96; but two diara villages, covering an area of 1·75 square miles, in the former district, which had been originally surveyed in 1893-94, were surveyed anew. In the Saran district 60 square miles, consisting wholly of diara lands on the Gandak river, were traversed, 25 square miles of diara lands were topographically surveyed, and 210 square miles cadastrally surveyed and khanapuried. Out of the total area of 2,622 square miles of the district, there remain for traverse survey 180 square miles only, including 12 square miles of the outturn of 1892-93, lying in the Gandak diara, which will have to be re-traversed; for cadastral and topographical survey 1,190 square miles remain to be completed. In the Darbhanga district 417 square miles were traversed, 545 square miles were cadastrally surveyed and khanapuried, and 40 square miles of diara lands in the Ganges river were topographically surveyed during the year. In both districts the change of programme necessitated by the famine very much delayed operations.

SETTLEMENT.

General result of settlements during 1896 97.

8. Settlement work under the control of the Director of Land Records was in progress in the following areas:—for revision of land revenue in temporarily-settled estates and Government estates, 8,845 square miles; for survey and record of rights in private estates other than Wards' estates, inclusive of Bihar, 12,956 square miles; and for survey and record of rights in Wards' estates, 530 square miles, or a grand total of 22,331 square miles, as compared with 19,142 square miles in the preceding year.

Bihar Settlement.

10. Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, C.S., held charge as Settlement Officer of North Bihar from the date of his return from leave on 7th October 1896, and Mr. R. B. Hughes, C.S., was in immediate charge of the operations throughout the year in the Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga districts, with the exception of a period of about three months, during which he was absent on privilege leave. Nine Assistant Settlement Officers were employed in the district of Muzaffarpur at various times during the year. The special features of the year's work were the check to the progress caused by the famine, the large amount of case work, publication of records, and office work accomplished, and the success attained in recovery of costs in Hajipur, to which operations were limited. Attestation of records was completed in 452 villages, measuring 436 square miles, leaving only five villages still unattested in the district; 496 cases for settlement of fair rents in the area attested in 1895-96, and 785 in the area attested during 1896-97, were disposed of; 12,576 objections under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act and 770 disputes under section 106 were decided, and records were finally published in 1,729 villages. From the notes kept of the nature of 1,167 objections tried by one of the Assistant Settlement Officers, it appears that 488 referred to possession and 420 to the money rents recorded; of the former, 207 were instituted by the landlord against the raiyats, 120 by raiyats against their landlords, and 66 by raiyats against raiyats. The Settlement Officer remarks that "the figures are interesting as showing that the raiyats have a full appreciation of the importance of having their holdings correctly recorded in our records and as showing that the rights of the raiyats have been well protected at attestation." Out of 131 appeals in fair rent cases disposed of by the Special Judge up to 30th September 1897, the original decisions in 104 or 79 per cent. were upheld, 14 or 11 per cent. were modified, and 13 or 10 per cent. reversed. In connection with an appeal filed by the manager of the Tikari Raj against the Settlement Officer's decision, the Special Judge remarked that the appeal should never have been filed on the unsatisfactory evidence produced. There is reason for thinking that the Ward's Estate had been following the example of certain other landlords and filing appeals in the hopes that the raiyats would eventually compromise. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Settlement Officer that it is the duty of the Manager to see that appeals are not filed on purely frivolous grounds.

Muzaffarpur.

In boundary disputes it is most satisfactory that out of 88 appeals filed in the course of operations in this district, in only 4 were the decisions modified and in 3 reversed, while only 6 per cent. of such decisions have been appealed against, indicating that this important part of the work which has often been attacked, has on the whole been correctly done. The work remaining in Muzaffarpur district consists chiefly of attestation of 5 villages, disposal of 905 objections under section 105 and of 1,135 cases under section 106, final publication of records in 897 villages, completion of statistics and preparation of the final report, and the computation and recovery of costs.

Operations for recovery of the cost from landlords and tenants were temporarily suspended in thana Lalganj on account of the famine; but in the Hajipur thana, which was not affected by famine, 75 per cent. of the demand was collected as the result of a few days work in March 1897, without recourse to coercive measures. Altogether Rs. 39,179 were collected during the year, bringing the total recoveries from the beginning to Rs. 73,230 only. A satisfactory feature was the reduction in the cost of collection to 3·62 per cent. on the total sum collected, against a percentage of 9·33 in the previous year. A considerable sum was collected at head-quarters without the expensive procedure of a recovery camp, and the cost of computation is not included in the calculation above, but even allowing for this the improvement was considerable and the Settlement Officer anticipates with confidence the collection of the total demand with an expenditure of less than 10 per cent.

Now that the settlement in this district is nearing conclusion, some general results of the operations are not without interest. The district has been surveyed in over four million plots or survey numbers, and over a million tenancies or parcels of land have been recorded, representing twice the number of agricultural tenancies in the whole of England, Scotland and Wales. Complete statistics of the status of tenants have not yet been compiled, but it is understood that non-occupancy raiyats and under-raiyats do not together comprise as much as 10 per cent. of the tenancies. From the beginning of the operations rents have been settled in this district for only 16,481 tenancies (omitting rents settled for 595 diara tenancies) out of 1,036,000 tenancies in the district, with the result that the former rents of the tenants affected, which aggregated Rs. 1,33,932, have been raised to Rs. 1,45,759. The average incidence of rent to the acre in Muzaffarpur, as paid by various classes of raiyats, is shown by the Settlement Officer as follows, so far as figures have been compiled :—

	On entire area of holdings. Rs. A. P.		On each cultivated acre. Rs. A. P.
Raiyats at fixed rates	3 6 4	per acre	3 14 0
Settled and occupancy raiyats ...	3 15 9	"	4 5 5
Non-occupancy raiyats	4 13 9	"	5 1 6
Under-raiyats	4 15 9	"	5 4 5

Under-raiyats generally pay produce rents. The total expenditure on survey and settlement since the commencement of the operations has been about 11 lakhs.

Champaran.

11. Mr. J. H. Kerr, C.S., was in subordinate charge of the operations in the Champaran district, but from the middle of February to the end of July he was deputed to act as Subdivisional Officer of Bettiah in consequence of the famine. Seven Assistant Settlement Officers were employed in the district for various periods. The programme for completion of attestation of records in this district was not accomplished on account of the famine, which interfered very seriously with the operations. During the year 665 square miles were attested; records were published in draft, and finally in 718 and 891 villages, respectively; fair rents were settled in 514 cases, and 4,050 objections under section 105 and 914 disputes under section 106 were disposed of. Out of 37 appeals in boundary disputes dealt with up to the end of the year under report, the decision of the Revenue Officer was upheld in 34, modified in 1 and reversed in 2 cases. The work of settling rents was confined during the year to areas where distress was not acute. In such areas the rents of 24,970 tenants were raised during the year, entirely on the ground of excess area, from Rs. 2,25,084 to Rs. 2,43,650. The following table shows the amount of work done in the settlement of fair rents from the beginning of operations according to the area attested in each year:—

Area.	Number of tenants for whom fair rents were settled.	Former rental.	Fair rent settled.	Enhancement.	Percentage of enhancement.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Attested in 1893-94 ...	22,151	144,556	162,636	18,080	12·50
" in 1894-95 ...	12,850	109,276	120,028	10,752	9·83
" in 1895-96 ...	53,290	557,201	600,300	43,099	7·73
" in 1896-97 ...	6,313	37,249	42,112	4,863	13·05
Total ...	94,604	848,282	925,076	76,794	9·05

The increase in the enhancement allowed during 1896-97 was due to the fact that the greater part of the area attested lay along the river Gandak and is subject to constant changes from alluvion and diluvion. Practically all the increase was decreed in terms of compromises, after careful enquiry into the fairness of the rents agreed upon, while in no case was an enhancement awarded in excess of 33 per cent. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe the remarks made by the Settlement Officer as to the terrorism and oppression exercised by the agents of the Madhuban Babu over his raiyats.

A review of operations in this district, so far as figures are at present available, shows from figures compiled for 1,750 out of 2,855 villages that settled and occupancy raiyats make up 92½ per cent. of the whole number of tenants. Rents have been settled for 94,601 out of a total of 402,800 tenancies for which records have been attested, with the result that former rents aggregating Rs. 8,48,283 have been raised to Rs. 9,25,076, or by 9 per cent. The average incidence of rent to the acre in Champaran, so far as statistics have been compiled, is as follows:—

	On entire area of holdings.			On each acre cultivated.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Raiyats holding at fixed rates or fixed rents ...	1	1	6	1	4	2
Settled and occupancy raiyats pay ...	2	0	3	2	3	5
Non-occupancy raiyats pay	1	15	5	2	3	11
Under-raiyats pay	1	9	2	1	10	8

It is probable that non-occupancy raiyats and under-raiyats hold inferior lands. They pay produce rents for a great part of their lands. The average size of the holdings of the various classes of raiyats varies considerably; thus while a raiyat at fixed rates usually actually cultivates 7·5 acres, the similar holding of an occupancy raiyat is only 3·5 acres, and of a non-occupancy raiyat 1·6 acres. The Settlement Officer has given cultivation and crop statistics complete for the whole district. Of the area cadastrally surveyed 68 per cent. is cultivated and 32 per cent. is uncultivated. The following extract from the Settlement Officer's report furnishes some interesting particulars as to the different crops grown:—

"Of the net cropped area of 1,438,560 acres, rice covers nearly 52 per cent. In Shikarpur rice covers no less than 79 per cent. of the cropped area, and in Adapur 83 per cent. After rice comes barley, which is grown on 16 per cent. of the cropped area, and then maize, kodo, and wheat, which each covers about 8 per cent. Indigo is grown on only 6 per cent. of the total area; but excluding Bagaha and Shikarpur, where the quantity grown is inconsiderable, the proportion works out to nearly 9 per cent. The largest proportion of indigo is in Kesaria thana, where it covers over 11 per cent. of the cultivated area. Sugarcane covers only 9 per cent. of the total area, but in Bagaha the proportion is nearly 3 per cent. Opium is grown on 50,147 acres, or over 3 per cent. of the cultivated area. The area is greatest in Dhaka thana, where the proportion is over 6 per cent. Tobacco only covers 1,070 acres. A small quantity of coffee is grown chiefly by Muhammadans in the Bettiah and Kesaria thanas for private consumption."

Recoveries from landlords and raiyats during the year on account of the cost of the survey and record-of-rights amounted during the year to Rs. 73,390, and altogether Rs. 1,18,567 have now been recovered. On account of the famine no attempt was made to collect from raiyats during the year, except in some villages in the Bettiah thana, where Rs. 217 only were realised.

Saran.

12. Mr. M. F. Gauntlett, C.S., was in direct charge of the district of Saran throughout the year, but from 5th May to the 12th September he acted as Joint-Magistrate at Chapra in addition to his other duties. Thirteen Assistant Settlement Officers were employed in the district for various periods during the year. In this district also the attestation programme of the year was seriously curtailed on account of the famine. In all, more than one-half of the field survey and record writing, but not one-fourth of the attestation work, has been completed. During the year khanapuri work was completed in 212 square miles, and attestation on 477 square miles, while records were published in draft and finally in 615 and 998 villages respectively. The attestation programme was particularly heavy, containing no less than 1,303,708 plots; it suffered from the dislocation of work due to the famine. The numbers of disputes instituted and decided were very large, and an interesting account is given by the Settlement Officer of a few typical cases illustrating the difficulties which beset this branch of the work. In the area attested during the year, 725 cases for the settlement of fair rents were decided. One hundred fair rent cases were disposed of in the area attested in 1894-95, and 375 cases for the review of the original cases were instituted, of which 358 were decided. Altogether, the rents of

7,168 tenants were settled during the year, and were raised generally on compromise, and chiefly on the ground of excess area, from Rs. 91,215 to Rs. 96,462. Fifty-seven appeals in fair rent cases were decided by the Special Judge. In 8 cases he upheld the original decisions, in 2 modified, and in 3 reversed them. The other cases were remanded for further enquiry. During the year 6,452 objections under section 105 were disposed of, and 256 disputes were tried as civil suits under section 106. So far as statistics have been compiled, it has been ascertained that settled and occupancy raiyats hold about 78 per cent. of the tenancies. The average incidence of the rent to the acre in Saran, so far as rents have been recorded, is as follows:—

	On entire area of holdings.	On each acre cultivated.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Raiyats holding at fixed rates or fixed rents	3 8 0	3 13 9
Settled and occupancy raiyats ...	3 14 6	4 1 10
Non-occupancy raiyats ...	3 10 7	3 13 2
Under-raiyats	3 15 6	4 0 11

As it was evident that the cost of survey and record of rights in Saran would be greater than in Muzaffarpur and Champaran on account of the larger number of fields, tenants, and proprietors, and the consequent greater complication of the record-writing, an acreage rate of 10 annas was sanctioned for recovery in this district against 8 annas sanctioned for Muzaffarpur and Champaran. The only recovery made during the year was of a sum of Rs. 50,000 from the Hatwa Raj.

Darbhanga.

13. The Maharaja of Darbhanga and Raja Rameshwar Singh having agreed to an entire re-survey of all their estates in this district, in place of a revision of Mr. Finucane's survey, it was decided that the whole district should be surveyed professionally on the scale of 16 miles to the inch. Field survey and record-writing began during the year in the Samastipur and Dalsinghserai thanas instead of in the north of the district, the change of programme being necessitated by the severe famine which was prevalent in the north. Mr. R. B. Hughes, C.S., was in charge of the work in addition to his duties as Assistant Settlement Officer in charge of Muzaffarpur, and three other officers were employed for various periods in the area under khanapuri. During the year khanapuri work was completed in 585 square miles. Owing to the intricate pattidari system and the dense population, the average size of a plot worked out to only ·32 of an acre. Out of 1,085,010 plots found in 545 square miles disputes were filed concerning 57,602 plots. Out of this enormous number, the revenue officers could only deal with the disputes relating to 15,904 plots, and disputes affecting 41,698 plots remained to be decided at the attestation stage. Special attention has been drawn to the necessity of greater supervision at the stage of khanapuri, and arrangements will be made to increase the number of officers so employed. During the year 301 boundary disputes were disposed of, and out of 24 appeals decided, 20 were upheld, 1 modified, and 3 reversed.

14. The expenditure on the operations in North Bihar was as follows:—

Miscellaneous.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the value and utility of the settlement records in North Bihar was practically demonstrated in several instances during the year. Scarcity maps for the districts of Champaran, Muzaffarpur, and Saran were prepared by the Settlement Department, and formed a basis of reference at the Conference held by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor at Sonepur in November 1896, while the Settlement Officer draws attention to the valuable means which will be available in the crop statistics, for identifying those villages which are most largely dependent upon the rice crop and therefore most likely to suffer severely should that crop fail. The reports of the Assistant Settlement Officers while in camp were of great service in gauging the extent of distress and crop failure, while Mr. Stevenson Moore himself submitted two useful notes on the agricultural conditions of the affected area. The parchas in Champaran, Muzaffarpur, and Saran were invariably referred to before granting advances, and furnished an easily available and reliable record of the necessity for the loan and of the security which could be offered for its repayment. In the acquisition of land for railways and other public works the settlement records were found of the greatest value in Champaran and Darbhanga, especially in the former district, where the acquisition proceedings in connection with the land taken up for famine relief works were based entirely upon the settlement survey and records. The advantages for the purpose of land acquisition proceedings of an existing survey and record prepared by a highly trained staff and previous to the acquisition proceedings are undeniable, and the Settlement Officer gives special prominence to the point that where these records are available the necessity of a further survey should be entirely obviated. The only difficulty is one of scale, the survey scale of 330 feet to the inch being smaller than the usual land acquisition scale of 150 feet to the inch. In view of the special exigencies of the famine conditions, the adoption of the survey scale was sanctioned as a special case, and was found to work well. The matter was considered by the Officiating Lieutenant-Governor in August 1897, in connection with the utilisation of the survey and settlement records in the acquisition of railway land in Orissa. Mr. Stevens was then of opinion that while it was desirable to utilise these records as far as possible, yet in the case of minute plots the scale of 330 feet to the inch was too small to be of practical value, and the decision as to the use of the survey maps in any particular case was therefore left to the land acquisition officer.

Maintenance of records and boundary marks.

16. The questions of the maintenace of records and boundary marks were separately dealt with in Chapter II of the Director of Land Records' Annual Agricultural Report for the year ending 31st March 1897, and were reviewed in paragraphs 2 to 5 of the Government Resolution thereon, No. 842T.-R., dated 8th October 1897. With regard to the registration of mutations under the Land Records Maintenance Act III (B.C.) of 1895, the Settlement Officer of North Bihar has furnished the following information as to the results obtained by the Sub-Registrars of Hajipur and Bettiah:—

	Total number of khatians.	Total number of mutations.	Number registered.		Percentage of applications filed to number of khatians.	Percentage of successions to total number of khatians.
			Succession.	Other kinds.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Hajipur ...	57,634	5,941	603	3,510	10·3	1·04
Bettiah ...	52,036	2,016	74	1,942	3·8	·1

The Settlement Officer reports that, from enquiries made on the spot in four selected villages in the jurisdiction of the Sub-Registry Office of Hajipur, the percentages of mutations of all sorts and of transfers by succession to the total number of holdings in the villages were found to be 13·72 and 6·38, respectively, and that similar enquiries made in four villages belonging to the Laheria

Indigo Concern in Bettiah showed that over 200 transfers had actually occurred, but that only 21 had been registered. It is therefore clear that a very small percentage of the transfers by succession that have taken place have been registered, and as long as such is not the case the utility and accuracy of the records is largely impaired. Suggestions for improving the present procedure are promised with a view of more fully attaining the objects of the Act.

Orissa Settlement.

16. Mr. S. L. Maddox, C.S., was in charge throughout the year, as Settlement Officer of Orissa, including the Government estate of Khurda, and Messrs. H. McPherson, C.S., J. Webster, C.S., H. Carey, C.S., D. H. Kingsford, C.S., and J. Taylor were in immediate superintending charge of the operations in Puri, Cuttack (divided into two charges), Balasore and Khurda, respectively. Forty-two additional Assistant Settlement Officers were employed for various periods during the year. The following statement shows, under the main heads, the work done during the year:—

(b) In Khurda, rents have to be settled for Government tenants in an area of about 400 square miles. The remaining area is (1) included in the Ekrajats or Revenue-free estate and (2) Forest.

The great progress made in the settlement of rents was a most satisfactory feature of the year's work.

In paragraph 11 of the Government Resolution upon the Report of the Director of Land Records for the year ending 30th September 1896, reference was made to the principles upon which the draft rules had been framed for the guidance of the Settlement Officers in settling rents. Certain modifications were made in these rules after the visit of the Lieutenant-Governor to Orissa in January 1897, and after a further conference in March, and the rules so modified were finally approved by the Government of India after the close of the year under report. It has been decided to fix the term of the new settlement in Orissa at 30 years. The rents of occupancy tenants are being settled for 15 years and those of non-occupancy tenants for 5. The proportion of the assets to be taken by Government as revenue in the present settlement and all other questions connected with the settlement have been finally decided on a reasonable and moderate basis, and Government has announced that, in view of the special circumstances of the present occasion, it will at this settlement be content with less than its normal share of the assets.

The results up to date of the settlement of rents in the temporarily-settled estates of Orissa are as follows:—

NAME OF DISTRICT.	Estimated total number of tenants.	Estimated total existing assets.	Tenants for whom rents have been settled from the beginning.	Existing assets dealt with to end of September 1897. * Exclusive of confirmed lakhiraj tenants.

In Khurda, existing rents, aggregating Rs. 2,96,814, have been raised to Rs. 3,62,438, or by 22 per cent., and rents payable directly to Government have been raised from Rs. 2,86,812 to Rs. 3,52,708. These enhancements have been accepted by the tenants, and the new rents are being realised without any friction or difficulty. Rents of cultivated lands in Khurda are being enhanced 3 annas in the rupee on account of rise of prices since 1881, when they were last settled, and the considerable increase of cultivation. Bazaar rents are being enhanced one anna in the rupee only. In the temporarily-settled estates in Cuttack existing rents have so far been retained for 58 per cent. of the tenants, in Balasore for 55 per cent., in Puri, exclusive of Khurda, for 60 per cent., and in Khurda, for 27·72 of the tenants. Since March 1897, the percentage of rents retained has been 50 to 55. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board in thinking that the progress made in settling rents is highly satisfactory and beyond the most sanguine anticipations. The work has chiefly been conducted on the basis of express acceptances given by the tenants to the rents proposed by the Revenue Officers, and Mr. Macpherson, after personal inspection of the work in a number of camps, had satisfied himself that the tenants' acceptances were genuine. That the Settlement Officers have proceeded with care and moderation is shown by the fact that only 1,820 tenants out of 1,048,462 objected to the rents settled, and that, up to 30th September 1897, only nine appeals had been filed before the Special Judge against settled rents. Out of those appeals, six are pending, in two appeals, the Revenue Officers' findings were expressly upheld, and one appeal was dismissed. Up to the end of the year assessment reports had been prepared for 311 out of the 6,243 temporarily-settled estates in Orissa, and the Commissioner had passed orders on reports for 142 estates. It is anticipated that the existing revenue of the temporarily-settled estates, viz. Rs. 13¾ lakhs, will be increased at least to 21 lakhs, or 53·4 per cent., and of Khurda, from 3 lakhs to rather over 3½ lakhs. The expenditure of the year on settlement work in Orissa amounted to Rs. 5,28,190. The expenditure from the beginning has been on survey Rs. 10,35,294 and on settlement Rs. 16,39,881.

Chittagong.

17. Mr. C. G. H. Allen, C.S., was Settlement Officer in Chittagong throughout the year. In addition to his settlement duties, he officiated as Collector of the district for a short time on two occasions, and as Director of Land Records from 23rd June to 6th September 1897. Five Assistant Settlement Officers were employed for the whole of the year. Out of 1,037 villages under settlement, comprising an area of 1,923 square miles, assessment has now been completed for 979, and the draft records of 959 and final records of 767 have been published. Under the programme, final publication should have been completed for the whole district, but the delay was chiefly due to the under-estimate of the number of Noabad tenants. During the year, 4,696 objections under section 105 and 41 disputes under section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act were dealt with. Assessment of the rents of 177,786 tenants had been made in preceding years, and that of 67,666 tenants was made during the year under report. The result of the settlement of rents during the year was that the aggregate rents paid by the 67,666 tenants of all degrees, were raised from Rs. 1,35,521 to Rs. 1,80,187. Rents of raiyats in the mass were increased by 7 per cent., of which ⅘ths was on account of excess area. Rents of raiyats paying direct to Government were increased by 10 per cent. In the case of 22,336 tenants of all degrees paying rents or revenue direct to Government, the increase made was from Rs. 58,422 to Rs. 76,671, or 31 per cent., and rents were settled in addition for previously unsettled lands to the amount of Rs. 14,168. The result of the settlement operations from the beginning in this district has been to raise the Government revenue of the Noabad lands from Rs. 3,50,940 to Rs. 5,30,121, or by 51 per cent.; and the whole increase of revenue likely to be obtained is estimated by the Settlement Officer as Rs. 1,96,500.

Palamau Government Estate.

18. The settlement of the Palamau Government estate has now been practically completed, and the Lieutenant-Governor awaits the receipt of the completion report at an early date. The estate comprises 399 villages, exclusive of one mauza under dispute, lying in 18 tuppas, with an area of 181,050 acres, or 283 square miles (exclusive of 11 square miles of jagir or revenue-free land which were not under settlement), measured in 161,352 plots or fields. The settlement was conducted under the provisions of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1879 and on the uttakar system (under which rent is paid for every bigha of land within a tenant's holding) instead of on the pariadari system (under which up-lands are not assessed). Mr. D. Sunder continued to be in charge of the work till the beginning of February 1897, when he was placed on famine duty. He returned to settlement work in July 1897. The work done during the year consisted chiefly of the distribution to raiyats of parchas; explanation to raiyats of the jamabandis published under section 9 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1879; the revision of boundaries of villages and formation of blocks of protected forest; the compilation of statistics and the preparation of the completion report for the settlement.

The result of the settlement has been to give a rental of Rs. 74,433 as compared with rents settled in 1865, amounting to Rs. 40,892, and against an attested rental of Rs. 57,693 paid to the thikadars. The rates of rent are practically the same as those of the last settlement, and the increase is due to extended cultivation. Rs. 3,270 have been settled as the rent of mahua trees, and Rs. 10,087 as the rent of palas and kusum trees. The increase of rental from all sources thus amounts to Rs. 46,947. There was no appeal against the assessment. The new rents were brought into effect from September 1896. The average rents per cultivated acre are—

				Rs.	A.	P.
Settled	raiyats	...	...	1	3	0
Occupancy	„	...	..	1	6	8
Non-occupancy	„	...	...	0	14	7

The thikadari system has been abandoned, and the estate has been brought under khas management. The expenditure of the year on the settlement amounted to Rs 7,650, and the total cost of the operations, exclusive of survey, is shown by the Settlement Officer as Rs. 43,436. The cost of survey was Rs. 79,165.

Darjeeling Terai.

19. The area under resettlement in the Darjeeling Terai is 230·15 square miles, consisting of 824 jotes, 91 thirty-year lease grants, 17 market sites, and 3 blocks of khas land. The principal work done during the year was that of assessment. The Government has, as a matter of grace, conceded to the jotedars a limit of enhancement of 50 per cent. on the rents now paid by them. The resettlement of the jotes is expected to result in an increase of 22 per cent. on the existing revenue of Rs. 88,568. In the case of the 30-year grants, it has been found that the provisions of the existing leases which limit the re-assessments to half rates will only allow very small enhancements. The term of the new settlement has been fixed at 20 years, and the new revenue has been brought into effect from the kist of January 1898. The expenditure incurred on this settlement up to the end of the year amounted to Rs. 20,240, exclusive of the cost of survey.

20. The Kolhan estate comprises 911 villages with an aggregate area of 1,403·7 square miles. Its settlement was conducted under no specific law, but the procedure adopted followed, as far as possible, the settlement laws in force. The traverse survey of the estate was made by a professional party, but the field survey was supervised by the Settlement Officer, Mr J. A. Craven, who also conducted the settlement proceedings, with the help of two Assistant Settlement Officers of junior rank and under the guidance of the Board. The work done during the year comprised the survey of 173 villages with an area of 281·8 square miles, comprising 8,521 holdings and 151,445 plots; extraction and checking of field areas, comparing khatians with khasras, copying of the khatians, preparation of abstract khatian, and jamabandi; attestation of khatians for 8,521 holdings; calculation of the rents of holdings; preparation of parchas and compilation of statistical statements for 173 villages; disposal of 196 boundary disputes, 1,343 jote disputes and 1,414 cases of disputed sales and mortgages; in addition to the work connected with the exclusion and demarcation of the excess protected forests, and enumeration of all fruit trees and all mahua, kusum, asan and palas trees in the estate, and preparation of a record of those trees for each village. The only work remaining is the issue of pattas and of records of rights to the Mankis and Mundas. The former aggregate rents, amounting to Rs. 64,828, have been raised to Rs. 1,77,300, or by 173·5 per cent. The cost of survey and settlement during the year was Rs. 45,312, and the total cost of the operations has been Rs. 1,88,256. The rate of cost per square mile is Rs. 134, and per acre 3 annas and 4½ pies only. This low rate, and the large increase obtained by this settlement, reflect great credit on the Settlement Officer; and, as the Board have observed, it is a satisfactory feature of this large settlement that it has been completed at less cost than was originally estimated.

Kolhan Estate, Singbhum.

In the course of the operations the survey and record of rights of 10 lakhiraj villages within the boundaries of the estate were made, at the cost of the lakhirajdars, under the supervision of the Settlement Officer. A survey of all lands within the Chaibassa Municipality was also made under his supervision.

21. The estates of the Raja of Hill Tippera, in Tippera and Noakhali, known as Chakla Roshnabad, comprise an area of 556·85 square miles, with 1,507 villages. Mr. J. G. Cumming, C.S., was the Settlement Officer throughout the year, up till the 27th July. He resumed charge after the close of the year. Six Assistant Settlement Officers were employed during the year, chiefly on attestation and case work. The completion of the programme for the year was interfered with by the withdrawal of officers for famine work. The records of 600 villages were attested, and the records were wholly draft published in 112 villages and in part in 210, and finally published in 88. During the year the rents of 3,297 raiyats and 277 tenure-holders were settled, resulting in an enhancement of raiyats' rents from Rs. 33,224 to Rs. 39,836, or by 19·8 per cent., and of tenure-holders' rents from Rs. 8,272 to Rs. 13,458, or by 62·6 per cent. The enhancements were made partly on the ground of rise in the price of rice, but mostly on the ground of excess area. Seventy-five appeals against decisions in the fair rent cases were decided, with the result that the decisions of the Settlement Officer and of his assistants were upheld in 61 cases, reversed in 2 cases, and modified in 5 cases, while 7 cases were remanded for rehearing. Two hundred and ninety-eight appeals were pending before the Special Judge in fair rent cases at the end of the year. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets the delay that has occurred in disposal of the settlement appeals, and hopes that the appointment of an Additional Judge made in October 1897 will have the effect of hastening the conclusion of this protracted and difficult settlement. Progress on the settlement continues to be slow, the attitude of the raiyats being reported to be one of stubborn unreasonableness at the outset, followed by mild interest. The statistics tabulated during the year show that out of 54,758 holdings 49,551 are held by settled or occupancy raiyats paying an average rent of Rs. 3-10-9 per acre. The expenditure incurred on settlement work during the year was Rs. 63,005-8-5, the total expenditure down to the end of the year having been Rs. 3,94,816, or at the rate of 17 annas 6 pies an acre so far as the work has gone.

Tippera.

Tikari estate and Government estates in Gaya.

22. Operations in the Gaya district are in progress in the Tikari Ward's estate, the Government estates and the Belkhara mahal, and are under one staff under the general supervision of Mr. Stevenson-Moore. The work in this district is practically at an end, and the final report is awaited.

The area and number of villages under survey are as follows:—

Name of estate.	Area in square miles.	Number of villages.
1. Tikari Ward's estate ...	384·63	551
2. Government estates ...	102·00	118
3. Belkhara mahal ...	97·28	89
Total ...	583·91	758

The survey and record-writing of the Tikari Ward's estate were completed during 1895-96, and the following work was done in this and the Belkhara estate (which is partly the property of Government and partly of the Tikari Ward) during the year under report:—

Village boundary disputes decided under Survey Act.	Records attested for—			Rents settled for tenants.	Draft records published for villages.	Objections under section 105 decided and considered.	Disputes under section 105 decided.	Records finally published.
	Villages.	Square miles.	Tenants.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
3	93	101·35	9,797	12	93	557	18	145

The work done during the year in the Government estates was as follows:—

Records attested for—		Rents settled for tenants.	Draft records published for villages.	Objections under section 105 disposed of.	Final records published for villages.
Square miles.	Tenants.
12·84	615	427	68	73	102

Rents were settled for 3,280 tenants in all in Government villages; for 451 tenants existing rents were retained as fair; for 26 tenants rents were settled ex parte, and 3,254 tenants accepted the rents settled. In the 103 villages dealt with rents have been raised in the aggregate from Rs. 52,040 to Rs. 55,763, or by 9·33 per cent. In 961 holdings contained in 40 villages produce rents have been commuted to cash rents to the amount of Rs. 10,651. The average size of a tenancy is about 7 acres in each estate. The soil of the Government estate is by far the least fertile, and this estate also comprises the greatest quantity of waste land. The average rates of rent paid by occupancy and non-occupancy raiyats are—

	Occupancy raiyats.				Non-occupancy raiyats.
	Rs.	A.	P.		Rs.	A.	P.
Tikari estates	4	4	4	per acre.	2	11	11	per acre.
Government estates ...	3	5	9	"	1	9	9	"
Belkhara mahal	4	9	1	"	5	9	9	"

The high rates in the Belkhara mahal are due to the fertility of the land. It is a noticeable fact that non-occupancy raiyats on the Tikari and Government estates pay at lower rates than occupancy raiyats; the reason alleged is the inferior quality of the land held by them.

The following statement compares the percentages of rent-paying tenants according to status:—

Name of Estate.	Total number of raiyats.	Percentage of raiyats at fixed rate.	Percentage of occupancy raiyats	Percentage of non-occupancy raiyats.
1	2	3	4	5
1. Tikari Ward's estate ..	31,257	5·8	89·9	4·3
2. Government estates ...	6,137	0·4	86·3	13·3
3. Belkhara mahal ...	8,003	0·26	91·5	8·2

23. The following statement shows the progress of operations and the cost incurred in the smaller surveys and settlements dealt with by the Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys and by the Director of Land Records during the year:—

* Includes cost of topographical survey of other estates with an area of 345 square miles.

24. Record-writing, attestation and settlement of fair rents in the Pataspur temporarily-settled estates had been completed in previous years. During the year under report, khatians of the under-tenants, of bazyaftidars, of under-raiyats, and of raiyats of nij-jote lands, were prepared and attested in 96 villages, khatians were published in draft for all those villages except one, and rents were settled for 4,938 such tenants. Under section 105, 2,850 objections were disposed of and 10 disputes under section 106 were decided. The final publication of the records was made for 88 villages, and the police paikan lands were assessed. It has been decided to take as Government revenue 65 per cent. of the assets ascertained at the present settlement, leaving the balance of 35 per cent. to the proprietors. The result of this assessment will be to raise the present Government revenue of Rs. 34,078 by Rs. 6,700, or 18 per cent. The term of the new settlement has been fixed at 15 years. The work has not made altogether satisfactory progress, but the unhealthiness of the locality is against it.

Jaipur Government Estates in Bogra.

25. In the Jaipur Government Estates records for 126 villages, with an area of 49·9 square miles, were attested and re-attested in the year under report. Rents were settled for 5,766 tenants during the year in the Government estates and for 220 tenants on the application of the landlords of a private estate comprised in the villages under survey. The result of the settlement, as reported at the end of September, has been that existing rents payable to Government, aggregating Rs. 39,233, have been raised to Rs. 51,051; in the private estate, rents aggregating Rs. 927 have been raised to Rs. 1,162. The general principle followed in fixing the present rates which show great inequalities has been to equalise them on the general legal basis of the rise in the price of rice. Records were published in draft for 155 villages and finally for 119 villages during the year. The Settlement Officer during the year disposed of 610 objections preferred after draft publication, leaving 13 ending at the end of the year; no disputes under section 106 were instituted.

Estates in Backergunge.

26. There were seven Government estates and temporarily-settled estates, with an aggregate area of 39,632 acres, or 61·93 square miles, under settlement under the Bengal Tenancy Act in the district of Backergunge during the year, in addition to the settlement under the old Regulations, of 51 petty estates with an aggregate area of 22 square miles. During the year the settlement operations were completed in the estates Padma Manesha, Heshamuddin and Krishnapura, and completion reports were submitted. In Tushkhali rents were settled and the records published in draft, and in Kalupara the survey and initial record-writing were completed.

Estates in Shahabad.

27. Fifteen Government estates in Shahabad, covering 18 square miles and containing 20 villages, were under settlement under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Survey, record-writing and attestation were completed before the year under report, but the records were re-attested during the year. Rents of all the 958 rent-paying tenants in the estates were settled, the former rental of Rs. 19,784 being raised, almost entirely on the ground of rise of prices, to Rs. 22,926. No appeals were preferred to the Special Judge. For 14 out of the 15 estates records were finally published before the close of the year 1304 Fasli (11th September 1897).

Private estates.

28. Chaurasi estate in the 24-Parganas.—The Chaurasi Estate in the 24-Parganas comprises 43 villages, with an area of 20,399 acres. Its settlement was undertaken on the application of the proprietors, Maharaja Durga Charan Law and others. Survey, khasra-writing and attestation of records were completed in previous years. Rents for 697 out of 800 tenancies held direct from the proprietor have been settled, and final publication of records for all villages was made between September and December 1896. The total rent payable to the proprietors was raised from Rs. 21,876 to Rs. 28,595, or by 30 per cent., by assessment of excess area and by enhancement of the abnormally low rents in some parts of the estate. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets the delay that has occurred in the disposal of appeals to the Special Judge. Out of 191 such appeals, only 12 had been decided up to 30th September 1897. The total cost of survey and settlement was Rs. 19,052, or 14 annas 2 pies per acre.

29. Tantibania estate in Khulna.—The only work done during the year was the disposal of 2 cases under section 104 and 5 cases under section 106 of the Tenancy Act remanded in appeal by the Special Judge. This necessitated the republication in draft of portions of the records of 4 villages and final publication for a second time of portions of 5 villages.

The settlement work in other private estates during the year does not call for special remark.

Wards' estates.

30. Dakhin Shahbazpur and Srirampur estates in Backergunge.—The settlement work in these estates was completed before the year under report. Sums aggregating Rs. 14,725 and Rs. 6,873 were recovered in Dakhin Shahbazpur and Srirampur during the year, leaving balances of Rs. 3,106 and Rs. 81 only to be recovered out of Rs. 78,261 and Rs. 9,426. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Director of Land Records that the results of the recovery work were satisfactory.

31. Narhan estate in Monghyr.—Little work remains to be done in the Narhan estate, but the work during the year under report was interfered with by the fact that the services of the Settlement Officer were required for famine duty. Sixty villages with an area of 48·19 square miles were surveyed and khanapuried in 1895-96; and during the year under report records for these villages, which contain 11,097 tenants, were attested, rents were settled for 50 tenants, records were published in draft for 28 villages, and two objections under section 105 of the Tenancy Act were disposed of.

Amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

32. A Bill to amend sections 30, 31, 39, 52 and 119 and Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885, was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on 3rd April 1897, the changes proposed being to clear up doubts and difficulties of procedure which have arisen in the course of experience in the working of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885; to facilitate the settlement of rents when undertaken on a large scale either for the purpose of settling land revenue or on the application of private individuals; to amend the substantive law relating to the enhancement and reduction of rents, so as to make certain provisions of the law workable, and to give effect to the intention of its authors regarding certain points on which, owing to want of sufficient clearness in the wording of the law or to the interpretations put on it by the Civil Courts, it has been found in practice to be inoperative. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette and circulated for opinion among Revenue and Judicial Officers, the Chambers of Commerce and the different public Associations. On receipt of these opinions a revised Bill was prepared, and has been passed by the Bengal Council.

Services of officers.

34. Mr. W. C. Macpherson has recently vacated the post of Director of Land Records, which he had filled with marked ability and credit since 1892, and the Lieutenant-Governor fully agrees with the praise bestowed by the Board upon the zeal, energy and devotion with which he has worked, and upon the successful results which he has achieved during the period of his incumbency. The magnitude of the work done by the Settlement Department in Bengal and Bihar since the passing of the Tenancy Act is obscured by the fact of its being done so quietly and with so little friction, but its extent will be understood from the fact that in the year under review an area of more than 22,000 square miles was under survey and record-of-rights and that rents were settled for more than a million tenants in this one year. For the results achieved the Director of Land Records and the Settlement Officers deserve the warm thanks of Government. His Honour also desires to thank Captain Crichton, Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys, and Captain Symonds for the excellent work done by them during the year. With regard to the other officers named in paragraphs 50 and 51 of the Director of Land Records' Report (a copy of which will be communicated to the Appointment Department), Sir Alexander Mackenzie cordially endorses the following remarks made by the Director of Land Records:—

"The Settlement Officers and Assistant Settlement Officers below named rendered specially good service during the year, viz., Messrs. C. G. H. Allen, A. S. Carey, J. G. Cumming, M. Gauntlett, R. Hughes, J. Kerr, D. S. Kingsford, H. McPherson, S. L. Maddox, C. J. Stevenson-Moore, W. B. Thomson, J. Webster, Babu Rai Krishna Bahadur, Babu Prasanna Kumar Banerjee, Babu Sriram Chandra Basu, Babu Pyari Mohan Basu, Babu Sri Gopal Bhattacharjya, Babu Durga Charan Ghose, Maulvi Gholam Ghous, Babu Gobind Chandra Das Gupta, Maulvi Ashfak Husain, Pandit Rāma Ballabh Misra, Babu Jogendra Narayan Mitra, Mr. J. Taylor.

"Mr. Allen, Settlement Officer of Chittagong, has an exceptional knowledge of revenue work; he has carried out the settlement of Chittagong with great success. Mr. Maddox, who holds in Orissa the most difficult and most responsible settlement post in the Province, continues to do excellent work. He has pushed on the work of settling rents with great success, and he is now ably and thoroughly dealing with the work of assessing the land revenue. Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore supervises settlement work in five Bihar districts with great ability and complete grasp of the principles and details of the work. I would desire to call special attention to Mr. Stevenson-Moore's well-written and interesting reports. Mr. Cumming in Tippera by tact and ability has overcome obstructions and difficulties; Mr. Cumming is conspicuous for his sound and well thought out methods of work and for his attention to details."

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M. FINUCANE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 8 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·008 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·0° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

"Book-keeping" by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers' Educational Course).

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted either at the College or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.)

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the college or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principals not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

N.B.—The attention of candidates is drawn to the alteration in rule 2 (3). In future no candidate is to apply direct to the Principal for permission to attend the examination, but must send his application through an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will decide whether the candidate is to be admitted.
The Principal will attend to no application received direct.

J. S. SLATER,
Principal, Civil Engineering College.

PERSIAN GULF—SHATT-AL-ARAB OR BASRA RIVER.

A dangerous shoal.

THE Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India has given notice that information has been received from Lieutenant Kendall, R. I. M., Commanding R. I. M. S. Lawrence, that a very dangerous shoal, varying in depth, forms in the Shatt-al-Arab or Basra river about 5½ cables to the southward of Muhammera Palace below the junction of the Karun and Shatt-al-Arab rivers: Approximate position lat. 30° 22′ 15″ N., long. 48° 12′ 35″ E. It is at its worst when the rivers Dis and Karun are in flood, independent of the rivers Tigris and Euphrates, and being much modified when those rivers are in flood simultaneously; and barely perceptible when the Euphrates and Tigris are in flood first. It is generally expected about the month of February. The least depth of water at L. W. S. found in February 1898 was 4 feet. The deepest water at that time was between the shoal and Dabba island, by keeping close to the island the least water a vessel would pass over was then 9 feet at L. W. S.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

REVISED WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE MIDNAPORE CANAL.

The 18th April 1898.

No. 85.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 99 and 78 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Midnapore Canal. These rules and rates will supersede those now in force.

A draft of the rules and rates was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the dates noted in the margin as Notification No. 19, dated the 14th February 1898.

The 16th and 23rd February and the 2nd, 9th, 16th, 23rd and 30th March and 6th April 1898.

A. D. MCARTHUR, Col., R.E.,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

1. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient state of repair, for providing drainage channels where necessary, and generally for all engineering work involved in its management, as well as for the distribution of water to lessees. The word "canal" is here used as defined in section 3 of the Act.

2. The Deputy Collector is responsible for the assessment and collection of water-rates accruing to Government from the canal.

3. Water shall not be distributed otherwise than on the application of a lessee, or to a person in whose favour a provisional license under Rule 15 has been issued. Such application may be made verbally or in writing to any subordinate in charge of that part of the canal from which water is required.

4. If any lessee apply for water to the Deputy Collector or one of his subordinates verbally, he shall be directed to address himself to an irrigation officer or subordinate. If he makes such an application in writing, his petition shall be forwarded direct by the zilladar, to whom it is addressed, to the Subdivisional Canal Officer in charge of that part of the canal from which the petitioner's village is supplied.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks in accordance with the natural features of the ground, and so determine that the whole block shall be irrigable from one outlet or from one set of outlets. So far as may be practicable, the blocks shall be separated by drainage lines.

6. Each block determined as above shall be numbered and recorded with its irrigable area in registers to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officers and Deputy Collector. The blocks shall also be marked on maps to be maintained by the same officers.

7. Ordinarily leases for not more than five years may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block, or, subject to the provisions of Rule 13, for definite parts of a block under the following conditions:—

I.—Ordinarily the whole irrigable area of any village, so far as situated within the block, must be included in the lease.

II.—All leases within one block shall be granted so that they shall expire on the same date.

III.—In order to equalize the areas to be dealt with in each year, the date of expiry of the leases in each block shall be determined by the Divisional Canal Officer in consultation with the Deputy Collector, so that, as far as practicable, one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease in each year.

IV.—No permit shall be granted, when the supply of water must of necessity be delivered across an unleased area, unless a village channel exists, which, in the opinion of the Subdivisional Canal Officer, will deliver water without waste across the unleased area.

To enable the Special Deputy Collector to equalise the area which lapses each year, leases in suitable blocks may be granted under the above conditions for six or seven years with the approval of the Executive Engineer.

8. The rates to be charged for water supplied between 16th June and 30th November, whether by flow or lift, to lessees on application shall be—

For a term of five years—Re. 1-8 per acre for each season. The area under long lease will, in future, as a rule, be reduced to 75,000 square acres, i.e., 65,000 acres under the Midnapore weir, 8,000 under the Panchkura weir and 2,000 under the Tidal reaches.

For one year or for water supplied on a provisional license for which a permit for a term of years is not subsequently issued, Rs. 3 per acre.

Provided that the leases, whether new or renewals required for shorter terms than five years in order to develop the system of blocks as explained above, shall be charged Re. 1-8 per acre only

If water is available after the long leases have been irrigated, leases for a single watering may be given at eight annas per acre, the rate being payable in advance.

9. For the supply of water, when available, for winter crops, a rate of Rs. 2-8 per acre per season shall be charged.

10. For the unauthorized use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre, or such less rate as may be sanctioned by the Deputy Collector, shall be charged.

11. Application for water-leases under section 74 of the Act shall be presented to the Subdivisional Officer through the zilladar in whose charge the land lies.

12. Every application for a water-lease shall contain the following particulars:—

1.—Name and residence of applicant.

2. Name of pargana, mahal and village in which the land to be irrigated is situated.

3.—Total area for the irrigation of which the application is made and its boundaries, and if the lands to be irrigated lie in separate chaks, the name of each chak.

4.—Names of the raiyats whose lands are to be irrigated, and the quantity of land held by each.

5.—Name of the canal and number of distributary from which water is required.

6.—Signatures of the applicants.

13. A separate application must be presented for lands in each village, but tahsilalaida or other lands lying within the village boundary at the time of survey may be included

14. Before a permit for a term of years is granted, the written consent of the Divisional Canal Officer shall be obtained, but permits for one year only and provisional licenses may be issued with the written assent of the Subdivisional Canal Officer. The Deputy Collector shall on the day of issue forward a copy of all permits granted to the Divisional Canal Officer

Existing leases may, with the written consent of the Divisional Canal Officer, be extended for not more than three years, without enquiry or remeasurement, payments being made in accordance with the existing assessment.

15. When a water-lease is granted, a kabuliyat shall be taken in a form approved by Government, and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in a form similar to that prescribed in Schedule C of the Act. Pending the completion of a lease, the zilladar may issue a provisional license for the supply of water to an area covered by an application.

16. On the issue of a permit or provisional license, the zilladar shall forward to the Subdivisional Canal Officer direct a requisition requesting him to supply water to the lessee on application. This requisition shall be kept by the Canal Officer till January 1st next following, and shall then be returned to the Deputy Collector. On the back should be noted the several dates on which the village was supplied with water. A fresh requisition shall be issued on or before June 1st, and returned on or before January 1st each year, till the lease expires.

17. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken without authority, he shall hold a local investigation and transmit the record thereof to the Divisional Officer, who shall, if he is of opinion that the fields should be assessed, forward the case with his remarks to the Deputy Collector. Separate proceedings shall be taken in the case of each village irrigated without authority.

18. On receipt of the record mentioned in Rule 17, and after hearing any objection which may be raised, the Deputy Collector shall determine whether water-rates can be legally charged, and if so, he shall proceed to assess, at the rate provided in Rule 10, the land irrigated without authority. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorized irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

19. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates leviable under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Deputy Collector in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. Persons charged under Rule 10 or 18 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act, if they desire to do so.

20. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted, or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st of June next following.

21. The rates for water supplied from June to November shall in each season fall due on the 1st January and 15th February following, but all sums of Rs. 5 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment. The Deputy Collector may, however, require one-half of the rates due on applications filed after the 1st of September to be paid in advance, and may refuse to issue a permit for more than one year. The rates for water supplied for winter crops shall fall due on the 1st April following.

22. Water-rates imposed under Rule 10 or 18 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made, and shall be realized at once.

23. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector direct the Deputy Collector to—

I.—Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realizing water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up, and also, if specially so ordered, unless half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.

II.—Cancel any five-years' lease if on the 1st of June of any year water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.

24. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or part, as the case may require shall be granted by the Deputy Collector for—

I.—Errors in the assessment of rates.

II.—Injury to the crop on a leased area caused by deficient supply of water, provided a written application for remission has been made 15 days at least before the crop is cut.

In regard to applications under II, the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer shall be obtained and form part of the record of the case.

25. The Deputy Collector, with the written consent of the Divisional Canal Officer may grant remissions of water-rates, either in whole or part, for injury to the crops on leased areas caused by excess of water due to deficient drainage.

26. The Deputy Collector may, with the written assent of the Divisional Canal Officer, commute rates charged under Rules 10 and 18 to those chargeable for water supplied on application, provided that a lease either for a term of years or for the season has been subsequently executed for the lands in question.

27. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

28. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is non-realizable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

29. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act, or making a reference under section 17 of the Act, the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

30. The chaukidar or mukhya of any village in which lands are leased for a term of years shall be entitled to a remission of water-rates for his holding either as a jagir or raiyati up to a limit of 3 acres per hundred acres of total leased area provided he gives efficient and willing assistance to the Canal Officers in respect to the following matters:—

I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.

II.—In the measurements of irrigated lands.

III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.

IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.

V.—In receiving tappas from the zilladars and distributing them.

VI.—In being present when complaints are investigated by Canal Officers, and giving information regarding the matters under investigation.

VII.—In reporting to the zilladars any mutations in holdings of persons who have signed a lease for a term of years.

31. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, wherever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on a canal under the following conditions:—

I.—No tank shall be filled unless the water is to be exclusively used for domestic purposes or for watering cattle.

II.—No tank shall be filled from which irrigation is practised.

III.—No tank shall be filled which intercepts any line of drainage or is liable to overflow from the accumulation of water from natural causes.

IV.—No tank shall be filled except on the written order of the Subdivisional Canal Officer issued on the written application of the persons concerned.

V.—No tank shall be filled unless the village channel used to convey water to it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Subdivisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.)

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the college or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principals not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

N.B.—The attention of candidates is drawn to the alteration in rule 2 (3). In future no candidate is to apply direct to the Principal for permission to attend the examination, but must send his application through an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will decide whether the candidate is to be admitted.

The Principal will attend to no application received direct.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

BILL TO EXTEND CERTAIN PORTIONS OF THE POLICE ACT, 1861, TO THE TOWN AND SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA.

THE following Report of the Select Committee, together with the Bill as amended by them, is, by order of the President, published for general information:—

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

Bill to extend certain portions of the Police Act, 1861, to the town and suburbs of Calcutta.

WE the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill mentioned on the margin was referred, have considered the Bill, and have the honour to submit this our report.

2. A disturbance in an area proclaimed under the Bill may be brought about by, or with the assistance of, inhabitants of some other area. We have therefore, following a precedent set by a Bill recently introduced in the Bombay Legislative Council, made some additions to the Schedule to this Bill with the object of authorising the recovery from inhabitants of such other area of compensation awarded to persons who have suffered from their misconduct.

3. In other respects we see no reason to alter the Bill as introduced in Council.

4. We do not think the amendments we have made are such as to require the re-publication of the Bill, and we recommend that the Bill as it now stands be passed.

5. We append to this Report the sections of the Police Act which it is proposed to extend, in the form in which we recommend that they should apply to Calcutta and the Suburbs.

(2) It shall thereupon be lawful for the officer appointed as aforesaid or, in the suburbs, the Magistrate of the 24-Parganas, with the sanction of the Local Government, after such enquiry as he may deem necessary, and whether any additional police-force has or has not been quartered in such area under the last preceding section, to—

SOUTH PACIFIC OCEAN.

Particulars of certain banks.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 145 of 1898) that the undermentioned particulars of certain banks in the South Pacific Ocean are derived from recent examinations by Captain A. Mostyn Field, H.M. surveying vessel Penguin:—

(1) LALLA ROOKH BANK, originally discovered and sounded on by Sir Edward Home, H.M.S. North Star, is 3½ miles long north-east and south-west, with an extreme breadth of 1½ miles.

The north-east end of the bank is in approximately lat. 12° 54′ 30″ S., long. 175° 38′ W., with general depths of 10 to 14 fathoms on it, over a sand and coral bottom.

The central portion of the bank is slightly deeper than the rim, but not very markedly so. From the edge the soundings drop down steeply to depths between 200 and 300 fathoms.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (October 1897) the current was found to set between W.N.W. and S.S.E., from a half to one and a quarter knots.

The southerly set was most pronounced between 3h. and 8h. after high water at Wallis island.

(2) HOME KNOLL, named after Captain Sir Edward Home, was found by H.M.S. Penguin while searching for Lalla Rookh bank.

It is a small coral knoll, extending east and west about one mile between the 100-fathom limits, by little more than half a mile in breadth, with a least depth of 10 fathoms on it, and general depths of 12 to 16 fathoms, over a sand and coral bottom.

Its centre is in approximately lat. 12° 51¾′ S., long. 175° 36½′ W., and it is situated one mile eastward from the north-east end of Lalla Rookh bank with soundings of from 200 to 300 fathoms between.

The 1,000-fathom line encircles the two banks, Lalla Rookh and Home knoll, at distances varying from 1½ to 3 miles.

(3) PASCO BANK, reported by several vessels as situated between Savaii and Wallis islands, and marked "7 P. D." on the Admiralty Charts, is 5 miles in width at its eastern end, from whence it extends nearly 20 miles in a westerly direction, narrowing to a width of 3 miles in its centre, westward of which it contracts to a breadth of three-quarters of a mile, thence broadening out and forming a narrow ridge.

The general depths in the centre are from 22 to 27 fathoms, sand and coral, with a shallow rim of growing coral running round its outer margin, having depths of 8 to 10 fathoms on it. The shoalest soundings, 7½ fathoms, were found on the southern edge of the bank, where it is most contracted in width. On all sides it drops down steeply into depths of from 200 to 400 fathoms.

The western extreme of this bank is situated in approximately lat. 13° 4′ S., long. 174° 37½′ W.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (October 1897) the current was found to set from N.W. to S.W. from a half to one and a quarter knots.

(4) Field Bank, probably identical with a bank reported in 1874 by Captain Turpie of the Missionary barque John Williams, was examined by H.M.S. Penguin in October 1897, and as there is already a Turpie bank in this vicinity, the name of Field has been given to it.

Its eastern extremity is situated in approximately lat. 12° 16¾′ S., long. 174° 43½′ W., and the bank thence extends W. by S. ½ S. for 6½ miles, with a breadth of 2½ miles towards the centre, and contracted at the eastern end to a narrow ridge, which is 2 miles long and barely half a mile in width.

The least water found was 13 fathoms, situated on its northern edge; the general depths over the shallow rim encircling the bank range from 14 to 16 fathoms, and the depths in the centre from 18 to 21 fathoms, over a sand and coral bottom.

The edge of the bank drops steeply on all sides into depths of from 200 to 300 fathoms.

It lies S.W. by S., distant 14 miles, from Tavuni bank, with soundings of upwards of 1,200 fathoms between.

The shoal to which the name Turpie was attached having been previously shown 50 miles northward of this position on the Admiralty Chart, a search was made by the Penguin over a considerable area in that locality, but no sign of shoal water was found there. It has therefore been expunged.

(5) Taviuni bank, originally reported by the schooner of that name, is a small oval-shaped bank of sand and coral, 2 miles long, E. ½ N. and W. ½ S., within the 100-fathom limits, and upwards of a mile broad.

Its centre is situated in lat. 12° 6′ S., long. 174° 34½′ W. The least water found by H.M.S. Penguin was 9 fathoms, the depth over the greater portion of the bank ranging from 11 to 14 fathoms.

Outside the 20-fathom line it drops steeply down to depths of over 100 fathoms, the 1,000-fathom line maintaining a distance of 2 miles from it all round.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (September 1897) the current was setting N.W., half a knot.

(6) Robbie bank, originally reported by the Master of the schooner Taviuni in 1888, is nearly circular in shape, 8 miles in diameter, and situated with its centre in approximately lat. 11° 3′ S., long. 176° 53′ W.

It is composed of sand and coral, and is of the usual atoll-like formation, which is such a common feature in all these banks, having general depths of 26 to 29 fathoms over its central portion, with a shallower rim, running round the edge, of growing coral, about one mile in width within the 20-fathom line, with depths of 10 to 15 fathoms over it.

The shallowest part is on the north-western edge where this rim rises to depths of 7 and 8 fathoms for a distance of about 2 miles along its periphery.

The edge of this bank drops down steeply on all sides, within a very short distance, to depths of from 200 to 300 fathoms.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (November 1897) the current varied considerably. East and S. E. currents, from a half to three-quarters of a knot, occasionally setting to windward against a fresh E.N.E. wind.

(7) Adolph knoll, originally reported by the German schooner Adolph, is a small coral bank, one mile in extent, rising steeply from depths of 300 to 400 fathoms, with a least depth of 16 fathoms on it on its western side.

Its centre is situated in approximately lat. 11° 54½′ S., long. 178° 9¾′ W. and it bears S.E., distant 3 miles, from Tuscarora bank, with soundings of from 300 to 400 fathoms between.

(8) Tuscarora bank, discovered by H.M.S. Penguin, is situated with its centre in approximately lat. 11° 48¾′ S., long. 178° 14′ W.

It is 10 miles long, east and west, and about 6 miles broad, having depths of 26 to 29 fathoms, sand and coral, over its central portions, with a shallower rim of growing coral, over which the general depths are 20 to 22 fathoms.

On the south-western edge there is a shallower patch of 14 fathoms, and on the northern edge a patch of 16 to 18 fathoms. The bank drops down steeply on all sides into depths of more than 200 fathoms.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (November 1897) the current varied in direction between W.N.W. and South, with a rate of from a quarter to one knot. The southerly current commenced with great regularity each day 3 hours after the moon's passage and continued for 6 hours, showing that these variations are due to tide.

Both the Adolph knoll and the Tuscarora bank appear to stand on an extensive deep bank, the 1,000-fathom limit of which it was not practicable to determine.

NOTE.—Captain Field remarks that in no single instance was the presence of any of these banks detected from the masthead, although the conditions for doing so were usually favourable, and in addition to the ordinary "look out," a Fijian, familiar with the appearance of coral water, was always stationed at the masthead.

Charts Nos. 780, 1829 and 1830 have been cancelled.

Bell Buoy at the eastern entrance to Galle Harbour shifted.

THE Master attendant at Galle has given notice, dated 12th February 1898, that the Bell Buoy marking the Cadda Rocks at the eastern entrance to Galle Harbour, will, on April 15th next, be shifted due south of its present position as charted, a distance of one and half cables, and moored in 12½ fathoms, distant 233 fathoms by measurement from the outer Cadda Rock in a south half east direction. Commanders of steamers approaching the Port are requested to note this and keep a position clear of the buoy until the Pilot shows his flag (white, red and white) horizontal, when it is safe to steer for the Pilot's canoe. If under sail, the canoe is distinguishable by the letter P on it, with the Pilot flag displayed above; should the buoy be out of position, the usual signals from the flag-staff will be hoisted to that effect.

A dangerous shoal.

THE Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India has given notice that information has been received f om Lieutenant Kendall, R. I. M., Commanding R. I. M. S. Lawrence, that a very dangerous shoal, varying in depth, forms in the Shatt-al-Arab or Basra river about 5½ cables to the southward of Muhammera Palace below the junction of the Karun and Shatt-al-Arab rivers: Approximate position lat. 30° 22′ 15″ N., long. 48° 12′ 35″ E. It is at its worst when the rivers Dis and Karun are in flood, independent of the rivers Tigris and Euphrates, and being much modified when these rivers are in flood simultaneously; and barely perceptible when the Euphrates and Tigris are in flood first. It is generally expected about the month of February. The least depth of water at L. W. S. found in February 1898 was 4 feet. The deepest water at that time was between the shoal and Dabba island, by keeping close to the island the least water a vessel would pass over was then 9 feet at L. W. S.

AMENDMENT OF THE BENGAL TENANCY ACT, 1885.

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, be taken into consideration, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motions were put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee moved that the words "or in neighbouring villages" be omitted from section 2 of the Bill.

The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee also moved that the words "or neighbouring villages" be omitted from clause (f) of section 3 of the Bill.

The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee also moved that the words "or villages" be omitted from sub-section (1) of section 31A in section 4 of the Bill.

He said:—"My reasons for moving these amendments are these. In the first place, it does not appear whether the clause is intended to give the landlord the option of choosing whether he should draw the materials for his evidence from the same village or from neighbouring villages; or whether the intention is that he should be limited in the first instance to such evidence as may be available in the same village, and that only when it is not possible for him even to start a case on such materials as may be available in the same village, he should be permitted to draw the materials for his evidence from neighbouring villages. That is not clear. Then further, inasmuch as in the older law another expression was used, namely, 'adjacent places,' the phrase 'neighbouring villages,' vague as it is, will be rendered doubly vague by suggesting that a distinction is meant to be drawn between 'adjacent places,' as used in the previous Act, and 'neighbouring villages' as used in this Bill. The object of introducing these words 'or in neighbouring villages' into the section, I understand, is to give further facilities to landlords to prove their case when they seek enhancement. It is pointed out—I refer to page 3 of the Abstract of Opinions—by the District Judge of Burdwan that 'nothing has been shown why landlords should have further facilities given them for the purpose of enhancing rents. If statistics be collected, it will be seen that the landlords are still too eager to have rents enhanced on false pretexts.' Nobody has shown why further facilities should be placed at their disposal. In page 1 of the Abstract, the District Judge of Murshidabad says:—'One very strong argument against extending the area from which a zamindar may draw his evidence is the custom already in vogue of manufacturing evidence of high rates.' Thus we have the opinion of two District Judges on both points, namely, that there is no reason why the area from which evidence may be produced should be extended and further facilities afforded for enhancing rents, and that there is every reason why the area should not be extended for giving them further facilities. Then referring to page 4 of the Abstract, where we have the opinion of the Board of Revenue, reference is made to the position taken by Mr. Nolan, which deserves every consideration. They say:—'Of the officers who have considered this section, Mr. Nolan is the most strongly opposed to it. He says that the old Regulations took the pargana rates as the standard, while Regulation V of 1812 introduced the rate payable in 'places adjacent' as the standard, according to which rents might be increased or decreased. Act X of 1859 retained this definition of 'prevailing rate' for purposes of enhancement only. It was found that Revenue Officers abused the reference to 'places adjacent,' and the Tenancy Act of 1885 reduced the area of comparison to the village, on the ground that a raiyat could not produce evidence as to rates outside his village.' We have it, therefore, that at one time something corresponding to what it is now proposed to introduce was the law, and it was found that that law was abused, and so the Tenancy Act of 1885 restricted the area of comparison to the village in which the land was situate. It is proposed to go back to the law which was abused laying aside all consideration of the ground upon which the area of comparison was restricted in 1885, namely, that the raiyat could not produce evidence as to rates outside his village. We have it further in page 6 of the Abstract, to refer still to the opinion of the Board of Revenue, that 'if the raiyats have legal decisions in their favour which make it difficult to use the prevailing rate against them, they are entitled to retain this advantage, even though it be inconvenient to Revenue Officers.' And lower down, we have it that 'Mr. Nolan's argument that a raiyat cannot be asked to get evidence outside his own village is correct in principle.' Thus we have it that it was once found necessary to reduce the area of comparison to the village, the expression 'adjacent places' having been found to be very vague and liable to be abused. I submit there is no reason why we should practically go back to the old law and introduce the expression 'neighbouring villages' while it does not appear what the intention is, whether to confine the landlord, in the first instance, to the village, or to allow him to import evidence from neighbouring villages at his option. These are the reasons which have induced me to move this amendment."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I oppose this amendment. I think the expression 'neighbouring village' is a very proper phrase. In practice we often find that similar lands cannot be found immediately adjacent to the land in dispute. In such cases we should go to the neighbouring village, and I think it is quite right to do so."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I also object to this amendment. The question simply is, whether the area of comparison should be confined to the village itself or extended to neighbouring villages. I stated at length when I introduced the Bill, and afterwards when I moved that it be referred to a Select Committee, the reasons which induced the Government to extend the area of comparison, and I do not propose to repeat them. When the Bengal Tenancy Act was passed there was no charge more frequently levelled against the Government of Bengal than this, that it showed undue bias in favour of raiyats and against landlords, and that charge has been made ever since up to the present time; it is significant now that the Government proposes to relax in a very moderate and reasonable degree the restriction which the law then imposed, that Hon'ble Members who represent the popular view should oppose the amendment of the law. There is scarcely a single alteration proposed in the law in favour of zamindars which one or other of those Hon'ble Members is not prepared to strike out. As for the reasons given in support of the amendment now proposed, it is said that the section as it stands is not clear, that it is difficult to say whether the intention is that the zamindar should be compelled to give evidence if possible from the same village and failing that to get evidence from neighbouring villages, or whether it is meant that he may select the evidence which he should give from the same or neighbouring villages at his pleasure. But the Hon'ble Member, instead of proposing an amendment which would make that point clear, proposes to omit the 'neighbouring village' altogether. If his intention is to make the section clear, then he should have by his amendment provided that the zamindar should first go to the village itself, and then, if evidence as to a prevailing rate was not forthcoming in it, to the neighbouring villages. Secondly, there is the general objection that the Hon'ble Member has urged to giving any further facilities to zamindars for enhancement of rent, but that objection has been discarded over and over again. There are persons who accuse the zamindars of fabricating evidence, of instituting false suits and preparing fictitious rates of rent. I do not see what that has to do with this particular question. If the zamindars fabricate evidence of fictitious rates, they will do so whether you confine the area to the village or extend it to neighbouring villages. At all events I do not think an accusation of that kind should be lightly made against a body of men like the zamindars of Bengal or brought forward as a reason against this section. Some opinions have been quoted against this section, but the vast preponderance of opinion is in favour of it. Then it is said that Mr. Nolan has pointed out that the raiyat cannot be expected to produce evidence outside his own village. He is not expected to do so. The zamindar produces the evidence; all that the raiyat has to do, if he is dissatisfied with the evidence produced by the zamindar, is to rebut it by getting evidence to contradict it from the same or neighbouring villages. The Select Committee preferred 'neighbouring villages' to 'places adjacent," as being more definite and more narrow in its scope."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said:—"It will be in the recollection of the Council that I raised this question at the time when the motion was made to refer this Bill to a Select Committee. I pointed out that this provision in the Bill practically amounted to an abandonment of a concession which had been made in the interests of the raiyats. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has introduced some personal considerations into this controversy. It has been observed by the Hon'ble Mr. Finucane that Hon'ble Members were in favour of the zamindars when the Government wanted to legislate on behalf of the raiyats. [The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—'I said the accusation had been raised against the Government of Bengal of being on the side of the raiyats.'] Further it has been said that the hon'ble mover of the amendment ought not to have quoted certain observations which had been made by certain Judges. Those observations were not the observations of the Hon'ble Member but of certain high officials of the Government, and my hon'ble friend was quite right in laying them before the Council. If they involved reflections upon the zamindars, my hon'ble friend was not responsible for them. I venture to submit that not a shadow of a case has been made out for this important alteration of the law. The Select Committee has submitted a report which is very short and sweet, but not the smallest reference is made to some of the cardinal points in the Bill which are in opposition to the interests of the raiyats. I have great pleasure in supporting this amendment."

The Hon'ble the President said:—"This question of the 'prevailing rate' has always been a vexed one on which different opinions have been held by different classes of persons. So far from the adoption of the section as it stands in the existing Act being intended as a concession to the raiyats, it was intended and definitely declared to be a concession to the zamindars. Very many authorities were at that time in favour of leaving out the 'prevailing rate' as a ground of enhancement of rent altogether. It was, however, retained, and, as I said, distinctly declared to be a concession to zamindars. Now it has been proved by experience that the concession as it stands in the Act is unworkable and more or less a fraud on zamindars, and therefore it has been for many years urged by competent authorities, among whom was Sir Charles Elliott and the Board of Revenue, that some alteration of the law is necessary. I proposed that a comparison should be made between the rates in the village and in such neighbouring areas as might be fairly comparable, raising thereby the direct issue whether the villages examined are fairly comparable in the matter of rates or not. The Select Committee has preferred to adopt the phrase 'neighbouring villages,' and I am not prepared to say they are wrong. Originally what was to be considered the prevailing rate was the pargana rate. But a pargana includes many villages, and the history of the thing is that when Act X was passed the idea was that the pargana rates were uncertain, and therefore the framers of that Act adopted the phrase 'for lands of similar description with similar advantages in places adjacent.' It was pointed out at the time that that expression was vague, and it was undoubtedly used to the prejudice of raiyats. I do not know whether any one would suppose that the sympathies of either the Hon'ble Mr. Finucane or myself would be against raiyats. But we wish to be fair to zamindars also. The intention is that this ground of enhancement be made workable on a rational basis; for to confine the comparison to the village is practically impossible, because as Sir Charles Elliott said, a revenue village is an area which may contain a hundred or a thousand acres, or it may consist of scattered places far apart. It appeared to me, therefore, that the rate prevailing in the neighbourhood of the land in dispute was the proper test, and the Select Committee has adopted the phrase 'in the village or in neighbouring villages.' If we remember that a landlord claiming enhancement on this ground has to prove his case to the satisfaction either of a Civil Court or of a Settlement Officer, I do not think there is much risk to the raiyat from the phrase as it stands. At any rate the Select Committee, after considering the reports which have been received have adopted that phrase, and I see no reason for departing from their recommendation."

The Motions were put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee, by leave of the Council, withdrew the motion that section 2 of the Bill be omitted.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRA NATH SEN moved that section 31A in section 4 of the Bill be omitted.

He said:—"Though I signed the report of the Select Committee, I reserved to myself the right to move any amendments I liked, and the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will be able to bear me out on this point. I make this motion on three grounds. First, that it will be difficult to work this section, and almost impossible to find out the prevailing rate by the method of calculation contemplated by this section; secondly, that it will be extremely difficult to classify lands and ascertain their different rates of rent in the manner indicated in the illustration, and thirdly, that it will give opportunities to zamindars' agents to manipulate forced or fictitious rates of rent; and thus this provision of law, though probably correct in principle, might be turned into one engine of oppression. I should prefer to leave the law as it stands at present, and as it has been interpreted in various decisions of the High Court and the Privy Council. It is not alleged that that interpretation has caused any great hardship or any failures of justice. I therefore move that the section be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I oppose this amendment. The reasons given by my hon'ble friend for modifying or omitting this section are practically the same as those urged for the previous amendment which has been lost, namely, that it is not desirable to give any facilities for the enhancement of rent—more than are now enjoyed. As to the objection that the section cannot be worked, I think Hon'ble Members having experience in the mufassal will admit that the prevailing rate can be ascertained in some localities, and the section tends to facilitate the ascertainment of it. It is not intended that this section shall apply indiscriminately to all parts of the country. It is not proposed to extend it to districts or parts of districts where rents are already sufficiently high. It is only intended for districts where rents are unduly low and zamindars are not able to obtain fair and just rents. In parts of the country to which the section is not extended the law will remain as it is, and the interpretations which the Civil Courts have put on the existing law as to what is a prevailing rate will not be affected by this section. Unless the Council hold that it is not desirable to give any facilities for the enhancement of rent, I submit this section ought to be passed."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"As I said before, this question of the prevailing rate has always appeared to me an extremely difficult one, and this section is an attempt to find a workable basis for it as a ground of enhancement, and it has been strongly supported by many very experienced Revenue Officers, and also by Sir Charles Elliott, who was an experienced Settlement Officer himself. But I was myself so uncertain as to the possible result of it, especially in Bihar, that I thought it desirable to safeguard it by a proviso and also by the addition of the section which follows, namely, that when once the prevailing rate has been ascertained in this way rent shall not be enhanced again except on the ground of a rise in prices. With these safeguards I think the section will be safe. At any rate certain very experienced officers have said that they think it may be safely introduced and worked, and I have no doubt the Government of Bengal will make careful enquiries before introducing it into any district, and that it will be worked with caution; but that it is workable I am convinced."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI CHARAN BANERJEE moved that for the words "the highest of such rates at which and at rates higher than which the larger portion of these lands is held may be taken to be the prevailing rate" in sub-section (1) of section 31A in section 4 of the Bill, the words "the rate paid by a majority of the raiyats for such lands in the village may be taken to be the prevailing rate" be substituted. He said:—

"It is not disputed that by 'prevailing rate' in section 2 is meant the rate paid by a majority of the raiyats for such lands in the village. It has to be seen whether it is necessary to introduce a definition of 'prevailing rate' other than that which is understood to be the definition of 'prevailing rate' as used in section 2. In going over these papers I was somewhat struck with the fact that there was almost a consensus of opinion as to the obscurity of the proposed definition. One Judicial Officer goes the length of saying that 'it certainly makes a British-born subject pause a little when he reads this section'; others characterise it as, 'ungrammatical.' Others again, including the Board of Revenue, are of opinion that the introduction of this section would be misleading, because there is no definition in the Act of 'prevailing rate' as used in section 2; the safeguard in the opening words of the section notwithstanding. In the absence, therefore, of a definition of 'prevailing rate' in section 2 this section is misleading. Then again this is a definition which must lead to rack-renting; it will raise the rent to the highest rate possible in the circumstances. Further the definition will be unworkable on another ground, a ground to which I had the honour of referring when the Bill was referred to a Select Committee, namely, that under this definition raiyats will be expected, while giving their evidence, to be able to state the areas of their holdings. It is pointed out by one of the Judicial Officers that it is not to be expected that they should be able, while stating what rates they paid, also to state the areas of their holdings. Consequently it would be very difficult to come to a finding as to what the prevailing rate should be taken to be according to this definition."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"I oppose this motion, the effect of which would simply be to omit the section altogether. I have already pointed out that in districts or parts of districts to which this section is not extended the definition of 'prevailing rate' remains as it is under the existing law."

The Hon'ble the President said:—"I am surprised that a legal gentleman of the eminence of the Hon'ble Member should have put forward the fallacy with which he started. It is the zamindar who is required to prove his case. The raiyat is not called upon to state the area of his holding. When Hon'ble Members were discussing the question of the prevailing rate, it was urged that the area would be taken into consideration and not the number of persons who pay that rate. If the zamindar is the unscrupulous man he is made out to be, he would have less difficulty in manufacturing a majority of raiyats by splitting up tenancies than in showing that higher rates are paid over a larger area."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motions of which he had given notice:—

(1) That the words "In any district or part of a district to which this sub-section is extended by the Local Government by notification in the Calcutta Gazette" in sub-section (1) of section 31A in section 4 of the Bill, be omitted.

(2) That the Illustrations be omitted from sub-section (1) of section 31A in section 4 of the Bill.

(3) That sub-section (2) of section 31A in section 4 of the Bill be omitted.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee moved that for section 5 of the Bill, the following be substituted, namely:—

"5. After the word 'correct' in sub-section (6) of section 39 of the said Act, the words 'and may presume that the prices shown in the lists prepared for any year prior to the passing of this Act are correct' shall be inserted."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee, by leave of the Council, withdrew the motion of which he had given notice that section 5 of the Bill be omitted.

The Hon'ble Babu Saligram Singh moved that the words "or at any lower rate that may appear to the Court to be fair and equitable" be omitted from section 6 of the Bill.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"If the land cannot be identified, then the average rate is applied. If on the other hand it can be identified, then it is rated according to its class. It is not logical to say that for land which cannot be identified the average rate 'or any lower rate that may appear to the Court to be fair and equitable' may be taken, and therefore those words should be omitted."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU SALIGRAM SINGH, by leave of the Council, withdrew the motion of which he had given notice that for the words "lower rate" in section 6 of the Bill, the words "other rate" be substituted.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI CHARAN BANERJEE moved that the following be inserted at the end of section 6 of the Bill, namely:—

"(6) Provided that no tenant who holds under a lease with defined boundaries shall be liable to pay enhanced rent in respect of any excess area found to be within the boundaries stated in the lease."

He said:—"Clause 6, which it is proposed to insert, has raised a question in the minds of some of the Judicial Officers. The Additional Judge of the 24-Parganas says:—'Would this apply to a village with defined boundaries and a descriptive specification of area?' Even the Board of Revenue say:—'It does not appear to the Board clear whether this new sub-section is intended to apply both when the holding in which there are excess lands is held at a lump rent and with specified boundaries, and when it is held at specific rates without boundaries. The old rulings are that if land is settled at a lump sum with definite boundaries, it is not enough in order to prove a demand of higher rent to show that the nominal area of the land has been found greater than it was originally recorded. Boundaries prevail against record of nominal area.' Thus the Board of Revenue are in doubt whether the sub-section is meant to modify the law as laid down by the High Court."

The Hon'ble The PRESIDENT said:—"I think every Lawyer will hold that we do not modify the ruling of the High Court. We have no intention of altering the law in that respect and the ruling of the High Court."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI CHARAN BANERJEE said:—"A doubt has been raised, and I therefore proposed this amendment. I beg leave to withdraw it."

The Motion was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRA NATH SEN, by leave of the Council, withdrew the motion of which he had given notice that for the words "one or more of the boundaries" in clause (c) of section 102 in section 7 of the Bill, the words "all the boundaries" be substituted.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI CHARAN BANERJEE moved that the procedure for settlement of rents and decision of disputes in estates under settlement of land-revenue be the same as the procedure for settlement of rents and decision of disputes in permanently-settled estates.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"I must rule this motion out of order. It is not an amendment of the Bill. It is a sort of omnibus clause which would require a long series of amendments to give effect to it. The point should have been raised at the time when the Bill was referred to a Select Committee."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI CHARAN BANERJEE moved that the words "either orally or" be omitted from clause (b) of section 104A in section 7 of the Bill.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"The rules will necessarily lay down that oral admissions will have to be read over to the tenants and attested by the Settlement Officer. If you leave in 'in writing' only it might raise a difficulty."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I would not object to the omission of the words 'either orally or in writing,' and say simply 'accepted.'"

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I do not think it is necessary. If a raiyat makes an oral statement, that is all he can do. If there is any chance of fraud in that, there is equally a chance of fraud in bringing another man to sign for him."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I think we better be guided by the advice of the learned Advocate-General and leave the section as drafted."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRA NATH SEN moved that clause (c) of section 104A in section 7 of the Bill be omitted.

He said:—"The table of rates is practically based on competition rent. This section leaves the settlement of rates entirely to the Settlement Officers estimate of what is fairly and equitably payable by raiyats or tenure-holders. Had the table been based solely on existing rents, there would have been very little ground of complaint. As the section is now worded, the assessment of rents is left absolutely to the discretion of the Settlement Officer. If the largeness of area of a particular settlement, such as Orissa, be in view, the Resolution of the Government of India of the 1st August, 1882, is a sufficient answer to the demand of the Government in this Bill for the table. The table was proposed as early then, but it was abandoned. The Rent Commission, appointed in 1884, also made the same proposal, but it was again abandoned. I fail to see why the Government should now ask the Council to adopt it, and I therefore move that the clause be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I oppose this motion. Clause (c) of section 104 begins thus: 'If the circumstances are in the opinion of the Revenue Officer such as to make it practicable to prepare a table of rates'; therefore if the circumstances are such as not to make it practicable, a table of rates will not be prepared. Having given many years to the study of this question in almost every district in Bengal, I am confident that in some cases the preparation of a table of rates is practicable, and where it is practicable there is no reason why such a table should not be prepared. The hon'ble mover of the amendment says that the preparation of a table of rates will leave raiyats to the tender mercies of the Revenue Officer, and that no principle has been laid down for his guidance. I would refer him to section 104D, under which, in preparing a table of rates, the Settlement Officer is bound to have regard to the general principles laid down in the Act regulating the enhancement or reduction of rent; so that he is tied down by the general principles of the Act. As the learned Advocate-General has pointed out, the Revenue Officer will have to justify any table he may prepare to the Confirming and Appellate authorities. He can only justify it by showing that his enhancements were made on the grounds of enhancement prescribed by the Act."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI CHARAN BANERJEE moved that the following be added to clause (c) of section 104A in section 7 of the Bill, namely:—

"Provided that any enhancement of rent involved in such a table of rates shall be conditioned by the grounds of enhancement specified in section 30."

He said:—"Section 104A has four clauses which are distinct and which lay down four different methods for the settlement of rents. It has been pointed out to me that there is a proviso in clause (d), namely, that in making any settlement regard shall be had to the principles laid down in certain sections of the Act; and that in section 104D it is provided that in framing a table of rates under section 104B and in settling rents under section 104C, the Revenue Officer shall be guided by such instructions as the Local Government may issue in this behalf, and shall, so far as may be, and subject to the proviso to the said section 104C, have regard to the general principles of this Act regulating the enhancement or reduction of rent. The words 'so far as may be,' modify the proviso, with the effect that in preparing a table of rates, Settlement Officers will not be bound to stand by the principles laid down in the Act on the subject. In the second place, the words 'shall have regard to,' mean 'may take into consideration;' so that these words also do not bind Settlement Officers to follow the principles of the Act. That is why I think something more explicit is needed if the intention is that the Settlement Officer shall be guided and governed by the principles laid down in the Act. It is because the provisos do not go far enough that I move this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"I think sections 104C and 104D sufficiently meet the case. It is not necessary that in settling each particular individual tenant's rent the Settlement Officer should be tied down by the table of rates. If he thinks that the rates given in the table should not be applied in settling any particular raiyat's rent, he is not bound to apply them; therefore the section is made a little more elastic than the Hon'ble Member would have it, and as there is an appeal to the Superior Revenue authorities, it is very unlikely that injustice will be done either by framing rates which are not justified by the principles prescribed in the Act, or by the rigid application of them in settling individual tenant's rents."

The Hon'ble the President said:—"I think the thing cuts both ways. The Settlement Officer has to find rates which are fair and equitable. It is a matter of judgment, and we say that in forming your judgment you must conform to certain rules and certain principles. Those who have to control settlement work know very well that it must be to a large extent a matter of discretion, based on certain principles of course. Their object is to find rates which are fair and equitable to both sides."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee also moved that for the words "such instructions as the Local Government may issue in this behalf" in section 104D, in section 7 of the Bill, the words "such rules as the Local Government may make in this behalf" be substituted.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane moved that the words "and shall cause it to be finally published in the prescribed manner and for the prescribed period" be omitted from sub-section (3) of section 104F in section 7 of the Bill. He said:—

"The Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen will remember that when we discussed this in Select Committee, we came to the conclusion that the Settlement Rent Roll should be incorporated with the record-of-rights, but by a slip of the pen these words were left in this sub-section."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Babu Jatra Mohan Sen moved that "twelve months" be substituted for "six months" in both places in which those words occur in sub-section (2) of section 104H in section 7 of the Bill.

He said:—"In support of this amendment, it is necessary to see what the present law is. Article 14 of the second schedule of the Limitation Act prescribes a limitation of one year for suits to set aside an act or order of an officer of Government, and by Article 45 of the same schedule of the same Act, the three years' rule has been prescribed for suits to set aside awards under Regulation VII of 1822. As far as the Government as landlord is concerned, awards under Regulation VII of 1822 are similar to those under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Under the old law it was not even necessary for persons to bring suits to set aside awards if they were in possession. They have all a limitation of twelve years from the date they were dispossessed of. That being the state of the law, I submit that a limitation of six months in this section is too short, and I have proposed the moderate course of substituting twelve months for six. It must be remembered that in cases where the Government is a party, either as landlord or tenant, two months' clear notice has to be given under section 424 of the Civil Procedure Code. Practically, therefore, in cases where the Government is a party, the party injuriously affected has only left three months or a little over three months; for some time must be taken after the termination of the notice to file a suit. The difficulties in filing a suit are great. It is necessary to collect materials and to seek legal advice. It may be urged on the other side that proceedings under the Tenancy Act should be concluded in as short a period as possible; it has therefore perhaps been thought necessary to provide a six months' limitation. Under the existing law there is practically no limitation. [The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—'What was the limitation under Act VIII of 1879?'] I will contend that it was three years. [The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—'It was four months under that Act: we are giving two months more.'] In fact under the Act of 1879 no suit was necessary sometimes, because all these entries might be contested when a suit is brought against a party, and he is not required to bring a separate suit. If any suit is brought against a tenant for rent on the strength of the record, he could even then contest the correctness of the entry, and no suit was necessary to be brought."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"Perhaps I may explain the meaning of this section. The Hon'ble Member has been talking as if this section related to suits in general, whereas it simply relates to cases in which any person is aggrieved by an entry of rent settled in settlement record. It only applies to entries of rents settled in a Settlement Rent Roll, and when any person objects to such entry, he must bring a suit within six months. Under Act VIII of 1879, the jammabundee was published, and within four months after that publication suits to set aside settlements had to be brought. The period now proposed is longer than that allowed under Act VIII of 1879. The section leaves the law of limitation in suits regarding right and title exactly as it stood before."

The Hon'ble BABU JATRA MOHUN SEN continued:—"Act VIII of 1879 was repealed. My contention is that the time is too short. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill observed that settlement proceedings should be settled as soon as possible, but that may be done by securing an order to dispose of cases of this kind within six months, just as rent cases are disposed of within that period. In this connection the opinions of distinguished gentlemen have been given, and one of the District Judges, Mr. Gordon said—"

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"It is simply a question of opinion whether a limitation of six months or of twelve months should be prescribed."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU JATRA MOHAN SEN also moved that the words "or additional rent" be added at the end of clause (a) of section 104H in section 7 of the Bill.

He said:—"As at present drafted, this section may be confined only to those cases where the parties hold rent-free or revenue-free tenures. I do not think it was intended to limit the scope of this section in that manner. I therefore suggest that the scope of this section be widened by adding the words I have proposed. In that case a suit may be brought by a party where additional rent has been fixed on his tenure or holding, when as a matter of fact no additional rent is chargeable. The principle has been recognised in this very section, because the incidents of the tenure have to be noted, and where the incidents of a tenure or holding have to be noted, it is but fair that the parties should also have the right to sue against an additional rent being fixed on their holdings if additional rent has been fixed against any recognized law or principle."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"I oppose the amendment, but I am not certain whether I understand the meaning of it, if it has any meaning at all. If the Hon'ble Member means that the tenant may sue on the ground that the Revenue Officer has settled a rent in excess of that previously payable and that the land is not chargeable with additional rent, that it is in fact held at a fixed rent, that only means that the tenancy has been recorded in a wrong class for which the section provides a remedy. If on the other hand he means that the party aggrieved should be allowed to sue whenever the rent settled is in excess of the existing rent, whether the status of the tenant has been rightly recorded or not, then his amendment goes against the whole principle of the Bill. If the tenant is recorded in a wrong class, he may sue on that ground. If the record says that he is an occupancy tenant and he claims to be a tenant at a fixed rate of rent, he can sue. But he is not entitled to sue in the Civil Court merely on the ground that the rent settled is too high."

The Hon'ble the President said:—"We allow an appeal to the Civil Court to discuss the question of status, which is outside the fiscal question of rent. If the words 'or additional rent' be added, the whole question of enhancement of rent comes in, and that is quite contrary to the principle of this Bill."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen moved that after clause (g) of section 104H in section 7 of the Bill the following be added, namely—

"(h) that the alteration made in the existing rent by the Revenue Officer has not been made in accordance with, or is not justified by, the provisions of this Act regulating such alterations."

He said:—"The only question of most vital importance to a tenant is the rent which he has to pay; and when his rent has been enhanced, and he is not permitted to contest its justice or legality by a regular suit, it would seem idle to confer upon him the privilege of bringing suits in matters of far less importance to him. Looking at the wording in the beginning of section 104H —'any person aggrieved by an entry of a rent settled in a settlement rent roll,' and also to the words in sub-section (4)—the Court may 'settle a fair rent,' and also to the words in sub-section (6)—'the Court shall be guided by the rents of the other tenures or holdings of the same class,' it is clear the Legislature intended that the raiyat should be allowed to contest the legality of the enhancement in Court. If it were not so, the words at the beginning of the section would be meaningless, and the provision that 'in any other case,' i.e., under clauses c, d, e and f, the Court 'shall settle a fair rent' becomes still more unmeaning, because under neither of these clauses rent is contested and the Court is not required to settle rents. For clause (c) relates to the question whether a tenancy exists, (d) whether the land has been wrongly excluded or included, (e) that the class to which the tenant belongs is wrongly stated, and (f) that the date from which the settlement is to take effect is wrong. If enhancement of rent is not allowed to be contested under this section, then all these provisions, I submit, become perfectly unnecessary. I earnestly appeal to your sense of fairness and justice, Sir, to make this all-important concession in favour of the raiyat. It will be the only possible remedy open to him against much unintentional hardship which the extensive and extraordinary powers, conferred by this Bill on Settlement Officers, might cause."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said:—"The amendment which stands next in the agenda in my name is practically the same as the above, though the wording is somewhat different, namely, that after the said clause (g) the following be added:—

'(h) that the enhancement of rent is not justifiable under the provisions of this Act.'

"As has just been observed by my hon'ble friend, this amendment raises a vital question of principle. Under section 104H any person aggrieved by an entry in the record-of-rights is given the power of instituting a civil suit on certain grounds specified in that section. I propose and my hon'ble friend proposes that an additional ground should be included among those which are not covered by the grounds given in the section. The question of enhancement of rents is a vital question to the raiyat, and it does seem to me that in a matter of this great importance, a raiyat should have the opportunity of contesting the decision of the Revenue Officers by filing a suit in the Civil Court. The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane in introducing this Bill made certain observations which encourage me to appeal to him with some confidence. He then said:—'The people of Bengal are rightly zealous of any interference with the powers of the Civil Courts, and that it is to the reign of law impartially administered that they owe the maintenance of their civil rights.'

"And it is because we are anxious about that this reign of law should be maintained unimpared that we appeal to the hon'ble member with confidence to accept an amendment which will give the raiyat the right to appeal to law when his rent has been enhanced. Having regard to the well-known sympathy of the Government with the raiyat and to the expression of opinion of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill which I have quoted, I hope your Honour and the Council will see their way to accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"I regret it is wholly impossible for me to accept those amendments. They are directly contrary to the principle of the Bill as regards the settlement of rents in Government estates. The principle is that the Revenue authorities are the best judges of economic facts, that is to say, of rents and the rates of rent to be fixed for lands of particular classes. But as the Revenue authorities may go wrong on questions of law, it has been provided that if they do, there is a remedy in the Civil Courts; and if an error in law leads to errors in the settlement of rents, then it is also provided that the Civil Court shall settle the rent on the same principle as the Revenue Officer has settled them in similar cases. The principle is that the Revenue Officers are the final authorities to settle what a fair rent should be. To accept the principle contained in the amendment would be tantamount to upsetting the whole principle of the Bill. It would be tantamount to saying that after the Revenue authorities have decided what the fair rent should be, then the raiyat may go to the Munsif's Court and ask the Munsif to fix the rent de novo. That, I submit, is preposterous. I adhere to what I said in introducing this Bill about the reign of law, but I also enunciated this principle that there are matters which involve economic questions as to which the Revenue authorities are the best persons to decide, but they too will decide according to law."

The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul said:—"I also oppose this amendment, which I consider to be in direct contravention of the principle upon which this Bill is based. I regret that I have had to observe in this Council, not on one occasion, but on many occasions, a desire on the part of certain Hon'ble Members to put the hands of the clock back, and they will persevere although the Council has said 'No,' and I venture to believe that if this motion is negatived, some other proposals will be made exactly in the same way against the principle of this Bill. I submit that this mode of proceeding is very much to be deprecated, and I think the intelligent gentlemen whom I see before me will see that they are simply retarding business by asking the Council to go back to a state of things which has long since been left behind."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said:—"I must be permitted to reply to the personal attack which the Hon'ble Member has just made upon me and my colleagues."

The Hon'ble The President said:—"I cannot allow personal matters to be discussed, and I must, in all fairness, say this, that though the ordinary rule of the Council is that the principles of a Bill are settled at the debate when the Bill is referred to a Select Committee, in this particular case the Bill which was referred to a Select Committee was the Bill as it was introduced. But I then made an oral statement that I should propose to the Select Committee to modify the Bill in certain particulars. That modification was not actually before the Council at the time, and therefore I cannot say that the observations which have been laid before us are out of order; because the reference to the Select Committee was an open order to adopt the modification of the Bill which would be proposed by Government. It might therefore be said that the Hon'ble Members who have moved the amendments now before the Council had no opportunity before of stating their views on the Bill as ultimately shaped by Government, and I cannot say that they are out of order, as they would have been had they had the opportunity before. Coming to the point in the Bill now under discussion, I say that we have maintained the reign of law over a great portion of Bengal. We have retained the provisions of the Tenancy Act with regard to permanently-settled estates, but even in that law it is acknowledged by the Hon'ble Mr. Finucane, and by every authority on the subject, with a few exceptions, that the Revenue Officers are the best authorities to deal with fiscal questions, such as the fixing of rents. In the Act an appeal was given to a Special Judge, but it was distinctly said that the special officer so appointed need not be the Civil Court. It was open to the Government to appoint a Commissioner of Division or any high authority not under the Civil Courts to be the Special Judge. There was nothing in the law to compel the Government to appoint a Judicial Officer. And the general admission has all along been that for the purpose of settling fiscal matters, such as the rates of rent, the Revenue Officers are the best authorities. In respect of all permanently-settled estates we proposed to bring the whole procedure in connection with rent under the Revenue authorities, as it is in every other Province in India, and as it used to be in Bengal itself, our proposal did not find acceptance with Judicial Officers and zamindars generally. The fact that Revenue Officers are well qualified to judge in such matters has, however, been shown by the fact that the British Indian Association, who at first opposed the proposal to give jurisdiction to Revenue Officers, have actually moved the Council to compel Munsifs to refer all questions relating to rents to Revenue Officers, and to be guided by the decisions of such officers. The Select Committee have, however, not seen their way to give effect to that proposal, and I am not prepared to propose it. I think the zamindars on their part have made a mistake, but the Council have accepted the principle of keeping the Special Judge in respect of permanently-settled estates. But in respect of Government estates we maintain the principle that the Revenue authorities are the parties to settle all questions of rent. As I said at starting, had we strictly adhered to the principle of the Bill as it was referred to the Select Committee and not altered it to the lines on which it stands now, the Hon'ble Members who move this amendment would have been out of order, but as matters stand now, I cannot say that they are out of order."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE, by leave of the Council, withdrew the Motion of which he had given notice that after clause (g) of section 104H in section 7 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

"(h) that the enhancement of rent is not justifiable under the provisions of this Act."

The Hon'ble BABU JATRA MOHAN SEN moved that after clause (g) of section 104H in section 7 of the Bill, the following be added, namely—

"(h) that the settlement of rent has been made against the terms of a contract, express or implied, or other incidents, binding upon the parties."

He said:—"Practically a concession has been made to parties injuriously affected to bring suits to establish that the incidents of their tenancy or holding have been wrongly recorded or have been omitted altogether. My amendment purports to give the right of suit to contest rents settled against the terms of a contract or against the incidents of their tenures or holdings. The amendment will have the effect of making the section more exhaustive. The right does not seem to have been taken away, but the object of the amendment is to make it more clear."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"The hon'ble mover of the amendment does not seem to have examined section 110 (b), which provides that 'if the existing rent has been fixed by a contract binding between the parties for an unexpired term of years, the rent settled shall take effect from the expiration of that term.'"

The Motion was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble Mr. FINUCANE moved that the following be inserted at the end of sub-section (3) of section 104H in section 7 of the Bill, namely:—

"The Secretary of State for India in Council shall not be made a defendant in any such suit unless the Government is landlord or tenant of the land to which the aforesaid entry relates or in respect of which the aforesaid omission was made."

He said:—"The section here referred to is the section we have been discussing regarding the right of any person to sue who is aggrieved at the entry of the rent settled in a settlement rent-roll. I should have thought it obvious that if the tenant is aggrieved, he should sue the landlord, or if the landlord is aggrieved, he should sue the tenant; but the obvious meaning of the section has been taken to be not the true meaning, and therefore I want to make it clear. It has been suggested that the Government should be sued, as the Government is responsible for the acts of the Revenue Officers. I move for the insertion of these words to make it clear that the Revenue Officer or Government is not to be sued in such cases except where Government is directly interested as landlord or tenant; it would be just as reasonable to sue a Judge or Government whenever a Judge gives an erroneous decision in a case in which Government has no immediate interest."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"There is a notion prevailing that the Government is liable for the wrongful acts of their servants but Sir Richard Garth ruled that the Government is not liable. I quite agree with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill that there is a tendency to bring in the Government whenever it can be done, and in order to avoid that I think this is a very proper amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU JATRA MOHAN SEN moved that sub-section (6) of section 104H in section 7 of the Bill be omitted.

He said:—"This section is not at all necessary. It provides that 'in settling a fair rent under sub-section (4), the Court shall be guided by the rents of the other tenures or holdings of the same class comprised in the same settlement rent-roll, as settled under sections 104A to 104F.' It may so happen that in one village there may be many tenants of the same class, but very few of them may choose to bring suits in the Civil Courts to maintain their position against the settlement authorities. If their rents are to be settled on a comparison with the rents of other persons who hold similar lands, but do not choose to bring suits, the decree of the Civil Court will be nullified. As ample power has been given to the Court to settle fair rents under sub-section (4), I do not think this sub-section is at all necessary. [The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—'You are aware that it is the existing law under section 108 of the Tenancy Act: it is simply reproducing the words of that section.'] No doubt it is so, but in that case the Courts have ample discretion. But here the Courts are confined to the particular rate fixed by the Settlement Officer, and for aught we know other tenants may not care to bring suits to establish their position. Sub-section (4), I submit, is quite enough for the purpose and sub-section (6) is not at all necessary, if the Courts are guided by just principle and by the provisions of this Act. If, on the other hand, they are to be guided simply by the rent-roll of tenants of the same class, many of whom may not appear to contest the rent therein fixed, it would rather be hard upon those who do bring suits."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I oppose this amendment. As the Hon'ble the President has already pointed out, this provision only reproduces the present law."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Jatra Mohan Sen also moved that for the word "deemed" in section 104J in section 7 of the Bill, the words "presumed until the contrary is proved" be substituted.

He said:—"To settle matters of this kind, section 103B provides that a certificate signed by the Revenue Officer stating that a record-of-rights has been finally published shall be conclusive evidence of such publication; and every entry in a record-of-rights so published shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is proved. I submit that section 104J should be worded on the same lines as section 103B, and therefore I move this amendment."

The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul said:—"The Hon'ble Mover of the amendment wants, after it is finally settled what is a fair and equitable rent, to go back and say it shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is proved."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Jatra Mohan Sen also moved that for the word "deemed" in section 8 of the Bill, the words "presumed until the contrary is proved" be substituted.

He said:—"Section 8 refers to a past record. It provides that all records published under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, before the amendment of this Act, whether in draft or in final form, shall be deemed to have been duly published. As we are going to give retrospective effect to past proceedings, we must look to the state of the law at the time, and to the impression of the people as to the law they are under. As far as the district of Chittagong is concerned, the people are under the impression that it was not necessary for them to contest the proceedings of the revenue officers. They preferred to have their rights settled in the Civil Court, and with that idea they have not contested any of the decisions or settlement of rents before the Settlement Officers. Therefore, if this section is passed, it will operate great hardship upon the people."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"Section 8 only reproduces the wording of section 105 (2) of the present Act, which provides that the publication of records shall be conclusive evidence that the record has been duly made. It is no new principle, and therefore I oppose this amendment."

The Hon'ble Babu Jatra Mohun said:—"Under section 109 of the same Act, all undisputed entries can be disputed in the Civil Courts."

The Hon'ble the President said:—"It would be very convenient if Hon'ble Members who have just joined the Council would place themselves in communication with the Hon'ble Member in charge of a Bill so as to ascertain the meaning and intention of the Bill before proposing amendments that are futile and worthless."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen moved that section 9 of the Bill be omitted.

He said:—"This section seems to me to be obviously inequitable. It proposes to give retrospective effect to the present Bill, which has been protested against by all Judicial Officers. Under the rulings of the High Court, the Settlement Officers' decisions were not conclusive, and, therefore, most people did not appeal. To make these decisions final and conclusive now would be to take away the existing rights of the parties without any reason whatever."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said:—"The same Motion stands in my name. It is a question of principle that I desire the Council to consider. Before this Bill is passed into law, certain rights will have accrued to the parties concerned, and these rights, it is now proposed to take away by the Bill giving retrospective effect to settlements made before the commencement of this Act. That seems to me to be wrong in principle. This is the one section of the Bill which has been condemned by the Englishman newspaper while according a general support to the provisions of the Bill. The reasons are not stated, but this is the one blot which the Englishman lays its fingers upon, and I hope the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will not mar the character of his Bill by introducing a principle of this kind."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I regret I cannot accept this amendment. All the section does is to declare that every settlement of rent in respect of which an appeal has not been preferred shall be held to be final and correct. That is the existing law. When there is no dispute there is no decision and no decree. But where there has been a dispute, the Revenue Officer is bound to treat the dispute as a civil suit and to decide it, and when he has done so and given his decision; my hon'ble friend says if that decision is accepted by the parties and is not appealed against, it is not to be final, but if it has been appealed against, it may be taken as final. In other words, decisions that have been accepted by the parties are to have no finality. I do not see the slightest danger of any injustice arising from this section. It is only decisions that are made final. Mere undisputed entries have only presumptive value of correctness attached to them under this Bill, just as they had under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"There can be no possible doubt to any one who has studied the proceedings in connection with the passing of the Tenancy Act, that it was the intention of the framers of that Act, that the proceedings of the Revenue Officers and of the Special Judge should be final. Possibly the idea got abroad that these proceedings were not res judicata, but the tendency of the more recent decisions is to the effect that they are; and I am certainly of opinion that if they are not, they ought to be declared to have that effect, and that we ought not to stimulate a crop of litigation, which might be very agreeable to gentlemen of the legal profession but to nobody else. This is an equitable provision in the Bill, and the Government have no intention to withdraw from it."

The Motions were put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU JATRA MOHAN SEN moved that at the end of sub-section (1) of section 9 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

"Provided also that a suit may, within three years from the commencement of this Act, be instituted in a competent Civil Court to contest the correctness of any settlement of rent made in an uncontested case, or the correctness of any decision of a dispute."

He said:—"In considering this amendment let us see what rights have been conferred upon the people with regard to future settlements. Section 104H, clause (c) gives certain rights to parties to sue in the Civil Court. Under the present Act no such suit is necessary, and people were under the impression that they had a right to institute a suit in the Civil Court to contest entries whenever a suit is brought against them. It is just that some time should be given to the parties, when retrospective effect is going to be given to past records, to contest their rents in the Civil Court. I have suggested three years, because the people of my part of the country have suffered lately from the effects of a cyclone and also from scarcity. If three years be given to contest an award under settlement proceedings, no hardship will accrue. But when retrospective effect is going to be given to past records, the justice of the case requires that some such time should be given to parties to have the records corrected. The people are strongly of opinion that their rights are not affected by the settlement records, and cannot be better expressed than in the words of Mr. Pargier, who says that the people, rightly or wrongly, regulated their conduct in the belief that they had a right to bring a civil suit, and they did not think it worth while to contest these matters before the Revenue Officers. The Rulings of the High Court have been to the effect that Settlement Officers have no power to decide disputes between landlords and landlords or between tenants and tenants; nor have they power to fix the rent of a tenure or holding which the tenant claims to hold rent free. The recent ruling of the High Court to which reference was made by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, did not declare that the decisions of Revenue Officers operate as res adjudicata. The questions before the Judges in those cases, there were several cases—were whether the Special Judge had power to review his own judgment, and whether an appeal lay to the High Court on questions of rent. In deciding those cases, one of the Judges held that the power of review was inherent in Judges, and he also held that the review sections of the Civil Procedure Code applied to cases tried by Settlement Officers and the Special Judge. The main question has not been touched in those cases, and the previous judgments were not reversed. That being the impression of the people, when retrospective effect is going to be given to past records, I submit that some time should be given to the parties interested to contest the entries in the records in the Civil Courts."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"This amendment is opposed to the conclusion just come to on the previous amendments, that settlement of rents and decisions by Revenue Officers are final. It is proposed by this amendment to give a period of three years to contest them."

The Hon'ble the President said:—"Whatever the impression of the people might have been, the fact remains that in Chittagong the rents fixed were so moderate that they have not only been accepted, but they have been paid, and I think the people will be very unwilling to waste their money, trying to upset the decisions now, after they have accepted them and have paid their rents, notwithstanding that the lawyers may incite them to the contrary."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed. He said:—

"I shall be very brief. I desire to explain that when I spoke of the Government of Bengal having been accused of being too much in favour of the raiyats, I had not in my mind anything said by Hon'ble Members but what has been said outside. I do not complain of the time which has been taken up by the hon'ble movers of the amendments in the discussion which has taken place. The time which has been occupied in this discussion is only 2 hours and 10 minutes, and I cannot consider that unreasonable, nor can I complain of the Hon'ble Member from Chittagong trying to effect something which he conceived to be favourable to the people of that district. In proposing that the Bill be now passed, I will only express the hope that the Bill will effect the objects for which it was introduced, namely, that it will afford reasonable facilities for the enhancement of rents where rents ought to be enhanced, without at the same time unjustly affecting the interests of raiyats or endangering them. I hope also that the Bill will clear up doubts and difficulties which have arisen in the working of the present Act. And above all I hope that the Bill as now amended will continue to be the law of landlord and tenant in Bengal for at least a generation, and that there will be no unsettling of the law or interference with it for many years to come. The principles on which settlements of rents are to be made under this Bill are eclectic and elastic, and I hope one or other of them will suit the varying conditions of things in the different parts of this vast Province, and that the Bill will in the course of time be found in its operation to be fair and just alike to landlords and tenants and to Government."

The Hon'ble the President said:—"I congratulate the Council and the Hon'ble Member who has been in charge of this Bill that it has at last reached the final stage, and I hope that it will prove satisfactory in its working. It consists really of three parts, as it were: The first part contains certain amendments of the substantive law of rent, the second enacts certain amendments of the law of the settlement of rents in permanently-settled estates, and the third part contains provisions, which I hope will prove effective, for a complete and sound settlement law for temporarily-settled estates and Government estates and such estates as may, under the provisions of the law, have that part of the Bill extended to them throughout Bengal. The amendments in the substantive provisions of the law of rents are, it has been said, favourable to zamindars. I am not much concerned to deny that, but I believe that the concessions which have been made are reasonable and just, certainly not extravagant, and merely such modifications as are required to give effect to the intention of the Legislature in 1885. I have throughout my official life fought many battles for the raiyats, but I have always endeavoured to maintain an open mind as to the merits of the rent controversy on both sides, and it is a satisfaction to me that I have been able to see my way to support amendments of the substantive law in the direction which they have taken in this Bill. It is a matter of special satisfaction that we have at last succeeded in giving Bengal a proper law of revenue and rent settlement. The old settlement procedure under the Regulation of 1822 was undoubtedly good enough, and many good settlements, both of revenue and of rent, were carried out under those provisions, and the discretion of the Revenue Officers was then unfettered by positive enactment. When the Rent Law, X of 1859, was passed, it was declared to apply to the proceedings of Settlement Officers. I will not go through the whole history of the course of legislation, as I think it was given at very considerable length in the Hon'ble Mr. Finucane's opening speech when introducing the Bill and in the papers connected with the Bill. But there can be no doubt whatever, and it has been held in this Council repeatedly within the last twenty years, that it is a crying want in Bengal that we should have a proper law of settlement. The Legislature in 1885 sought to effect it by placing the Government and the zamindars on the same platform and providing for the appointment of Special Judges, intending, as I said this morning, that the proceedings of such officers in dealing with rent questions should be final. Unfortunately this intention was frustrated in some parts of the country by both raiyats and tenure-holders being advised to keep away from the Settlement Officers and to take their chance in the Civil Courts. As I have already remarked, I see very little prospect of their following the very bad advice they are receiving; for in Chittagong the rents of tenure-holders are being paid without the slightest difficulty or objection, and the same is the case also in Orissa, I am happy to state, where the settlement is proceeding through its stages in a remarkably satisfactory manner, and the proposals of the Revenue Officers are being accepted by the people. The Government is always moderate in its settlement of revenue, but in a settlement which is being effected after 60 years, it must be expected that something will be taken out of the pockets of the zamindars; but I hope it will be in a large measure made up to them by a moderate enhancement of rents, and in a very short time by the growth and development of the country and by the opening out of new railways. The settlement of Orissa will be for a term of thirty years, and it is hoped that circumstances will during that period so considerably improve as to take away almost all the sting of bitterness out of the enhancement of revenue which the Government has had to lay upon the landholders. In the third part of the Bill relating to permanently-settled estates, the Government has endeavoured and the Select Committee have endeavoured to make the procedure more simple and cheap, and to remove all difficulties of construction of sections which have arisen since the passing of the Act of 1885. I congratulate the Council and myself on the passing of this Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1898-99.

The Hon'ble Mr. Risley laid on the table the Financial Statement for 1898-99, with explanatory notes.

BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1898-99.

PART I.—General Review.

(1) ACCOUNTS OF 1896-97.

In the Financial Statement which was laid before the Council on the 27th March 1897, it was assumed that the year 1896-97 had opened with a credit balance of Rs. 58,20,000, and had closed with a balance of Rs. 41,07,000, that the total amount available for expenditure during the year was Rs. 5,22,01,000, and that of this sum Rs. 4,80,94,000 had been spent. The actual result proves to have been worse than this estimate by Rs. 1,52,581. The amount actually available for expenditure was Rs. 5,26,72,062, but the amount actually expended during the year amounted to Rs. 4,87,17,567, thus leaving a closing balance of Rs. 39,54,495, against Rs. 41,07,000, anticipated in March 1897. This reduction is chiefly due to excess expenditure under Famine Relief and to the grant of grain compensation allowance to certain Government servants on low pay.

2. There was an increase of 4¾ lakhs on the receipt side, of which Rs. 2,36,000 were under "Irrigation and Navigation," due to (1) enhanced receipts under water-rates owing to the great demand for canal water caused by the failure of rainfall, (2) better collections arising from the high prices obtained by the cultivators, (3) the realization of arrear demands on the Orissa and Sone Canals, and (4) larger receipts from transport of rice. There was also an increase of Rs. 1,12,000 under Stamps owing to the execution of a large number of mortgages and deeds of sale in consequence of the prevailing scarcity and failure of crops; and of Rs. 82,000 under Jails due to larger sales of manufactures to the Military Department.

3. The increase of expenditure was chiefly under the heads of Land Revenue (Rs. 50,000), Law and Justice—Courts of Law (Rs. 64,000), Jails (Rs. 1,22,000), Police (Rs. 1,09,000), Education (Rs. 66,000), and Famine Relief (Rs. 3,05,000.) The increase under Courts of Law was due partly to payments of compensation for dearness of provisions, and partly to increased expenditure under Salaries, and that under Jails to larger purchases of grain made in the two closing months of the year. The increase under Police was due partly to the opening of new outposts and to an increase in the number of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors and payment of their travelling allowances, but chiefly to compensation for the dearness of food-grains, a concession which was extended to the constables employed on watch and ward duty on railways and as punitive police.

4. The total expenditure on Famine Relief for 1896-97 as passed by the Government of India amounted to Rs. 23,00,000, thus—

The total expenditure in 1896-97 amounted to Rs. 24,42,082, of which Rs. 2,86,816 has been taken against Local, and the balance, Rs. 21,55,266, against Provincial. The details of the Provincial expenditure are shown below:—

5. The actual net result was a deficit of Rs. 18,65,581, against Rs. 17,13,000 anticipated when the revised estimate for the year was passed.

REVISED ESTIMATE FOR 1897-98.

6. The budget estimate for 1897-98 as passed by the Government of India accepted Rs. 41,07,000 as the opening balance, and provided for receipts aggregating Rs. 4,54,83,000 and the expenditure Rs. 4,85,90,000, so that the year should close with a balance of Rs. 10,00,000. The revised estimates now passed by the Government of India provide for a total revenue of Rs. 4,61,07,000 and the expenditure of Rs. 4,95,22,000. The net result is a deficit of Rs. 34,15,000, against Rs. 31,07,000 anticipated last year. The chief cause of this falling off is due to the debit of Rs. 30,78,000 under Famine Relief, against Rs. 22,18,000, originally estimated. When the estimates for the year were passed by the Government of India in March 1897, it was anticipated that Local Funds would be able to contribute Rs. 8,17,000 towards the total outlay on Famine Relief measures, and that of the remainder, Rs. 22,18,000 would be borne by Provincial Funds, this being the sum which those revenues could bear without reducing the Provincial balance below half the minimum of 20 lakhs prescribed by the Secretary of State as the working balance in ordinary years. As Local Funds have hitherto contributed Rs. 3,56,000 only against Rs. 8,17,000 estimated in March 1897, the Government of India have directed that the Provincial Revenues must make good the amount (Rs. 8,17,000—Rs. 3,56,000= Rs. 4,61,000) which the local bodies are unable to pay, and have accordingly reduced the closing balance of the Local Government from Rs. 10,00,000 to Rs. 5,39,000. The chief difficulty in realizing the full amount of contribution estimated in March 1897 lies in the fact that the Local Funds of the districts in which famine was anticipated, but was not actually declared, cannot fairly be called upon to contribute to expenditure incurred outside those districts, while in others the repairing of damages caused by the earthquake and the measures for the prevention of bubonic plague are likely to tell heavily on their resources, so that there may be some practical difficulty in enforcing the full liability originally imposed. The question what contribution can be demanded is under the consideration of Government.

7. On the receipt side the revenue is expected to show an increase, as stated above, from Rs. 4,54,83,000 to Rs. 4,61,07,000, or by Rs. 6,24,000. Of this, Rs. 4,00,000 are under Provincial Rates, owing to the increase of cess demands from revaluations, and Rs. 3,65,000 under Irrigation and Navigation, from larger collections of water-rates on the Sone Canals owing to the dryness of the earlier part of the year and the consequent high demand for water. There are also small increases under Stamps (Rs. 1,31,000), Jails (Rs. 1,02,000) and Marine (Rs. 1,46,000). Against these increases there are decreases of Rs. 3,00,000 under Excise, owing to the prevailing scarcity and high prices of food-grains, in consequence of which a large number of licenses have remained unsettled in some districts, while in others settlements could only be effected at reduced rates; and Rs. 2,57,000 under Miscellaneous, owing to partition fees and fees for Government audit of Incorporated Local Funds being now adjusted in reduction of charges instead of being credited to that head.

8. The net increase of expenditure is Rs. 9,32,000, which is made up of an increase of Rs. 8,60,000 under Famine Relief, the reason of which is explained in paragraph 6 above, and of Rs. 1,26,000 under Irrigation and Navigation, owing chiefly to an adjustment of the value of stock in the Dehri workshops, which is being transferred from Imperial to Provincial account. There are also increases in the Civil Department due to the grant of compensation to the lower paid servants of Government for the dearness of provisions, which is estimated by the Accountant-General at nearly five lakhs, of which Rs. 1,32,000 appears under Law and Justice—Courts of Law, and Rs. 2,70,000 under Police, while the balance is distributed under several other heads. Expenditure in the Medical Department has been increased by charges in connection with the suppression of plague, and by the cost of the camp at Raniganj for pilgrims to the Hedjaz. Against these increases, savings are anticipated under Land Revenue (nearly two lakhs), owing to partition fees being adjusted in reduction of charges instead of being credited separately under the head Miscellaneous.

BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1898-99.

9. The budget estimate for 1898-99 as passed by the Government of India adopts Rs. 5,39,000 as the opening balance, and places both receipts and charges at Rs. 4,55,30,000, so that the closing balance will be the same as the opening balance. Compared with the budget estimate for 1897-98, the total receipts for 1898-99 show a small increase of Rs. 47,000, while, as compared with the revised estimate, there is a falling off of Rs. 5,77,000. This reduction is due to a special assignment of Rs. 6,23,000 having been made from the Imperial Revenues in 1897-98 for survey and settlement charges which is not to be repeated in 1898-99. The receipts from the Forest Department are expected to bring in less revenue owing to the cessation of the sleeper operations in the Singhbhum Division, while the increase of revenue under Irrigation and Navigation realised in 1897-98 from water-rates in the Sone Canal is not expected to recur. The receipts under Marine also show a decrease. On the other hand the Excise revenue is expected to recover with the general improvement of agricultural prospects, and increased receipts are looked for under Provincial Rates from the revaluation of estates. On the expenditure side the total grant is Rs. 4,55,30,000 against Rs. 4,85,90,000, the budget estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 4,95,22,000, the revised estimate for the year. The reduction is chiefly due to no provision being made for Famine Relief, to the elimination of the grants for the administration of the South Lushai Hills which has been transferred to the Assam Administration from the 1st April 1898, and to the necessity of bringing the expenditure within the receipts of the year. The budget is explained somewhat more fully in the following part of the statement.

PART II.—Detailed Remarks on the Budget for 1898-99.

RECEIPTS.

10. Land Revenue.—The total collections under this head in 1896-97 were Rs. 3,87,68,379, and the estimate for 1898-99, including Rs. 7,51,000 for recoveries on account of the Bihar survey charges, amounts to Rs. 4,08,73,000. The increase is chiefly noticeable under collections from Government estates which are estimated at Rs. 48,67,000 against Rs. 33,99,796, the actuals of 1896-97. The increase is chiefly due to the increased demands arising from the recent settlement operations which a bumper harvest will render it possible to collect. The adjustments between Imperial and Provincial will probably result in a net transfer of Rs. 17,11,000 to Imperial in 1898-99, as shown below:—

	Rs.
Fixed contribution to Imperial Revenues under the terms of the Provincial Contract	14,19,000
Add—
Contribution to Assam Administration for transfer of the South Lushai Hills	3,00,000
Total ...	17,19,000
Deduct—
Special assignment for additional junior scholarships to pupils in Assam in recognition of the Jubilee ...	3,000
Grant for transfer of Imperial buildings to the charge of local agency	5,000
Total ...	8,000
Net sum to be transferred to Imperial Funds ...	17,11,000

11. The estimated Provincial share of Land Revenue is arrived at as follows:—

	Revised Estimate, 1897-98.	Estimate 1898-99.
	Rs.	Rs.
Gross Land Revenue	3,99,00,000	4,08,73,000
Deduct 12 per cent. on estimated collections from Government estates (Provincial) ...	5,40,000	5,84,000
Deduct on account of recoveries of Bihar Survey and Settlement charges (Imperial)	6,88,000	7,51,000
Total deduction ...	12,28,000	13,35,000
Net amount divisible between Imperial and Provincial	3,86,72,000	3,95,38,000
Provincial share of above	96,68,000	98,84,000
Deduct on account of adjustments ...	7,69,000	17,11,000
Net ...	88,99,000	81,73,000
Add 12 per cent. on collections from Government estates	5,40,000	5,84,000
Total Provincial share ...	94,39,000	87,57,000

12. Stamps.—The budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1897-98 was passed by the Government of India at Rs. 1,74,25,000. The actuals in 1896-97 amounted to Rs. 1,75,74,296, and the latest returns from the Comptroller-General show that the receipts during the first eleven months of 1897-98 exceeded those of the corresponding period of the preceeding year by Rs. 64,000. As, however, a part of this increase must have been due to the execution of a large number of bonds and documents on account of scarcity, the revised estimate for 1897-98 has been placed at Rs. 1,76,00,000 and the estimate for 1898-99 at Rs. 1,76,56,000. The Provincial share is three-fourths of this sum, and amounts to Rs. 1,32,42,000.

13. Excise.—The budget estimate of the total revenue under this head for 1897-98 was Rs. 1,34,50,000 against Rs. 1,33,99,312, the actuals of 1896-97; but as the settlements of excise shops up to 31st May 1897 showed, owing to the scarcity then prevailing, a decrease of Rs. 4,01,124 as compared with the results of the corresponding period of 1896-97, the estimate was reduced to Rs. 1,28,00,000 in December 1897. The Comptroller-General's latest statement shows that the revenue has gradually begun to revive, and the revised estimate for 1897-98 has been passed for Rs. 1,28,50,000. The estimate for 1898-99 has been placed at Rs. 1,32,50,000, and the Provincial share of one-half amounts to Rs. 66,25,000.

14. Provincial Rates.—The actual collections of the Public Works Cess in 1896-97 amounted to Rs. 43,07,112, and the receipts in the first 10 months of 1897-98 showed an increase of Rs. 1,18,679 over those of the corresponding period of the preceding year. The revised estimate for 1897-98 has accordingly been raised to Rs. 44,30,000. The receipts from the general rate for the management of private estates aggregated Rs. 1,50,199 in 1896-97 and showed an increase of Rs. 19,148 in the first 10 months of 1897-98 over those of the receipts of the preceding year. The total estimate of collections for 1897-98 has accordingly been placed at Rs. 46,00,000.

15. Forests.—The receipts under this head have been entered at Rs. 2,67,000 less than the revised estimate for 1897-98, as the demand for sleepers for the Rai Bareilly-Benares Railway has now ceased, and no further departmental timber operations are contemplated. It is expected that Rs. 8,60,000 will be realised from timber, &c., received by purchasers.

16. Registration.—The budget estimate under this head for 1897-98 was Rs. 14,20,000 against Rs. 15,44,695, the actuals of 1896-97. The receipts both in the latter part of 1896-97 and in the first six months of 1897-98 were comparatively large on account of the large number of bonds, mortgages and deeds of sale registered owing to the prevailing scarcity; and the revised estimate for the year has been placed at Rs. 15,50,000. The increase in registration is not expected to continue during the current year, and the estimate has accordingly been placed at Rs. 15,10,000.

17. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The receipts from magisterial fines still continue to decline. The revised estimate for 1897-98 has been placed at Rs. 7,90,000 and the estimate for 1898-99 at Rs. 7,96,000 against Rs. 8,22,122, the actuals of 1896-97.

18. Jails.—The estimate under this head is Rs. 10,06,000 against Rs. 9,70,703, the actuals of 1896-97. The increase is mainly due to larger supplies of manufactures to the Military Department and the Police.

19. Police.—The estimate under this head is Rs. 2,22,000 against Rs. 2,42,000, the revised estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 1,88,460, the actuals of 1896-97. The increase is due to larger recoveries on account of police supplied to railway companies and for punitive police.

20. Marine.—The budget estimate for 1897-98 was Rs. 9,54,000, which has been raised to Rs. 11,00,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first ten months of the year. The increase is mainly under pilotage receipts in Calcutta, which fluctuate with the tonnage of vessels visiting and leaving the port. The estimate for 1898-99 is Rs. 10,00,000.

21. Education.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 6,62,000 against Rs. 5,99,000, the revised estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 5,64,666, the actuals of 1896-97. The improvement is due to the inclusion of receipts from the Eden Hindu Hostel, and to larger receipts anticipated from the Kurseong Boys' and Girls' Boarding Schools.

22. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The total receipts for 1898-99 are estimated at Rs. 2,31,000 against Rs. 2,19,000, the revised estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 2,03,980, the actuals of 1896-97. The increase is expected partly from larger sales of quinine and partly from receipts on account of the hostel attached to the Veterinary Institution at Belgachia.

23. Miscellaneous.—The receipts under this head amount to Rs. 6,94,000 against Rs. 9,35,000, the budget estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 9,13,956, the actuals of 1896-97. The decrease is due chiefly to partition fees being now adjusted in reduction of charges in the Land Revenue budget instead of being credited to Miscellaneous, and partly to the fees for Government audit of Incorporated Local Funds being now adjusted by deduction from the Provincial expenditure of Civil offices of Account and Control in the General Administration Budget.

24. Irrigation.—Direct receipts from Major Works.—The budget estimate of direct receipts for 1897-98 was Rs. 16,50.000, and the revised estimate has been taken at Rs. 20,00,000; the reason of the increase of Rs. 3,50,000 is that on all the canals the collection of water-rates and the navigation receipts and on the Midnapore Canal the miscellaneous receipts are expected to exceed the budget. The actual receipts during 1896-97 were Rs. 19,09,613, of which the sum of Rs. 13,05,121 was from water rates only. The budget estimate for 1898 99 is Rs. 17,02,000.

25. Civil Works.—The estimate of receipts in charge of the Public Works Department is Rs. 1,93,000, which is the same as the budget estimate for 1897-98. The actuals in 1896-97 were Rs. 2,71,369, but they included Rs. 36,507, being profits of the Calcutta Workshops, and Rs. 63,649, being the Government share of the surplus profits of Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway for the year ending 30th June 1896. The estimate of receipts from works in charge of the Civil Department is Rs. 2,58,000, and Rs. 11,000 for rent of staging bungalows, which are credited under this head from 1897-98 instead of under the head Miscellaneous as heretofore.

Expenditure.

26. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1898-99 is estimated at Rs. 1,78,000, against Rs. 1,73,000, the revised estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 1,86,744, the actuals of 1896-97. The actuals for 1896-97 included some special payments in the district of Faridpur to claimants of mesne profits which had been credited to Government under Land Revenue Larger provision has been made under Stamps owing to the anticipated increase in revenue.

27. Land Revenue.—The total Provincial expenditure for 1897-98 was originally estimated at Rs. 45,71,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 43,85,000, owing to partition fees having been adjusted, under the orders of the Comptroller-General, in reduction of charges, instead of being credited to Miscellaneous, as heretofore. The excess expenditure under the head of grain compensation allowance has been counterbalanced by savings due to lower rate of exchange compensation allowance. The estimate for 1898-99 is Rs. 40,48,000, which includes a provision of Rs. 4,65,000 for Survey and Settlement charges, against Rs. 8,06,000 provided for in the budget for 1897-98. The following are the details of the charges under these heads for 1898-99:—

	Surveys.	Settlements.	Total.
1	2	3	4
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Orissa, including Khurda	......	3,40,792	3,40,792
Chittagong	......	43,359	43,359
Backergunge	......	14,390	14,390
Gaya	......	1,000	1,000
Noakhali	3,300	12,000	15,300
Ghatwali lands, Bankura ..	......	10,161	10,161
Petty settlements	......	40,000	40,000
Total ...	3,300	4,61,702	4,65,002 or 4,65,000 in round numbers.

Against this reduction larger grants have been made for agricultural and sanitary improvements in Government estates.

28. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1898-99 is estimated at Rs. 6,92,000, against Rs. 6,69,000, the revised estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 6,96,420, the actuals of 1896-97. The estimate for 1898-99 includes a provision of Rs. 15,000 for the supply of uniforms to the Excise Detective staff and for the strengthening of that staff in Bihar in case it is decided to introduce the system of tree-tax on toddy trees. The actuals of 1896-97 included charges for the construction and repairs of distillery buildings which have now been transferred to the Public Works Department.

29. Provincial Rates.—The Provincial expenditure for 1897-98 was originally estimated at Rs. 1,19,000, against Rs. 74,204, the actuals of 1896-97. It was intended to revise the arrangement sanctioned in 1879, under which the Government cost of collecting the cess was fixed once for all at Rs. 48,000, which was equivalent to one-third of the cost as it then stood, and the balance was made payable by the District Funds. In settling the terms of the new contract, the Government of India were asked to make an assignment so that the Government share might be fixed at a sum equal to one-third of the cost actually incurred in 1896-97. But that Government was unable to make any assignment on this account; and in view of the diminished resources of this Government, it has been decided to defer sanction to the contemplated change for the present. The revised estimate under this head has now been reduced from Rs. 1,19,000 to Rs. 60,000, and the estimate for 1898-99 has been placed at Rs. 59,000.

30. Forests.—The budget grant for 1898-99 is Rs. 5,55,000, against Rs. 7,07,000 and Rs. 6,25,000, the budget and revised estimates for 1897-98 respectively. Rupees 82,000 have been provided for in 1898-99 for Roads and Building (including Rs. 6,000 for a portable tramway in the Darjeeling Division, and Rs. 14,000 for the construction of two head-quarters bungalows, works which had to be deferred in 1897-98). The increased provision in the budget for 1898-99 is also due to the fact that the reorganization scheme will now be fully worked up to, and that the vacancies in the class of Extra Assistant Conservators will be filled up.

31. Registration.—The estimate for 1898-99 is Rs. 8,87,000, against Rs. 8,73,000, the budget estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 8,52,358, the actuals of 1896-97. The increase is chiefly due to larger provision for commission to Rural Sub-Registrars and remuneration to copyists and section-writers.

32. General Administration.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1897-98 was originally estimated at Rs. 17,28,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 17,02,000. The reduction is nominal and is due to the audit fees recovered from Incorporated Local Funds having been adjusted in reduction of charges under the sub-head "Civil Offices of Accounts and Audit" instead of being credited to the head "Miscellaneous." The estimate for 1898-99 has been placed at Rs. 17,24,000, and includes a provision of Rs. 40,000 for the construction of a new steamer for the Commissioner of Chittagong, as the old one has become unserviceable.

33. Law and Justice—Criminal Courts.—The original estimate of expenditure for 1897-98 was Rs. 89,42,000, against Rs. 89,53,640, the actuals of 1896-97. The compensation for dearness of provisions, debited to this head in 1897-98, will probably amount to Rs. 1,32,000, and the estimate of total expenditure has been raised to Rs. 90,60,000 in the revised estimate of the year. The estimate for 1898-99 is Rs. 89,73,000, and includes larger provision for fees to pleaders in criminal cases and for process-serving charges.

34. Jails.—The estimate for 1898-99 amounts to Rs. 23,50,000, against Rs. 25,00,000, the revised estimate for 1897-98, and Rs. 25,91,572, the actuals of 1896-97. Both the revised estimate for 1897-98 and the actuals of 1896-97 included larger grants for dieting charges consequent on the rise of the price of food-grains. In the estimates for 1898-99 a provision of Rs. 7,00,000 has been made for the purchase of raw materials, against Rs. 6,50,000 provided for in the estimates for 1897-98 and Rs. 7,75,626, the actuals of 1896-97.

35. Police.—The following table compares the estimates of expenditure under this head:—

	Actuals, 1896-97.	Estimates, 1897-98.	Revised estimates, 1897-98.	Estimate, 1898-99.

Deduct for rounding ...				500
Total ...	62,19,099	61,18,000	63,62,000	58,97,000

The original estimate of expenditure for 1897-98 amounted to Rs. 61,18,000, against Rs. 62,19,099, the actuals of 1896-97. The revised estimate has been raised to Rs. 63,62,000 in order to provide for Rs. 2,70,000 on account of grain compensation allowance for dearness of provision. The decrease in the budget for 1898-99 as compared with the revised estimate for 1897 98 is due chiefly to no expenditure being anticipated that year on account of grain compensation allowance, and to the transfer of the South Lushai Hills Police to the Assam Administration from the 1st April 1898. Under Village Police provision has been made for the introduction of the Village Police system into Orissa under Act VI (B.C.) of 1870. Under District Executive Force provision has been made for the substitution of Sub-Inspectors for head-constables, in accordance with the recommendation of the Police Commission, for temporary police force required in connection with the various Plague Camps, and for additional police sanctioned in the Serampore subdivision of the Hooghly district and in the district of Backergunge. Provision has also been made for the revision of boat establishment and allowances in Backergunge sanctioned as a tentative measure.

36. Marine.—The estimate for 1898-99 is Rs. 8,91,000 against Rs. 9,11,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1897-98. The decrease is under 'Pilotage and Pilot Establishment," the expenditure under which varies according to the number and tonnage of vessels visiting the ports. A provision of Rs. 12,000 has been made for a light for the Kutubdia light-house at Chittagong to be indented for from England.

37. Education.—The total expenditure for 1898-99 has been estimated at Rs. 28,97,000 against Rs. 27,46,000, the sanctioned grant, and Rs. 27,80,000, the revised estimate for 1897-98. The increase is due to (1) the reorganization of the Educational Service; (2) the appointment of two additional Inspectors and of two Sub-Inspectors; (3) the large provision made for boarding charges in the Kurseong Boys' Boarding School; (4) the opening of a new boarding school for girls at Kurseong; (5) the provision for boarding charges of the Eden Hindu Hostel, a corresponding entry being made on the receipt side; (6) the examination charges of schools under the control of the Inspector of European Schools; and (7) larger expenditure on grants for the encouragement of literature and other purposes. The provision for the Agricultural class of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, and for apparatus for the mining course has been repeated.

38. Medical.—The estimate for 1898-99 shows an increase of Rs. 52,000 over the charges originally sanctioned for 1897-98, of which Rs. 50,000 are due to the provision for the prevention of plague. On the other hand the revised estimate for 1897-98 has been raised to Rs. 19,58,000 so as to provide a lakh and-a-half on account of the above expenditure, while savings are anticipated under the head of salaries of medical men owing to the deputation of several medical officers to military and famine duty.

39. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—There is an increase of Rs. 10,000 as compared with the budget for 1897-98 which is explained by the increase under "Veterinary Charges" owing to the increase in the pay of lecturers, employment of additional establishment and provision for boarding charges of the students in the hostel attached to the school. The small differences under other subheads do not call for special remarks.

40. Miscellaneous.—The estimate for 1898-99 is Rs. 19,000 less than the budget for 1897-98. The decrease is due to no provision having been made for special Commissions of enquiry and also to the transfer of the charges for staging bungalows to head "45—Civil Works."

41. Irrigation Major Works.—Under the category of Major Works are included the Orissa Canals, the Midnapore Canal, the Hidjili Tidal Canal, and the Sone Canals, the outlay for the construction and extension of all which has for the most part been advanced from the Imperial Treasury, while the Provincial Government, which gets all the receipts from these works, is responsible for the maintenance of them and for the payment of interest on the capital invested on them. The total grant for working expenses for 1898-99 is Rs. 13,67,000 against Rs. 14,46,000, the budget grant for 1897-98, and Rs. 13,60,000, the revised estimate for the year, as shown below:—

	Budget estimate, 1897-98.	Revised estimate, 1897-98.	Estimate, 1898-99.
1	2	3	4
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Orissa Canals	5,67,000	4,90,000	4,63,000
Midnapore Canal	2,59,000	2,36,000	2,59,000
Hidjili Tidal Canal	55,000	46,000	61,000
Sone Canals	5,65,000	5,88,000	5,84,000
Total ...	14,46,000	13,60,000	13,67,000

The decrease in the revised estimate for 1897-98 is due to the reduction of the grants for the Orissa, Midnapore and Hidjili Canals against a small addition of Rs. 23,000 to the grant for Sone Canals. The amount of Interest on debt varies with the amount outstanding from time to time.

42. Irrigation Minor Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The revised estimate for 1897-98 is Rs. 17,44,000 against the budget estimate of Rs. 15,25,000. The increase is mainly due to the additional grants (1) of Rs. 1,05,000 sanctioned to meet the transfer of the stock of the Dehri Workshops from "49—Imperial" to this head; (2) of Rs. 30,000 for the repairs to the Kutubdia embankments in Chittagong damaged by the cyclone; (3) of Rs. 30,000 sanctioned for repairs to embankments in the South-Western Circle and other works; and (4) of Rs. 54,000 transferred from 42—Major Works to meet increased charges for capital expenditure on Orissa and Calcutta and Eastern Canals. The budget estimate of total expenditure for 1898-99 is Rs. 14,83,000 against Rs. 15,25,000 for 1897-98. The estimate for 1898-99 includes an assignment of Rs. 1,36,800 under Calcutta and Eastern Canals for the Bhangore khal improvement project against Rs. 3,78,000 in 1897-98. The variations under other heads are shown in detail in Appendix B.

43. Civil Works.—The expenditure in charge of the Public Works Department has been greatly reduced owing to the reduction of the Provincial balance. The allotment includes the following grants for original works:—

	Rs.
Reconstructing the Collector's cutchery with subsidiary buildings at Bogra	25,000
Reconstruction of the Collectorate buildings at Rangpur damaged by the earthquake	55,750
Reconstruction of the cutcheries at Dacca and Mymensingh damaged by the earthquake	1,80,000
Reconstruction of the Judge's Court buildings at Rangpur damaged by the earthquake	25,000

Ditto a subdivisional Court-house at Gaibanda ...	15,000
Ditto a subdivisional residence at Serampore ...	20,000
Ditto a central ganja golah at Nowgong	20,000
Ditto a parsonage for St. John's Church at Calcutta ...	20,000

Bridge on 44th mile of the road from Ranchi to Purulia ...	18,000
Constructing roads in the Duars	50,000

No funds have been provided in the budget for the construction of the European General Hospital, Calcutta, as there is no balance available from the Provincial grant for Public Works. The Government of India have, however, promised to provide a sum of 3 lakhs on account of this work in the Imperial Civil Works Budget for 1898-99.

CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY moved that the Bill to amend the law relating to the Municipal affairs of the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta, and to authorize the extension of the same to the town of Howrah, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Rai Durga Gati Banerjea, Bahadur, the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham, the Hon'ble Mr. Buckley, the Hon'ble Sahibzada Mahomed Bakhtyar Shah, the Hon'ble Mr. Turner, the Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen, the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, the Hon'ble Mr. Spink and the Mover.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRA NATH SEN said:—"When asking for leave to introduce the present Bill in Council, the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, with a view to explain the necessity for an amendment of Act II of 1888, pointed out how during the nine years the Act has been in force 'it has given rise to more doubt and difficulty as to its construction and operation than any Act that has been passed by this Council. It has been condemned on material points by the courts, by the many learned Counsel who have advised on its interpretation, and by most of the officers who have had to do with its working.' So far, there is hardly any difference of opinion, and I am prepared to give my cordial support to a Bill which seeks to remove the uncertainties and supply the deficiencies of the Act, and to give the Corporation and the Calcutta public, in its place, a well-considered and effective Code with clear and unambiguous provisions.

"I regret, however, that the present Bill goes much further, and seeks to introduce radical changes in the constitution of the Municipality which are of a distinctly retrograde character, and entirely subversive of the principles of Local Self-Government in the Municipal Administration of Calcutta.

"In fact, Sir, I do not think that a measure of a more reactionary and revolutionary character has ever been introduced in this Council, and not only the Indian rate-payers of this city, but also all Indian inhabitants outside the limits of Calcutta, have been struck with dismay and consternation, and there is quite a panic among them. I am not in the least exaggerating the popular feeling on the subject. With all the pains that the Executive Government has taken to find a plea for the justification of its action in moving the Legislature in this matter, I submit, Sir, that not a shadow of a case has been made out against the Calcutta Municipal Corporation for striking a blow at its constitutional independence. So far as the principle of the Bill is concerned, I may be pardoned for characterising the measure as a great mistake. It is unnecessary, unjust, and uncalled-for. Nearly fifteen months have been spent in rummaging the old records of the Corporation to justify the present legislation. The plague, which is answerable for many of the ills from which India has been suffering for nearly two years, came in, in time, to strengthen the hands of the Government. And here we are now in the midst of a crisis, such as has not visited Calcutta during the whole period of its municipal history. There would have been some intelligent reason for the proposed measure if it had been preceded by a visible deterioration of health or an exceptional kind of unhealthiness in the city, or by a well-grounded agitation against the administration of our municipal affairs. But we see no such thing. The present Bill is introduced on the mere assumption that 'Calcutta is in a terribly insanitary condition.'

"At the present stage of the Bill, I have no intention to make any reference to the details of the measure, some of which are open to grave objection, and will prove greatly oppressive to the rate-payers. These are matters which can more fitly, and with greater advantage, be discussed at a later stage.

"Originally the town was divided into a small number of wards. Each ward elected its own Commissioner, who received a monthly salary of Rs. 250. The elected Commissioners, generally one European and three Indians, took their morning rounds daily to satisfy themselves of the condition of the roads and drains. This system was replaced by a Government triumvirate, consisting of the Commissioner of Police as Chairman, the Surveyor-General of Calcutta, and a whole-time Vice-Chairman who conducted the Municipal Administration of the city up to the year 1863, when the Corporation was constituted under a body of Justices, appointed by Government In 1876 the Corporation was reconstituted on an elective basis, two-thirds of its members being elected by the rate-payers, and the remaining third being nominated direct by Government. In the legislation of 1888, the proportion of Commissioners, elected by the rate-payers, remained the same, but the Government conceded to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Calcutta Trades' Association and the Port Commissioners the privilege of electing two-fifths of the one-third to be nominated by Government.

"The success of the elective system, introduced in 1876, was made the basis for demanding an extension of the elective element in the Corporation, when the present Act was before the Council, for giving the Commissioners a voice in the appointment and removal of their Chairman, and for larger powers and greater independence in other matters, and although all the privileges asked for were not granted, some substantial concessions were made, and, among other things, the privilege of fixing the pay of the Chairman within certain limits, as also of demanding his removal from office, was granted to the Commissioners. On the whole, the policy of the Legislature in this matter has been liberal and progressive.

"During the last twenty-one years or so that the present system of Municipal Government has been in force, immense improvements in various directions have been carried out; the old complaint of chronic financial embarrassment has entirely disappeared under the wise and judicious administration of the Commissioners, and in spite of the enormous outlay on works of improvement and the extension of the drainage system and of water-supply, both filtered and unfiltered, the finances of the Corporation during the last few years have never been in a more prosperous state, nor did its credit ever stand any higher than in the last few years.

"It is very much to be regretted that just at the very time, when the system of Municipal Self-Government in Calcutta has been working smoothly and efficiently, and when the successful result of its working has shown itself in various directions, that this most objectionable legislative measure should be introduced in this Council. Authoritative testimony has been concurrent as to the good work, done by the Corporation under the present elective system. It is useless for me to refer to the decided testimony, borne by the Sanitary Commission, appointed under Section 28 of Act IV (B. C.) of 1876 to enquire into certain matters connected with the sanitation of Calcutta, that 'real and solid progress has been made' by the Corporation in the path of sanitary improvement; or to what was said by Dr. Kenneth Macleod some years ago, that 'to sight and sense Calcutta has, within living memory, undergone a revolution,' and that the policy of the Corporation has been attended with 'gradual and progressive reform.' I am afraid, that the initiation of the present measure is due more to a misapprehension of the actual state of things than to anything else, for it is well known to those who can speak from personal knowledge and experience that the truth is, that if the Municipal Government has in this city suffered now and then, it is because of the apathy and negligence of the Executive. Many of the shortcomings of the Corporation, as set forth in the letter of the Government of Bengal, dated the 7th March, 1898, to the Government of India, rightly belong to the Municipal Executive, but they are sought to be laid on wrong shoulders. I think, Sir, that it is not right to make the Corporation responsible for any imperfections, unless it is empowered to appoint and remove its executive officers. At present it is impotent, in many instances, to enforce its orders. The Commissioners are now unjustly held responsible for what is the result of the insouciance or negligence of their executive officers. In many instances, the executive officers require watching and control, so that they may be kept up to the work. Already the Municipal Executive possess large powers, and it is not at all desirable that those powers should be increased still further. And yet the Bill seeks to throw larger powers into the hands of the Executive. This is the most objectionable feature in the Bill, and I strongly protest against it. The powers, possessed by the Executive, are so large indeed, that some of the former Chairmen of the Corporation were looked upon as nothing short of autocrats. When the existing Act was passing through the Council, there was great opposition to the proposed enlargement of the powers of the Executive. For the proper working of the Corporation, it is desirable that its executive officers should be made as little independent of it as possible, except in the matter of details.

"The irregular proceedings of the Municipal Executive in many matters have become a bye-word among the inhabitants of this city. The Executive have failed repeatedly in the discharge of their most important duties, and to place larger powers in their hands would be most dangerous. Indeed, I contend that the Executive have not shown that they are fit to be entrusted with still more extensive powers. It is a vicious system which obtains in Calcutta to combine administrative, executive, and deliberative functions in one and the same person, who happens to be the head of the Municipal Executive, when such person is answerable to the Commissioners for many things, done by him in his executive capacity. Such a system does not exist at least in Bombay. It is a strange anomaly that the Calcutta Municipal Chairman should be allowed to preside over meetings, called to judge of the shortcomings of the executive officers, of which he is the head. The Municipal Commissioners in consequence not unoften feel powerless to cope with many evils. No city probably suffered more from giving extensive powers to the head of the Municipal Executive as Bombay before 1872. 'Before that time,' to quote the words of Maclean's Guide to Bombay for the current year, 'the municipal administration had been conducted by a Commissioner and the Bench of Justices; but the powers of the Commissioner were so extensive that he became practically irresponsible, and though he did excellent service to Bombay, he expended the rate-payers' money so lavishly, that in 1871 something like a popular revolution was accomplished, and the Government felt itself compelled to create a new municipality in which the rate-payers themselves should by their representatives have an authoritative voice.' The instance of Bombay, I think, ought to be a sufficient warning to Calcutta, and to put us upon our guard against the abuses which always result from absolutism. For, practically, the Bill gives absolute powers to the Municipal Chairman, subject to the control of what I should call a packed General Committee of twelve members. If the Bill be passed into law, we shall simply revert to the 'good old rule, the simple plan' of absolutism, which prevailed in Bombay at one time, and proved the ruin of that city. I cannot too much dwell on the magnitude of the injustice of extending the large powers, already possessed by the Executive, when such powers have shown a frequent liability to be abused.

"The Commissioners, as a body, and also individually here and there, have probably many shortcomings to answer for, but their worst enemies cannot deny that theirs is a record of work which any body of administrators may very well look back upon with pride and satisfaction. On the whole, I maintain that the Commissioners have deserved well of Government and the Calcutta public, for the success of their administration, which is in no small measure due to the time and energy, devoted by individual Commissioners, unstintingly and ungrudgingly, and in many cases at considerable personal sacrifice, towards the work of the town. One might naturally have expected that when this Council next undertook the revision of the existing Act, it would show its appreciation of the work, done by the Corporation, by an extension of the principles of Self-Government both in the constitution of the Corporation and in the powers conferred upon it. It is sad and disheartening to find that the Government has come forward with condemnation of the Commissioners, instead of thanks, and with proposals to practically destroy self-government instead of extending it.

"The Bill treats, I am sorry to find, with scant courtesy that element in the Corporation which has hitherto been the most predominant and most useful element in it, and which has contributed so greatly to the success of Municipal Self-Government in Calcutta, and made it more a reality than a name. What has it done, that it should be practically kept out of the proposed General Committee of 12, and why should that particular element, which has hitherto done the least for the Corporation or for the rate-payers, be allowed to have a potential voice in the deliberations of the General Committee? One of the most magnificent boons that England has conferred upon India is Local Self-Government, and since its introduction into this city, the Indians have shown themselves to be in earnest in exercising fully and freely all rights of citizenship, accorded to them by law, and in making municipal institutions a reality in Calcutta. Whether in Bombay or in Calcutta, the Europeans have not cared to trouble themselves much about municipal affairs, or to take ordinary pains even to be represented on the Corporation. Not only have the European wards failed to return to the Corporation European Commissioners to represent their interests, but some of these wards have even sometimes failed to elect any Commissioners at all; and in such cases the Government has stepped in, and by reason of default on the part of those wards, nominated, under the law, fit persons to represent them, at the expiration of the time, allowed by the Act. I distinctly remember one such instance in which about 17 years ago, Dr. Cayley and my friend, Maulvi Mohamed Yusuf, Khan Bahadur, were nominated by Government to seats on the Municipal Board by reason of default on the part of wards Nos. 15 and 16. I do not know, Sir, on what principle of justice such treatment, as is contemplated by the Bill, should be meted out to the Indians who have done so much to further the cause of Municipal Self-Government in Calcutta. If the Europeans have not been such a strong element in the Corporation, it is their own fault. If they have been in a minority, there is no help for it. And what the Bill in effect seeks is to enable a minority to control a majority. If the voters of Calcutta have elected so many Hindu Commissioners, it is because they have preferred them to others, and it is because the Hindus form numerically the largest ratio of the population, that is over two-thirds of it. It is better by far that the semblance of free institutions we have got in Calcutta should be altogether swept away than that there should be such legislative interference as to restrain and hamper the elective system so much. People look upon the present measure as a sort of class legislation, trying to introduce the domination of a minority over a vast majority, though the minority may have no abiding interest in the city. No one would deny the importance of the commercial and trading interests, so far as the municipal administration of Calcutta is concerned. The Indian Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta have been always too glad of the help and co-operation of their European colleagues. The energy and zeal of some of the European Commissioners have contributed much to the sanitary improvement of the city, and to the merciless exposure of many irregularities of the Executive. The obligations of the Indian inhabitants of Calcutta to the local non-official European community are as great as they are numerous. Whatever of political life the Indian inhabitants of this city have acquired, they owe chiefly to their non-official European fellow-subjects. They know, too, that they can carry out many municipal reforms effectually and promptly with the assistance of their European friends. But it is their misfortune that they have fallen upon evil times, that they do not often get such assistance as they did in the past. The fact is that the present generation of non-official Europeans are too much engaged in their own business to be able to give any portion of their time and attention to public affairs. These are days of keen competition in the commercial and trading world. The Bill proposes to tempt them from their work by offering a fee of Rs. 32 for attendance at each meeting of the General Committee. But this will hardly be a sufficient inducement to the higher class of Europeans. And so the proposed measure will fail in its object in this respect, while it will have the appearance of importing a race question, for the obvious object of the measure is to break the preponderance of the Hindu element in the Corporation. I know, that the great sin of the Corporation is its Hindu majority, and, however useful work the elected Hindu Commissioners may have done since the year 1876, they are at present the best abused men in the city, for whom no sneer or ridicule is too bitter or scathing.

"The present Bill seeks to reduce the Corporation to a nullity by depriving it of all powers of control which it has exercised during all those years, to the eminent advantage of the administration, while it concentrates all powers in the Executive and a committee of twelve, on which the representatives of the rate-payers would be in a standing and hopeless minority, and makes them to a certain extent independent of each other, and answerable to none. Nothing can be surer than this, that if the Bill be passed into law in its present shape, the popular element in the administration of the town, with all its safeguards against Executive high-handedness and extravagance, would entirely disappear, and give place to a system of administration which would be a curious admixture of despotism and oligarchy with all the attendant dangers of both.

"The explanation of the attitude, taken up by Government in this matter, was shadowed forth in your speech, Sir, at the opening of the current session, and has since been given in an amplified form in the speech of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, when asking for leave to introduce it in Council, and in the published correspondence between the Governments of India and Bengal on the subject of the present Bill.

"From an examination of these, it appears that, in the opinion of the Government of Bengal, the Municipality has no constitution, that 'everything is fluid and indefinite;' that it is 'impossible to say in what part of the system the Executive resides, or indeed whether there is any Executive at all'; that there was 'a complete breakdown of the conservancy of the town at a critical period' (referring obviously to the autumn of 1896, when the plague first appeared in Bombay), 'and serious confusion in many other departments of the municipal administration without the possibility of determining with any approach to certainty where the responsibility for such a state of things lies.'

"The proposed remedy for all these evils is to define the powers of the Executive, which means to vest in the Chairman almost all powers which under the express provisions of the present Act the Chairman can exercise on behalf of the Commissioners, subject to the possibility of their revision and control, and thus make him accountable to no one; and others, including almost all those which, under the present Act, are reserved to the Commissioners-in-meeting, in a Committee of 12, of which two-thirds would be nominated by Government, and by the European mercantile and trading community, and the Port Commissioners, while only the remaining third will represent the rate-payers. Leaving out the general body of the Corporation which, if the present Bill be passed into law, would be of no account, this Committee of 12 would, for all practical purposes, be the governing body, and supply the place, occupied by the general body of the Corporation under the present Act; and by this Bill it is now sought to reduce the proportion of elected members from two-thirds to one-third, and increase the proportion of the nominated Commissioners from one-third to two-thirds.

"Now, let us examine the position a little carefully. Under the present Act, the Chairman has certain powers reserved to him. Certain powers are vested in the Commissioners, and certain powers are reserved to the Commissioners-in-meeting. Under the express provisions of law, all powers, vested in the Commissioners, can be exercised by the Chairman.

"But he cannot act in opposition to, or in contravention of, any orders, passed by the Commissioners-in-meeting, and if any order, already passed by him, is brought before a Meeting, and modified or disapproved, he has to modify or cancel his action accordingly.

"The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill sums up these provisions in the following words:—'The Chairman, as such, has virtually no powers under the Act. Whatever he does, he does on sufferance with the knowledge that the power he has ventured to use, may be withdrawn from him by a Resolution, or that the action which he has presumed to take may be upset with retrospective effect,' and suggests by implication that if in these circumstances the Chairman is apathetic or inactive, he has good reasons on his side. Now, I maintain that this is not a fair summary of the situation at all. This would practically amount to saying that a person cannot exercise any powers, unless he is to be made absolutely unaccountable to any one. Such a proposition would be preposterous. Where are the grounds for assuming that the Commissioners are a set of perverse men, who cannot be trusted with powers of control with judicious discretion? Where are the instances of reckless and irresponsible exercise of the powers of control, and in the face of the protests of the Chairman?

"Far better it would be for the rate-payers and residents of the town that the Municipality should be administered as a department of Government as it was before 1863, rather than its government should be made over to a handful of men, accountable to no one for their actions.

"The present Act has been in force for nine years. There have been three Chairmen during the first seven years of this period—the late Sir Henry Harrison, the late Mr. Harry Lee and Mr. Ritchie. Not one of them ever complained of the reckless interference of the Commissioners, so as to seriously hamper executive action. They worked with the Commissioners generally in a spirit of harmony, and there was no complaint. During the next two years there have been two Chairmen—Mr. Williams and Mr. Bright. Neither of them was sufficiently long at the head of affairs to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the work. Moreover, they were both in indifferent health, and have been obliged to go on furlough within a short time of their appointments to the office on the score of failing health, and if these gentlemen or any of them have thought fit to complain of the undue interference of the Commissioners, such complaints ought to be rated at their proper value, and not allowed to override the opinion of equally able, if not abler, men, who have been longer connected with the administration of the Municipality.

"The next point which requires consideration, is what has been said about the breakdown of the conservancy of the town at a critical moment, and the existence of serious confusion in many other departments of the municipal administration without the possibility of determining where the responsibility lies. With the utmost deference to your opinion, Sir, I would submit that it would be quite possible to fix the responsibility on proper investigation, and I am strongly of opinion that in justice to the Commissioners, as well as in the best interests of the town, such an investigation ought to have preceded any legislation for providing a remedy for the state of things referred to by Government in this Council. It is my duty to tell you, Sir, with the utmost emphasis at my command, that there is a very strong feeling among the Commissioners that they have been condemned unheard.

"Without alluding in detail to the different departments in which confusion is said to have prevailed, I need only say that, in the absence of any proof to the contrary, it is obviously the Executive alone which must be held responsible for such confusion. To the credit of the Commissioners, it should be said, and borne in mind, that it was mainly through their efforts, and sometimes, in spite of the obstructiveness of the Executive, that attention has from time to time been drawn to irregularities and malpractices in different departments of the Corporation. It was the Commissioners who unearthed the irregularities in the Collector's Department and in the License Department many years ago, and reorganised those departments. In recent years, the irregularities and malpractices in the Workshops, and in the Warrant Department, have been brought to light, through the exertion of the Commissioners, and even at the present moment, a strong Committee is now engaged in making enquiries with reference to certain allegations which, if substantiated, would prove that serious irregularities, if nothing worse, have prevailed in one of the spending departments of the Municipality, involving heavy loss of rate-payers' money. The executive heads naturally dislike enquiries by Committees, as when irregularities and malpractices are eventually established, they indirectly reflect on the want of proper supervision by the executive heads. As I have already said, instances are not rare in which the Executive have supplied the brake-power, and the Commissioners had to supply the motive-power, in bringing departmental irregularities and malpractices to light.

"With reference to the neglected state of the conservancy, I would merely draw attention to some of Dr. Banks' reports. He removed 14 tons of refuse from one privy in Harrison Road, and he reported that another privy in Burtola Street was full of night-soil, and choked by 50 old shoes. This proves that the Commissioners were perfectly justified in their reiterated complaint that the Health Officer and his supervising staff were not doing their duties, and that the Executive required a rude awakening and stricter interference from the Commissioners.

"Dr. Banks reported that some of the night-soil depôts were in bad repair, and that in one of them, the floor was completely broken up. This proves that the Executive failed in attending to what was urgently required for the purposes of sanitation.

"If, as Dr. Banks reported, the refuse-carts are so badly constructed that the bullocks and ponies are needlessly knocked about, the Executive alone can be considered at fault. If the surface drains are badly aligned, and if the Conservancy Department throw urine from cowsheds into drains, instead of emptying it into the sewers, the inevitable conclusion ought to be that the Executive are inefficient, unless it can be shown that the Commissioners prevented them from doing their duties.

"As regards the construction of insanitary buildings, it is an open secret that the Executive, instead of taking vigorous steps as soon as the construction of such a building is commenced, defer taking any action till it is too late. It is a fact that the Commissioners on several occasions ordered the demolition of houses, constructed in contravention of the existing building regulations. Is it not worth enquiring why the Resolutions of the Commissioners were not carried into effect? Only two explanations are possible. Either the building regulations are bad and unworkable, or the Executive are inefficient. If the Building Committee, in a few cases, permitted slight deviations from the bye-laws, and sanctioned plans, they dwindle into insignificance before the deviations taken no notice of, or permitted by the Executive.

"On the first alarm of the plague in Bombay reaching Calcutta, the Commissioners at once placed the sum of Rs. 3,000 at the disposal of their Health Officer for the adoption of precautionary measures against the plague—vide Proceedings of the 26th Meeting of the General Committee held on 25th September, 1896. At the same time, the Commissioners requested the Health Officer to pay daily visits to different parts of the town instead of three visits in the week, and to issue strict orders to his subordinates to pay particular attention to the cleansing of the town. The Commissioners did more. In addition to this, they individually visited different parts of the town with the Acting Chairman to see how the work was going on. At their next meeting, held on the 28th September, 1896, the Health Officer asked for an allotment of Rs. 36,000 for six months and Rs. 6,000 for the cleansing of certain filthy parts of the town, and for the adoption of precautionary measures against the plague. The Commissioners immediately consented to vote a grant for the extra carts and coolies required, but declined to appoint any Medical Inspector or Chief Superintendent on Rs. 1,000 a month, since they contended that the Health Officer with his existing supervising staff ought to be able to do the work. Eventually, at a special meeting of the General Committee, held on the 5th October, 1896, the proposal of the Health Officer to entertain a certain number of additional Medical Inspectors was sanctioned, and it was decided to apply to Government for the services of an officer on a pay, not exceeding Rs. 1,000 a month, for three months, to superintend the cleansing of the town, and introduce a system of organisation, under which the town would get the fullest benefit of the amount spent on its conservancy, it being the general opinion that through the incompetency of the Executive in the Health Department, the Commissioners did not get sufficient work out of the men employed.

"Besides this, the Commissioners granted Rs. 1,000 for sewer flushing, Rs. 31,449 for the construction of flushing chambers in ward No. 2, and Rs. 1,221 for connecting the bathing platforms with the filtered water-supply, with a view to relieve the unfiltered water-supply for sewer flushing.

"The following passage is an extract from the letter of the Government of Bengal, dated 7th March, 1898:—'Although on the 30th November, the Medical Board addressed to the Corporation a number of specific recommendations for the cleansing of the city, it was not till the 22nd of January, and then under the strongest pressure from Government and the Medical Board, that they sanctioned a grant of Rs. 30,000 towards a further temporary establishment for cleaning up the town.' Nothing could be more unfair to the Commissioners than this. The Commissioners had long before this resolved on spending any reasonable amount of money for thoroughly cleaning up the town, and it was entirely due to the Executive that a definite scheme was not laid before the Commissioners until January, 1897.

"The Bengal Chamber of Commerce have a potent voice in the Corporation, if they only choose to exercise it. They have in their individual capacity a large property vote, and besides have the privilege of sending four representatives directly to the Municipal Board. The representations of the Chamber, whether made directly by them or through their representatives, have always received the respectful and prompt attention of the Commissioners.

"I would here take the liberty of quoting the opinion of a European gentleman who has sat on the Municipal Board ever since the present Act came into operation, as a representative of the Calcutta Trades Association:—'It is taken for granted that because we, European Commissioners, are in the minority that we can do nothing, and that in any attempt at reform, we are outvoted and sat upon by an overwhelming majority. This is not my experience; and I have been a Commissioner for seven years, and I can honestly say, and I feel it my duty to say, that in all my attempts at improvement in the special subject I have taken in hand, I have received the readiest assistance, and no opposition from the natives, but the difficulties I have been confronted with have always been from the Executive. Improvements have been initiated, passed without opposition, funds found and voted, and yet owing to the ineptitude of the Executive, nothing has been done.'

"The weakest part of the Bill is that it makes an indirect attempt to undermine the independence of the Corporation, and to reduce it to a non-entity. It deals almost a death-blow at local self-government If self-government in Calcutta has failed, let it be abolished by all means. But while it lasts, its integrity and independence must be respected.

"Municipal self-government is an important political experiment in this country. Not many years ago, Her Majesty the Queen-Empress attached particular significance to the successful development of this movement, on which depends the chance of any further extension of the representative system of government in this country. The success of the experiment is now an admitted fact. To use some of the words and arguments of a Bombay petition from the municipal body of that city, submitted to Government some years ago, 'such general success is compatible with occasional blunders and miscarriages.' Municipal Corporations in India have been established in pursuance of a policy which aims at fostering habits of self-government among the people of this country. Habits of self government cannot be acquired or usefully exercised without freedom of action. The danger of a Municipality lies in its liability to too much interference of Government with its duties and responsibilities, however wholesome Government interference sometimes may be. Too much of such interference will deprive a Municipality of that independence, so essentially necessary to its successful working. Government should not be allowed to usurp the functions of Municipal bodies, except when they are proved to be wrong. This Bill is essentially opposed to the principle on which the Corporation is constituted. It is calculated to destroy the sense of trust and responsibility, reposed in the Commissioners. It will make the Corporation self-governing only in name. This Bill goes against some of the fundamental principles, enunciated in the Resolution of the Government of India on Local Self government, dated the 10th October, 1881. Some of these principles are:—

'The Governor-General in Council has no hesitation in stating his conviction that the only reasonable plan, open to the Government, is to induce the people themselves to undertake as far as may be the management of their own affairs, and to develope and create, if need be, a capacity for self-help in respect of all matters that have for imperial reasons to be retained in the hands of the representatives of Government.

'The non-official members must be led to feel that real power is placed in their hands, and that they have real responsibilities to discharge. It is doubtful whether they have, under present arrangements, any sufficient inducement to give up their time and attention to the transaction of public business.'

"In giving his qualified assent to the existing Act, Lord Ripon, as Viceroy of India, said:—

'Having regard to the great importance, attaching to the development of municipal and other similar institutions in India, it appears to the Governor-General most desirable to avoid as far as possible taking any step which may have the appearance of arresting the growth of such institutions or of unduly restricting their liberty of action.'

"In another place he remarked:—

'It must be remembered that the introduction of municipal institutions into India is only of comparatively recent date, and that even in England, where such institutions are of long growth, and are consonant with the habits of the people, many instances might be adduced from the records of Town Councils and other local bodies not only in the past, but also in the present day, of proceedings little, if at all less, open to criticism than the most noticeable of the cases which have given ground for complaint in this country.'

"The fate not only of the Calcutta Corporation, but the development also of local self-government in this country, will depend very much upon what ultimately awaits this Bill. I have no hesitation in saying that the Bill is a direct menace to the existence and extension of local self-government in this country.

"In the Statement of Objects and Reasons, appended to the Bill, we are told that it is sought to attain the ends of the Bill by reconstructing the existing Act more or less on the lines of the Bombay Municipal Act with certain material changes, &c. But it is most curious that while the Bill copies some of the sections of the Bombay Act, more or less important, it eschews altogether some of the redeeming features in the Bombay Municipal system. It would have been a decided gain to our city if the constitution of the Calcutta Corporation had been assimilated somewhat to that of the Bombay Corporation. The Standing Committee of the Bombay Corporation, corresponding to the General Committee of the Calcutta Corporation, has its own separate Chairman. It consists of 12 members, of whom 8 are appointed by the Corporation, and 4 by Government, the Chairman holding his office for a year only, and is elected by the members of the Committee. The Corporation has also its own separate Chairman, who also holds his office for a year, and is elected by the members of that body. The entire executive power and responsibility are vested, for a renewable term of three years, in the head of the Municipal Executive, who is known as the 'Municipal Commissioner of the City of Bombay.' He is entitled to be present at all the meetings of the Standing Committee and the Corporation, to take part in the discussions at those meetings, but he is not allowed to vote upon, or to move any Resolutions. The head of the Bombay Municipal Executive does not possess such uncontrolled authority as the Calcutta Municipal Chairman does. While the head of the Executive of the Bombay Municipality is not allowed to vote at any of its meetings, the Chairman of the Calcutta Municipality is allowed a casting vote, and also to move any Resolution he likes. The system is wrong in principle, and leads to much abuse. The Bill gives no power to the Calcutta Commissioners to elect their own Chairman, either of the General Committee or of the Corporation itself, while the Chairman is allowed to be the Chairman of the Corporation as well as of the General Committee, and to be at the same time the head of the Executive. If the Calcutta Chairman, therefore, is not an autocrat, I do not know who is. And yet the Bill seeks to make him a greater autocrat still! A more dangerous state of things can hardly be conceived, and the worst of it is that while the 72 Commissioners, of whom 50 are elected, are allowed to remain untouched, they will be all dummies excepting the fortunate twelve within the charmed circle of the General Committee. The elective system will remain only in name, while everything will be done by the Muncipal Chairman or rather Municipal autocrat, in the sacred name of that system! The General Committee will be a packed body altogether, for out of the 12 members, constituting the Committee, not 8, as in Bombay, but only 4 will be returned by the Corporation; and with the help of this packed body, the Chairman may at any time execute his sweet will and pleasure."

The Hon'ble Mr. Turner said:—"On behalf of the body which I have the honour to represent, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, I beg to express my entire satisfaction at the introduction of the Bill now under discussion which aims at the improvement and partial re-construction of the municipal body as it now exists in Calcutta, and I congratulate the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill on the very able, clear and exhaustive statement which he made on the occasion of introducing the measure into this Council. The Chamber of Commerce has addressed the Government of Bengal on the shortcomings of the Calcutta Municipality at various times, notably in July, 1895, September, 1896, and January, 1897. In July, 1895, the Secretary of the Chamber had occasion to call the attention of the Secretary to the Government of Bengal to the increase of fever of a typhoidal character throughout the city and the insanitary construction of the city generally. The letter also referred to the possible danger of, and the very serious consequences which would follow from, the introduction of plague into Calcutta which at the time had appeared slightly at Singapore. Mr. Clarke, the then Secretary, went on to say: 'The Committee have reason to believe that there is a very strong feeling on the part of a section of the community that efforts should be put forth by those responsible for the health of the city to grapple with its insanitary evil, and I am to say that as the Municipal Commissioners have failed to do so, the Committee consider the time has arrived when the Government of Bengal should lend its influence and help to recti y the state of affairs I have alluded to.' The attention of Government was also drawn to the terrible state of the trenching ground to the south of the city at Goragacha in the midst of the populous suburbs of Alipore, and the Committee appealed to Government to take action under the controlling section of Act II of 1888.

"In 1896, the Committee of the Chamber had again occasion to call the attention of the Local Government to the necessity for taking special precautions to prevent the importation of plague into Calcutta, a misfortune which the Committee considered was beyond the power or capacity of the Municipal Corporation to deal with.

"In January, 1897, the Secretary to the Chamber addressed a long communication to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department, dwelling earnestly on the very serious state of the city of Calcutta which was a source of danger and apprehension in the face of the plague existing in Bombay. The Committee referred to the report of the Medical Board, dated 28th October, 1896, on the sanitary condition of Calcutta, especially to the complaints of the bad working of the sewerage system of the city, the want of sufficient water for flushing drains, and the consequent tendency for the sewers to 'become elongated cess-pools.' The letter referred to the disgraceful condition in which certain portions of private houses were kept and the terrible state of insanitation which constituted a permanent and standing threat against the health of the inhabitants and the prosperity of the city. The Committee considered that the report called for more than the attention of the Municipal Commissioners, as the matter concerned not only the Government of Bengal, but the Supreme Government. They called upon the Government to consider the question of legislation for the improvement of the Municipal Act so as to make it more readily effective.

"As regards the question of the sanitation of Calcutta, I think it must be admitted by all parties that it is a matter which not merely concerns our Local or Imperial Government, but it is a matter of International importance. For some years past the attention of Foreign Powers has been directed towards the health of India. I remember some few years ago, when an outbreak of cholera occurred in Bombay, how certain Continental Powers at once took fright and issued stringent orders in regard to the quarantine of all vessels sailing from Bombay. The rules were strictly and rigidly enforced. After a time the former stringent restrictions against an ordinary epidemic, such as we look upon cholera in this country, were generally modified, but with the advent of plague to India, Foreign Powers have become more alive than ever to the necessity for watching carefully the sanitary condition of India as a whole. But as the Hon'ble Mr. Risley observed, Diplomacy and Science joined hands, and the famous Venice Convention of 1897 was an all-important result. Clear and absolute rules were drawn up in regard to the treatment of cargo and passengers arriving from infected ports. Disinfection and observation were substituted for quarantine, and the regulations agreed to were fair and reasonable. But a stricter watch than ever is kept on the sanitary condition of India, and it is therefore not only necessary, but the duty of Government to take such steps as will provide for an efficient and complete working of the municipal bodies in all Presidency towns. It is difficult, it is almost impossible, for us to realise what would be meant if plague appeared in Calcutta, and Foreign Powers blocked the importation of merchandise from Calcutta, Bombay and Kurrachee. It would mean that the foreign export trade of India would cease; disaster to the commercial classes would follow, and a financial crisis might have to be faced by the Government itself. Now I think it cannot be denied that in view of all this the commercial interest in Calcutta is not one to be disregarded. Further, I would remark that total value of imports into Calcutta amounts to no less than 38 crores per annum and our exports to 51 crores, so that the commercial class has surely a great and reasonable claim upon Government to have its representations considered, and also to have a reasonable share in the management of municipal matters in this great city.

"It has been urged in some of the Anglo-Vernacular papers that the present constitution of the municipality is a complete popular representation that enormously good work has been done in the past, multifarious improvements have taken place in the city by the construction of new roads, the opening of congested areas and bustee reclamations; and one particular journal goes on to say: 'the Commissioners are elected representatives of the people, who do their work from a sense of pure public spirit. But the head of the Government is not on their side, nor are the members of the Anglo-Indian community. And do you know what are the Commissioners for? It is to keep the Europeans in comfort and luxury at the cost of the general body of rate-payers. They, the Europeans, must have more water, more gas, wider and cleaner streets and better conservancy, all at the cost of the Indian tax-payer. In short, the Commissioners exist not to do duty to their constituents, but to pander to the convenience of the European community.' Now, Sir, if an educated journalist can write in this unfair and absurd manner of matters which vitally affect the city and the country at large, is it possible for us to convince him or his friends of the necessity for absolutely perfect sanitation and for improvements which no human being of ordinary intelligence can deny are sadly and urgently needed? It must be known that the supply of pure and filtered water is an enormous benefit to the people at large. It must be admitted that wider and cleaner streets and better conservancy must improve the health of the very humblest of the citizens of Calcutta. Europeans as a rule can get away from the dangers of insanitary Calcutta, but the poor people are obliged to remain and to suffer in silence from I will not say the incapacity but the indifference of their fellow-citizens, who comprise the majority of the Municipal Commissioners.

"Now I quite admit that some good work has been done in the past few years, although on some occasions it has taken years instead of months to work out matters of vital importance. I understand the drainage works which were commenced some two years ago were for seven years under consideration. Now I will undertake to say that had this matter been in the hands of a compact body of picked men, such as I hope and expect the new Standing Committee will be, this matter of drainage, a matter of supreme importance, would have been decided upon and completed in as many months as it took years under the present system. As regards the shortcomings of the Municipality, I am bound to say that I do not think they fully appreciate the intense necessity for sanitary improvements. I do not blame the Municipal Commissioners entirely for the result, rightly described as the appalling disclosures of the Medical Board enquiries in 1896. The Executive seem to have been partially responsible, but it must be remembered that the Executive were trained to consider each Commissioner as his master, and how can any man serve 75 masters? Then, too, it has been most unfortunate that in the past three years we have had as many Chairmen of the Municipality. Constant changes of heads of a department are disastrous, and I am strongly in favour of having the appointment of Chairman made a permanent one. This will mean either that the salary of the post must be made sufficiently high to retain the services of a Civilian with brilliant prospects before him, or Government must go outside the Civil Service for their selection. This is a matter which I would ask Government to seriously consider. But apart from this consideration, it must be allowed that at times the Municipal Commissioners have proved seriously obstructive and have opposed various improvements for reasons which are inexplicable. I would refer, for instance, to the Harrison Road scheme, which has opened up one of the most congested localities in Calcutta. It was in 1888 vigorously opposed by all the Hindu Commissioners with the exception of six. Eventually, the scheme was carried through by the European and Muhammadan Commissioners plus six Hindu representatives supporting the Chairman, and in connection with this Harrison Road improvement, I would read the following extract from the closing remarks on the debate by the Chairman, the late Sir Henry Harrison:—

'The question lay between Calcutta as a whole and the land-holders. Who should reap the profits earned from an important and costly improvement like this—private owners or the rate-payers in general? Those were the two conflicting bodies. On the one side was the whole of Calcutta which would be taxed to pay for this road: on the other side were the land-holders. What was the value of land before Calcutta became a city? Probably from Rs. 50 to Rs. 200 a bigha, and what now was the value of that land? From Rs. 10,000 to Rs. 40,000 per bigha was not at all an exaggerated estimate. The value of land was increased two hundredfold by the trade and commerce of Calcutta. And now, when the municipality was unable to make a road, except on a principle of this kind, and they would give the whole increased value of the land, and also 15 per cent. in addition, the land-holders turned round and said that private rights must for ever be respected, notwithstanding that the most important streets of the town remained hopelessly clogged. That showed their absolute failure to realize what were the rights of the city, as compared with the rights of individuals. And it was because that was the very view taken by every capitalist that they were the very persons who failed to appreciate what was the meaning of the life of a city, that what Mr. Cotton said acquired such immense importance. Was it possible to entrust the lives and health of the people to a body of Commissioners, whoever they might be, who so little appreciated the enormous and transcendant importance of making improvements of this kind.'

"Again in 1896, when the Health Officer's proposal for increased expenditure to provide for precautions against the plague was under discussion, Maulvi Abdul Jubbur declared that 'pestilence and famine were a divine chastisement for our sins and like the Excise Revenue in Bengal are yearly on the increase and keep pace with the advancement of what you call civilization. No human agency can fight against a decree of heaven.' On the same occasion another gentleman, who, I believe, has been educated at Oxford, also opposed the proposal and said 'though there might be overcrowding among natives, and though they might live in insanitary conditions, their fathers and grandfathers had lived in the same way and under very much more insanitary conditions and had attained great age.' These quotations go to show that some at any rate of our present Municipal Commissioners entirely fail to appreciate the absolute necessity of keeping pace with modern requirements in matters sanitary or the gravity of questions brought up for their consideration.

"Now as regards the Bill itself, it has been objected that too much independent power will be given to the Executive, and that the Municipality will be too much in the hands of Government. Section 22 which empowers Government to step in and act on certain occasions, expressly stipulates that such action will be taken only if the Municipal Commissioners neglect their duties, and if the Corporation fail to comply with the orders which may be given after due enquiry has been made by a Commissioner or by a special officer deputed for the occasion. As to the question of Government interference, generally we overlook the fact that in cases of breakdowns at important crisis, the Government of India look to the Local Government and not to the Corporation. The eyes of the world in fact are fastened on the Government and not on a municipal body in case of shortcomings.

"Now in England where municipal bodies exist, I suppose in almost every town it is not an uncommon occurrence for the Local Government Board to interfere in questions where Municipal Board are unable or unwilling to carry out urgent necessary improvements. I may quote the Thames Valley drainage works. At one time the sewage from most of the riverine towns on the banks of the Thames was discharged into the river, this was always an objectionable feature, and at length they, the Conservators of the river Thames took action and obtained an injuction against the practice. After considerable delay the Local Government Board stepped in and insisted on the river drainage works being effected, failing which the town to which I refer was to be heavily penalised. Action was ultimately taken, and the sewage disposed of by a chemical process. The Local Government Board also, I believe, goes to the length of insisting upon loans being raised to carry out necessary works, so that in taking action to put the Calcutta Municipality in order the Government of Bengal merely follow the practice adopted in England.

"Then again it has been said that this is a serious interference with Local Self-Government and the declaration of Lord Ripon in 1882. In this connection I would like to read an extract from a speech made by His Excellency the Marquis of Ripon on the 8th November, 1882, when he addressed the Municipality of Lahore. While deprecating any attempt to drive those who are to manage local institutions too hard and fast, he went on to say that:—

'Though I desire to see great patience exercised, and though I deprecate haste or undue and overeager expectations of immediate results, I, on the other hand, am firmly determined that this experiment shall not fail through the pertinacious neglect, through the sloth or through the continued incompetence of the local bodies that are about to spring up. Not to do so would be to betray the policy which we are advocating and to abandon those interests that we have most near at heart. We must, therefore, retain sufficient control over these local bodies, a control varying in different parts of the country according to the advancement of the people and the circumstances of each district. We must maintain, I say, sufficient control over those local bodies to see that they do not permanently, obstinately or slothfully neglect their duty towards their fellow-citizens and that control, Gentlemen, I, for my part am determined to maintain, and I trust that it will be applied patiently, but still firmly, by Local Governments.'

"But I contend that it is no interference with the principle of self-government at all, nor can it be described as a retrograde measure when a representation of all sections of the community is more fully and equally ensured than under the old system. The essence of Local Self-Government is, I take it, the fair representation of all classes. I cannot imagine that it was ever intended that one section of the community or one class of that section should be the predominant power and in fact control the working of the Municipality. This is the case under the present regime, and it is a state of things which most decidedly justifies Government in its present legislation. I have no doubt it will be said that Europeans will take no more interest in municipal matters than of old, but I absolutely deny this. As regards the Chamber of Commerce, even though some of the leading members may have their time too fully occupied to attempt to take up municipal matters, there are many men of excellent business qualifications fully equal to the task of assisting in the administration of the municipal conduct of the city, who are, I believe, sufficiently public spirited to give up some of their time when they see that the General Committee is really a workable and businesslike body, and that time will not be wasted in fruitless discussions.

"It appears to be taken for granted that the Members of the Chamber are so indifferent to the municipal administration of the city that they tacitly consent to being represented by native members. At one time, however, when the 1889 Act came into force the Chamber was represented by European members, and for many years these gentlemen were regular attendants at the meetings of the Corporation, but each in turn withdrew in disgust after finding out that the meetings were an utter waste of time and that the native majority swamped their proposals and obstructed their reforms.

"So, too, Europeans will no longer stand for the wards in the European quarter of the town, because they find that they are of no use to their constituents against the overwhelming majority of opposition to reform.

"Once the new system has been inagurated and is in fair working order, there will be no lack of Europeans quite ready to come forward as of old to represent the various interests of the wards in which the Europeans chiefly reside.

"As regards the new laws and regulations relating to the buildings and streets of Calcutta, I have not had time to examine them in detail, but I think there can be no disputing the fact that our first requirement is enlargement of a number of the main thoroughfares, especially those leading through the native town and that these main thoroughfares should be intersected by streets running at right angles, so that the town itself, should as it were be split up into a number of squares. I would also urge for the provision of open spaces, not on behalf of the Europeans (as some of my native friends might think), but on behalf of the poor, especially the children, who, under present circumstances, seem to take their enjoyment by playing over the open drains of the streets and bustees. There is no doubt that Calcutta is extending rapidly towards Alipore and Ballygunge and care should be taken that maidans be preserved for the use of the public. If necessary, they should be acquired by Government under the Land Acquisition Act, and so provision be made for open air space, which like the maidan of Calcutta, will prove the lungs of the district in which they are situated.

"On behalf of the mercantile community, I would tender to you, Sir, our grateful thanks for having grappled with the great and important question of municipal reform and the improved sanitation of Calcutta. You have done so at the risk of losing a certain amount of popularity with a section of the community, but your sense of duty and responsibility has overcome all sentimental feelings, and you have now, as you have always done, acted fearlessly and uprightly regardless of possible censure from those who disagreed with your convictions, and happy in the feeling that you are doing the greatest good for the greatest number."

The debate was adjourned to Monday, the 4th instant.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers;
t, thunder; <, lightning; ⌓, dew; ↗, strong wind; g, gloomy.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1898.

WEATHER during March was in its general features more abnormal than usual, and the changes were at times so irregular that it is difficult, taking account of the limited space over which the land observations in the accompanying tables extend, to give a connected account of the disturbances which occurred during the month.

The chief peculiarities in the weather, mainly due to the line of advance of the shallow depressions, were—

(1) an almost entire absence of rainfall;
(2) the quick fall of temperature which was more noticeable in night than in day readings;
(3) the relatively low pressure over Burma, which followed the passage of the depressions and caused dry morth-westerly winds over Bengal instead of the southerly winds more usual at that season of the year.

Two periods of disturbed weather occurred, one in the first week and the second about the beginning of the third week. The depressions were both very shallow, so much so that it was difficult to recognise their approach; but they were followed by a rapid rise of pressure which had probably a good deal to do with the subsequent low pressure over Burma, as the rise stopped short over Bengal. The wave of rising pressure in the first case moved over Bengal from the west, while in the second it began in North Bengal and appeared to extend south-westward, but ultimately with the same result on the general distribution. In each case readings became highest in Bihar and lowest in the south of Burma, consequently, with a reversal of the gradient.

Fairly general light showers fell in Bihar and North Bengal during the passage of the first depression, but with the second practically the only rainfall was reported from Chittagong. Altogether, as may be seen from the rainfall table at the end, the various divisions of the province received only a small fraction of the normal amount for March. In East Bengal, on an average, it was ·2 inch instead of 2·59 inches, in Bihar ·11 inch, and in South-West Bengal, Orissa and Chota Nagpur the amount was barely measurable, whereas in ordinary years the south-western districts receive about 1 inch.

Owing to the absence of cloud, day temperatures were not so low as is usual during disturbed weather; but as north-westerly winds became established and continued for some days, the nights were much cooler than usual. The difference from the normal for the month in day temperatures varied from excess of 4° in South-West Bengal to a small defect in the north of the province, while mean minimum temperature was below the normal everywhere, by amounts varying from nearly 6° in East Bengal to 1° in the west of Bihar. Owing to this excess during the day and the defect at night, the average difference from the normal for the whole day is not large, rarely more than 1°.

At the beginning of the month there were signs of a depression over the northern districts, but not well marked. Pressure, which during the previous day had fallen briskly, was very uniform and above the normal by small amounts. The best indication of the depression was the cyclonic circulation of winds. A further fall occurred before the morning of the 2nd, largest in the west of Bihar, after which the area of lowest pressure was over the west of the province, but still with a slight gradient. In Bihar winds had changed from west to east, but the rapid recovery of pressure set in almost immediately, and they soon became west again. These variations in the wind circulation were accompanied by fairly general local storms over Bihar with light rain, most of them occurring between the morning of the 2nd and the morning of the 3rd.

The changes of pressure on the 3rd varied from a fall of ·05 inch in East Bengal, where the depression then was, to a rise of ·15 inch in the extreme west of Bihar, and a steep gradient was then shown over the western districts. The wave advancing south-eastward, was over South-East Bengal in its maximum phase on the 4th, and was to a large extent checked there. The fall of temperature which accompanied the rise was unusually rapid. On the 3rd there was excess over the whole province, except the west of Bihar, and it was as much as 5° in North Bengal. On the 4th defect varied from 15° in part of Bihar and Chota Nagpur to 3° in South-East Bengal, and on the 5th a uniform defect of about 12° prevailed.

Settled weather followed with unusually dry cool westerly winds owing to the pressure distribution caused by the depression, that is, with highest pressure in the west of Bihar and lowest in the south of Burma and a gradient the reverse of what is usual in March. This abnormal arrangement of pressure continued till the 10th, with the usual, though rather large, oscillations, the most noticeable of which occurred on the 8th and 9th, when there was first a fall of about ·1 inch in the north of the province and then a rise of similar amount. The general weather, however, remained the same till the 11th, when, after a steady moderate fall of pressure during the previous days, readings were lowest in North Bengal, and southerly winds began to replace the hitherto regular westerly current.

With the southerly winds temperature rose, but differed from the normal by only small amounts till the 15th, when there was excess in all districts and in places as much as 5°.

From the 15th to the 22nd weather was of a fairly uniform character. Pressure remained low over Bengal, and southerly winds continued from day to day in the north of the Bay. Inland they were more westerly, with a cloudless sky and temperature considerably above the normal. The high temperature did not extend over the Bay where, as shown by the coast stations, there was usually a small defect. As in the early part of the month, considerable oscillations of pressure obtained, but it was not still the 22nd that any decided change occurred. Pressure then rose rapidly in the north-east of Bengal, and on the following day over the whole province.

With the rise of pressure there was a general fall of temperature owing to the northerly winds which set in. On the 22nd the difference from the normal varied from defect of 8° in the west of Bihar to excess of 2° at the more southern stations, and on the 23rd a uniform defect of about 7° prevailed over a great part of the province.

At that time the pressure distribution was somewhat similar to what had followed the previous disturbance, with the difference that the area of highest pressure lay along the Himalayas, and the low pressure was not confined to the south of Burma, but was general over the south of the Bay. Excess in pressure in North Bengal and Bihar was about ·14 inch. The unusual arrangement was, on this occasion, of shorter duration. A rapid fall of pressure set in over Bengal on the 25th, the southerly winds were restored at the head of the Bay and temperature was rising rapidly.

Between the 26th and the end of the month ordinary weather was general. The pressure distribution became practically normal, and temperature rose over the province, but remained low over the Bay, as had been the case during the third week.

Pressure.—Oscillations were larger than usual during the month, and at times the variation from the normal was considerable. Though two depressions passed across the province, the preliminary fall of pressure was only of moderate amount and somewhat prolonged. The recovery, on the other hand, was quick. In each case an abnormal distribution followed the passage of the disturbances, as stated above, with high pressure in the north-west of the province and the lowest in the south of Burma and the south-east of the Bay. In the early part of the month the arrangement continued for a considerable time, but in the latter half of the month it was for about two days only. At other times pressure was lowest in the north of the province and highest over the Bay with southerly winds and high temperature.

Temperature—Was low in the first and third weeks and high at other times. During the periods of cool weather the depression of temperature was greater at night than during the day, probably owing to the cloudless skies while the disturbances were crossing the province. Maximum temperature was high, and minimum temperature low, in some of the southern districts by as much as 6°. The mean temperature, however, though lower than usual, generally differed by only small amounts from the normal. On an average for the larger divisions there was excess in Assam and Chota Nagpur and defect elsewhere, of about 1°, except in North Bengal, where mean temperature was very nearly normal.

Rainfall—Was to a large extent absent in the southern parts, and only a few light and rather scattered showers fell in North Bengal and Bihar at the beginning of the month. East Bengal received, on an average, ·2 inch, Bihar ·11 inch and the other divisions less than ·1 inch. The normal fall for March varies from half an inch in Bihar to 2·6 inches in East Bengal. The details of the rainfall are given in the accompanying table.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of March 1898:—

The 25th April 1898.

No. 65Marine.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, III of 1897, and by the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 302, dated the 4th February 1897, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has been pleased to prescribe as a temporary measure the following rules for quarantine against plague, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation, and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, plague.

These rules shall take effect from the 27th April 1898 in the Port of Chittagong, and shall supersede all previous rules.

I.—Definitions:—

(1) Health Officer.—In these rules "Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the Port of Chittagong, and includes an Assistant Health Officer and any person appointed by name or in virtue of his office to perform the duties of an Assistant Health Officer.

(2) Infected ship.—Any ship with plague on board, or on board which one or more cases have taken place within 12 days before her arrival, will be considered infected.

(3) Suspected ship.—Any ship, on board which there has been a case of plague at the time of departure, or during the voyage, but on which no fresh case has occurred for 12 days before her arrival, will be considered suspected.

(4) Healthy ship.—Any ship, even though coming from an infected port, which has had no death or case of plague on board, either before departure, during the voyage, or an arrival, will be considered healthy.

(5) Observation.—The term "observation" means that the persons subjected to it will be segregated in a lazaretto or isolation camp, till they have obtained free pratique.

(6) Surveillance.—The term "surveillance" means that the persons subjected to it will not be isolated; they will at once obtain free pratique, but, on arriving at their destination, they will be kept under medical supervision.

II.—Hoisting of yellow flag.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, (a) arriving from an infected port, or (b) having plague on board, or (c) on board of which one or more cases of plague have taken place within 12 days of her arrival, shall, on arrival at the anchorage outside the Chittagong river, hoist a yellow flag, and indicate by signal the port from which she has come, and shall keep such flag and signal flying until permitted in writing by the Health Officer to haul it down. The pilot, on going alongside such vessel, shall direct the flag prescribed above to be hoisted, if that has not already been done.

III.—Prohibition of communication.—The Commander shall not, without first having obtained permission as hereinafter provided, allow any communication except orally with the shore or any other vessel or boat, excepting only with the boat supplying the Pilots* from the Pilot cutter, and in that case, communication shall be limited to receiving on board the Pilot, his Leadsman, servant and baggage.

N.B.—Pilotage is not compulsory for any vessels in the port of Chittagong.

IV.—Stoppage outside the river.—If there is any case of sickness on board, and the Pilot has reason to believe that it is plague, he shall send word to the Health Officer, and not proceed without the permission of the Health Officer.

V.—Stoppage at Jooldia.—If the Pilot has no reason to believe that there is any one suffering from plague on board, he shall bring the vessel up the river to Jooldia, and shall anchor it there till the Health Officer has visited it.

VI.—Inspection by Health Officer.—The Health Officer, as soon as he has received information of the stoppage of the vessel outside the river, or of its arrival at Jooldia, shall visit it and ascertain by enquiry from the Commander or the Medical Officer on board, or from other sources of information, whether any person on board is suffering or has suffered from plague. For this purpose, he may demand a declaration, on oath, from the Doctor of the ship, or, failing him, from the Captain, that there has been no case of plague on the ship since her departure.

VII.—Rules relating to infected ships:—

(1) If an infected ship has, under Rule IV, been stopped outside the river, she will await the orders of the Health Officer there. If, under Rule V, she has been brought up to Jooldia, the Health Officer will direct the Commander to await orders there.

(2) On arrival at the Sanitary station, the sick will be immediately disembarked and isolated under the order of the Health Officer.

(3) The other persons on board shall also be disembarked and, when necessary, kept under observation at the Sanitary station for a period varying, in the discretion of the Health Officer, according to the sanitary condition of the ship and the date of the last case. Such period must not exceed ten days from the date of the last case, whether that occurred on boardship or during the period of observation on shore. It is also in the discretion of the Health Officer to allow such persons to proceed to their destination on their giving a written undertaking, in the form annexed as Appendix I, to submit themselves to surveillance by the Medical Officer (if any) appointed for the purpose, at their destination, for a period of ten days from the date of the arrival of the ship. The under taking shall be executed in duplicate, and one copy shall be sent by the Health Officer to the Medical Officer concerned.

No one arriving on the vessel shall be left on board except those persons whose presence is necessary for the care of the vessel.

(4) The soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers, which in the opinion of the Health Officer may be considered as infected, shall be disinfected in accordance with the rules contained in Appendix II.

(5) The bilge-water will be pumped out after disinfection, and good drinking-water will be substituted for the water stored on board.

(6) All parts of the ship, which have been inhabited by plague patients, will be disinfected; and the other parts of the ship may also be disinfected at the discretion of the Health Officer.

(7) When these rules have been fully complied with, the Health Officer shall, by an order in writing under his hand, to be delivered to the Commander, permit the yellow flag to be hauled down.

VIII.—Rules relating to suspected ships:—

(1) If a suspected ship has, under Rule IV, been stopped outside the river, she will await the orders of the Health Officer there. If, under Rule V, she has been brought up to Jooldia, the Health Officer will go on board of her there.

(2) The passengers and crew will be medically inspected by the Health Officer.

(3) The soiled linen and personal effects of the passengers and crew which, in the opinion of the Health Officer, may be considered as infected, will be disinfected in accordance with the rules contained in Appendix II.

(4) The bilge-water will be pumped out after disinfection, and good drinking-water will be substituted for the water stored on board.

(5) All parts of the ship, which have been inhabited by plague patients, will be disinfected; and the other parts of the ship may also be disinfected at the discretion of the Health Officer.

(6) Passengers who are suspected by the Health Officer to be infected with plague may be detained under observation in an isolation hospital appointed for the purpose, for ten days from arrival of the ship, or if plague occurs among them while under observation, from the date of the last case.

(7) The crew will not be allowed to land, except on duty, for ten days from the arrival of the ship.

The undertaking shall be executed in duplicate, and one copy shall be sent by the Health Officer to the Medical Officer concerned.

(9) When these rules have been fully complied with, the Health Officer shall, by an order in writing under his hand, to be delivered to the Commander, permit the yellow flag to be hauled down.

IX.—Rules relating to healthy ships:—

(1) A healthy ship shall be given free pratique at once, whatever may be the nature of her bill of health.

(2) Such a ship may, at the discretion of the Health Officer, be subjected to the measures prescribed in Rules VIII (2), VIII (3) and VIII (4), but the ship itself may not be disinfected as in Rule VIII (5), except with the consent of the Commander or Agent.

(3) Passengers who, on medical inspection, are suspected by the Health Officer to be infected with plague may be detained under observation in an isolation hospital appointed for the purpose, for ten days from the date on which the ship left an infected port, or, if plague occurs among them while under observation from the date of the last case.

(4) The crew will not be allowed to land, except on duty, for ten days from the date on which the ship left an infected port.

(5) The crew and passengers may, at the discretion of the Health Officer, be subjected to surveillance in the manner described in Rule VIII (8) for a period of ten days from the date on which the ship left an infected port.

(6) When these rules have been fully complied with, the Health Officer shall, by an order in writing under his hand, to be delivered to the Commander, permit the yellow flag to hauled down.

(7) None of the above measures will be considered necessary when the ship has been given free pratique at Colombo or other intermediate port.

X.—Ships carrying a Doctor or a stove.—In exercising the discretion vested in him by the rules under heads VII, VIII, and IX above, the Health Officer should take into consideration the fact of there being a Doctor, or a disinfecting apparatus (stove), on board the ship in question.

XI.—Rules relating to crowded and insanitary ships.—Crowded ships, ships carrying emigrants or return pilgrims, and ships which appear to be in an insanitary state may, at the discretion of the Health Officer, be treated as suspected ships under head VIII.

XII.—Right of ship to put back to sea.—Any ship objecting to submit to the obligations imposed by these rules will be free to put back to sea. Such objection must be notified on or before arriving outside the river.

XIII.—Rules applying to ships claiming right to put back to sea.—If ships claiming the right to put back to sea desire to disembark passengers or land goods, they must submit to the rules relating to suspected ships.

XIV.—Provisions and stores.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine, to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

APPENDIX I.

I (name) of (place) do hereby declare that it is my intention at once to proceed to (place), and I agree to submit myself to medical supervision by (name or office of Medical Officer appointed for the purpose) for a period of ten days from (date from which period is to be reckoned).

In the presence of Health Officer.

APPENDIX II.

Instructions for disinfection.

1. Personal effects, rags, infected bandages, papers, and other articles without value should be destroyed by fire.

2. Under-clothing, bedding, wearing apparel, mattresses, carpets, &c., which are contaminated or suspected, should be disinfected in stoves at normal pressure, or at a pressure of from one and-a-half to two atmospheres, with or without the presence of steam.

Before a stove is passed as efficient for the purposes of disinfection, it should be subjected to a test, with the aid of a signal thermometer, showing the moment when the temperature in the middle of a mattress rises to, at least, 100° (centigrade).

To ensure that the disinfection is effective, this temperature must be maintained for from 10 to 15 minutes.

3. Disinfecting solutions—

(a) Solution of corrosive sublimate, of 1 part in 1,000, with the addition of 10 parts of chloride of soda.

The solution should be coloured with aniline dye or indigo. It should not be placed in metal vessels.

(b) A 5 per cent. solution of pure crystallized carbolic acid, or 5 per cent. of crude commercial carbolic acid, in a warm solution of soft soap.

(c) Fresh slaked lime.*

4. Special instructions to be observed in the employment of disinfecting solutions—

The linen, clothing and articles, soiled by the excreta of patients, should be soaked in the solution of corrosive sublimate. The solution of pure carbolic acid, and the solution of soap and carbolic acid, are equally suited to the purpose. The articles should remain in the solution for at least six hours.

* To get very strong slaked lime, take lime of good quality, slake it by moistening it gradually, with half its weight of water. When the operation is completed, put the powder in a carefully corked receptacle, and place it in a dry spot. As each kilogramme of lime absorbs 500 grammes of water in order to become slack, it acquires a volume of 2 litres 200, and it is sufficient to dilute it with double its volume of water, say, 4 kilogrammes 400 grammes, to obtain a whitewash which will be of about 20 per cent. strength of lime.

Articles which cannot be subjected to the temperature of the stove (100° centigrade) without injury, such as leather goods, wooden articles stuck together with glue, felt, velvet, silk, &c., should be washed with the solution of corrosive sublimate; coins can be disinfected with the solution of soap and carbolic acid.

Persons engaged in nursing the sick should wash their hands and faces with the solution of corrosive sublimate, or with one of the carbolic solutions.

The carbolic solutions will be useful, more particularly for disinfecting articles, such as metals, instruments, etc., which can neither be subjected to a temperature of 100° centigrade, nor placed in contact with corrosive sublimate.

Slaked-lime is particularly recommended for disinfecting excreta. Expectorated matter should be burnt.

5. Disinfection of ships with plague-patients on board.

The cabin or cabins, and all parts of the ship occupied by the sick or suspected, should be cleared out, and all articles in them should be treated as described above.

The partitions should be disinfected with the solution of corrosive sublimate, with an addition of 10 per cent. of alcohol. The washing should commence from the top, horizontally, and be continued downwards, so that the whole surface of the partition becomes covered with a coating of minute drops.

The boarding should be washed with the same solution.

Two hours after, the walls and flooring should be washed over with plenty of water.

6. Disinfection of the hold of an infected ship.

To disinfect the hold, sulphate of iron in quantity sufficient to neutralise the sulphuretted hydrogen, should first be thrown in, the bilge-water should be pumped out, and the hold washed with sea-water. Solution of corrosive sublimate should then be thrown in.

The bilge-water should not be pumped out while the ship is in port.

READ—

Annual reports and accounts of the several District Road Funds and District Road Accounts in Bengal for the year 1896-97, received from the Commissioners of Divisions concerned.

Read again—

Annual reports and accounts of the several District Road Funds and District Road Accounts in Bengal for the previous year, and the review thereof, No. 6097R.C., dated 9th December 1896.

REMARKS.—The Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 has been introduced into all the Districts of this Province, except the following:—

Darjeeling.	Manbhum.
Hazaribagh.	Singhbhum.
Lohardaga.	Sonthal Parganas.
Palamau.	Chittagong Hill Tracts.

In the first five of these Districts, and in the Dalbhum and Porahat parganas of the Singhbhum District the Cess Act of 1880 is in force, while the other parganas of this latter District and the Sonthal Parganas and the Chittagong Hill Tracts are not under the operations of any of the above Acts.

RECEIPTS.

2. In the Districts in which the Cess Act is in force, the cess was levied at the maximum rate allowed by law, while in those districts which were not under the operations of the Act, and in which therefore there were no cess collections, funds were provided by grants-in aid. The reciepts for the year 1896-97, compared with those of the previous year, are shown below:—

3. The increase in revenue in the Darjeeling District, compared with the revenue of the previous year, is due (1) to a portion of the contribution for 1895-96 from Government and other estates having been adjusted in 1896-97, (2) to an increased grant from Darjeeling Improvement Fund, (3) to a contribution of Rs. 325 from private individuals, for improving certain roads in the hills, and (4) to a larger amount of advances having been realized during the year than in the previous year. The increase in the Hazaribagh District is due to the increased receipts under 'Cess on lands,' 'Miscellaneous,' 'grant from Government' and 'Suspense Accounts;' that in the Lohardaga District is due partly to the realization of arrears of the previous year and partly to increases under 'Government grant' and 'Miscellaneous.' The increase in the Palamau District is chiefly due to the increases under 'Private contribution due to donations for the construction of a Charitable Dispensary at Daltongunge.' 'Government grant' and 'Advances,' while that in the Singhbhum District, to the increases under 'Miscellaneous,' 'Private contribution' and 'Deposits.' The increase in the Sonthal Parganas District is mainly due to the increase under 'Grant from Government.' The decrease in the Manbhum District is due principally to the decreased income under 'Cess on mines' owing to the low assessment of some of the collieries on account of the fall in the price of coal.

4. The following table shows the outlay incurred in 1896-97, compared with that of the previous year:—

5. The closing balances of the Darjeeling, Hazaribagh, Palamau and Sonthal Parganas Districts at the end of the year were more than one quarter's kists of the respective Committees, prescribed in paragraph 9 of the Resolution No. 4228R.C., dated 18th December 1885. The heavy closing balances were due (i) in the Palamau District partly to the large unexpended balance of the private contribution for the construction of a Charitable Dispensary building at Daltonganj, and partly to that of the Government contributions for the execution of certain petty works connected with Government (Public Works Department) buildings; (ii) in the Darjeeling District to the Committee having been allowed, in letter No. 5106R.C., dated 26th September 1892, to accumulate its balance to enable it to construct important bridges in the district without having recourse to borrowing; (iii) in the Sonthal Parganas District to the Government order to restrict expenditure on Original Works and Repairs in consequence of the anticipated requirement for Famine Relief Works.

6. Of the total expenditure incurred during the year, Rs. 3,02,412 were devoted to Public Works, while the outlay under other sub-heads, exclusive of 'Suspense Accounts,' was small, being Rs. 98,168 only in the aggregate. The distribution of the outlay on Public Works is as follows:—

In the Darjeeling district, the low percentage is due to the fact that no Engineer was employed: all the Road Fund works in that district, both original and repairs, were executed by either the Members of the Committee, or by private gentlemen, to whom the thanks of Government are due for their assistance. The sum of Rs. 839 spent under this head was for the Public Works Establishment in the Terai Subdivision only. The percentages in the Singhbhum and Chittagong Hill Tracts districts were again high as they were in the previous year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, together with the Annual Accounts of the several District Road Funds and District Road Accounts, extracts from the Reports of the Chairmen of the several District Road Committees, and remarks of the Commissioners of Divisions concerned, be published in Part II of the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded for information to the—

Commissioners of the Rajshahi, Bhagalpur, Chittagong and Chota Nagpur Divisions;

Financial Department of this Government.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Darjeeling on the operations of District Road Fund of the District during the year 1896-97.

[Vide letter No. 78 R. F., dated 4th September 1897, from R. T. Greer, Esq., the Deputy Commissioner and Chairman, Darjeeling Road Committee, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.]

1. Working of the Committee.—There were 17 members of the District Road Committee. Three meetings were held during the year, the average attendance being 9·3, and the percentage of the average attendance, 54·7. There were 20 members of the Terai Branch Committee. They held 7 meetings during the year. The average attendance was 6·5 and the percentage of the average attendance 32·5.

2. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 17,157-5-5, and an unadjusted advance of Rs. 11,099, altogether Rs. 28,256-5-5. The total sum available for expenditure was Rs. 51,875-4-6, including the receipts (Rs. 17,963-6-10) of the year. Of this Rs. 16,525-12-3 were spent, leaving a balance of Rs. 35,349-8-3, which includes the unadjusted advances of Rs. 11,076-6-10 at the end of the year. The balance is excessive, but in order to avoid the need for loans for bridges, a fund is being gradually accumulated for bridges under Government sanction, vide No. 5106 R.C., dated 26th September 1892.

RECEIPTS.

3. Assessment and Collection of Road Cess.—During the year the assessment was made at the maximum rate of six pies in the rupee. A sum of Rs. 17,855-1-7 was realized as Cess on lands, Rs. 108-5-3 as Cess on mines, &c., and Rs. 25 as refund of Chairman's imprest, making total of Rs. 17,988-6-10.

4. Ferry Tolls.—There is no ferry under District Road Committee.

5. Contribution.—The receipts under this head were derived from (a) Government, (b) Darjeeling Improvement Fund, (c) Private and other sources.

(a) The grant of ⅛th of 12 per cent. collection from Government and other Estates amounted to Rs. 2,705-8-3, as compared with Rs. 1,261-15-6 of the preceding year, showing an increase of Rs. 1,443-8-9. This increase is chiefly due to a portion of the contribution for 1895-96, having been adjusted in the accounts of the year 1896-97. Besides the contribution noted above, Rs. 400 were received as usual from Government on account of Road and Public Works Cess Establishment.

(b) The Darjeeling Improvement Fund contributed Rs. 2,200 during the year for the improvement and maintenance of roads. Of this Rs. 200 were specially given for the improvement of road No. 7, 'Takdah Turning to Reang Forest,' in the hills.

(c) A sum of Rs. 325 was contributed by private individuals for improving certain roads in the hills.

EXPENDITURE.

6. Original works.—Under this head a sum of Rs. 207 was advanced towards the cost of laying down a new road along the bed of the Rongit river from the Singla to the Jhulung Bazar.

7. Repairs.—Communications.—Rupees 5,189-5-8 were spent in repairing roads and bridges in the hills during the year, against Rs. 5,431-10-1 in 1895-96. The decrease is due to certain advances not having been adjusted within the year.

8. The total expenditure on roads and bridges in the Terai amounted to Rs. 7,837-3-2 against Rs. 3,982-9-4 of the previous year. The increase is due to certain roads having been put in more thorough order; but of the amount of Rs. 7,837-3-2 mentioned as spent on communications proper, Rs. 220 were on account of repairs and maintenance of village roads, and Rs. 7,617-3-2 for the up-keep of District Roads and bridges. The latter amount includes a sum of Rs. 42-4-6 for mile-stones in the Terai.

9. The expenditure of Rs. 220 for village roads shows a nominal increase of Rs. 22, as compared with Rs. 197-13-9.

10. Altogether 222½ miles of unmetalled district roads were repaired at a cost of Rs. 11,720-4-3, including Rs. 42-4-6 spent for erecting mile-posts, or Rs. 52-6 per mile, and 38 miles of village roads at a cost of Rs 220 or 5·7 per mile; Rs. 1,086-4-7 were spent on the repairs and maintenance of bridges in the hills, which gave a total of Rs. 13,026-8-10 under this head. All the work has been carried on as usual either by members of the Committee themselves or other gentlemen in the district.

11. Tools and Plant.—Rs. 18-2 were spent under this head.

12. Tolls and Ferry Establishment, &c.—There was no expenditure under this head.

13. Arboriculture.—No expenditure was incurred under this head.

14. Loans.—There was no necessity for raising a loan, as explained in paragraph 2 above.

15. Public Works Establishment.—No professional Engineer was entertained by the Committee during the year, all works having been executed either by the members of the Committee or by private gentlemen. An overseer and a peon were entertained by the Terai Branch Committee at a cost of Rs. 839-13-9. The pay of the overseer was Rs. 80, including horse allowance at Rs. 20 a month. The pay of the peon was Rs. 7 a month.

16. Inspection of Accounts.—The Examiner of Local Accounts audited the Accounts on the 15th June 1897.

The average attendance of members in these meetings was 5·6 against 5·0 in the previous year. There was no Branch Committee at Gobindpur in Manbhum during the year. The reconstitution of this Committee is under consideration.

(a) Includes Rs. 320 imprest in hand of the Chairman and the District Engineer.

All the districts except Manbhum show increases more or less in their incomes. The increase of Rs. 2,471 in Hazaribagh is due to increased receipts under heads 'Cess on lands,' 'Miscellaneous,' 'Government Grant' and 'Suspense Account.' The increase of Rs. 9,367 in Lohardaga is partly due to the realization of arrears of the previous year, and partly to increases under heads 'Government Grant' and 'Miscellaneous.' The increase of Rs. 13,949 in Palamau is chiefly due to increases under heads 'Private Contribution,' 'Government Grant' and 'Advances,' while that in Singhbhum of Rs. 1,855 to the increases under heads 'Miscellaneous,' 'Private Contribution,' and 'Deposits.' The decrease of Rs. 2,919 in Manbhum is due mainly to the decreased income under head 'Cess on Mines' owing to the low assessment of some of the collieries on account of the fall in price of coal.

6. The following table exhibits the revenue of each Road Committee (excluding opening balance and Suspense heads), the expenditure incurred in Works and the Establishment charges on account of those works:—

The percentage of expenditure on account of Establishment for Works on the amount spent on Works varied from 20·8 in Hazaribagh to 31·5 in Singhbhum against 15·6 to 27·2, respectively, in the previous year; but the total Establishment charges on such account in the division were within the limit of one fourth of the total income, being 24·1 against 17·9 in the previous year. The higher percentage in all the districts during the year under report in comparison with the previous year, is due to the inclusion of temporary Establishment charges under head Establishment, in accordance with Government Circular No. $\frac{\text{L.S.-G.}}{1}$, dated 2nd January 1896.

7. Original works.—In Hazaribagh a sum of Rs. 7,743 was spent during the year under this head, viz:—

The first section of the Garwa-Sirguja Road was not completed during the year owing partly to the unsatisfactory progress made by the contractor and partly to the general scarcity of food-grains. The second section of the road progressed fairly satisfactorily in the early part of the year, but owing to the scarcity of local food supplies early in November, the number of coolies, the majority of whom were imported from Lohardaga, began to fall off and the work had to be stopped.

In Manbhum a sum of Rs. 2,417 was spent during the year under this head, viz:—

Rupees 2,238 in earthwork and construction of some temporary culverts with a total waterway of 8 running feet on the Balarampur-Bagmundi Road, and Rs. 179 in constructing a boarding-house attached to the Purulia Zilla School. In Manbhum, a sum of Rs. 27,813 was spent during the year in maintaining 31 district roads and two Provincial roads of a total length of 408 miles. The expenditure incurred in the former amounted to Rs. 17,235 and that in the latter to Rs. 10,578. The operations of the year were chiefly restricted to the maintenance of the roads, petty improvements by gravel work in places, easing down approaches to unbridged nallas and rivers, and adjusting formation and slopes of old banks. In Singhbhum the expenditure incurred under this head amounted to Rs. 5,834, viz., Rs. 5,627 in repairing 18 district roads 412 miles in length and Rs. 207 in repairing 51 miles of six village roads. There were hardly any important repair works carried out in the district during the year. Only petty or patch repairs, renewal of gravelling, reconstruction or repairs of temporary bridges or pucka culverts, shelter-houses and Inspection bungalows were executed.

9. Arboriculture.—The following table exhibits the amount spent by each Road Committee under this head:—

DISTRICT.	AMOUNT SHOWN IN ANNUAL ACCOUNTS UNDER—

		Rs.	Rs.
Hazaribagh	...	1,443	1,443

In Hazaribagh 1,000 new trees were transplanted with bamboo gabions and 6,400 old ones maintained on the roadsides during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,443. There is only one nursery in the Road Cess office compound, which contains 3,369 plants of different kinds. In Lohardaga seedlings of different kinds of trees, 1,348 in number, were planted along different roads to fill up gaps in avenues previously planted, and 2,200 large bamboo gabions of approved type were supplied for their protection at a total cost of Rs. 1,999. A large number of plants died during the year owing principally to the drought during the last five months of the year in spite of attempts to water them as far as funds permitted. There are four nurseries in the district—one at the head-quarters, one near the stage hut at Jamchua, and the other two in the compounds of the Inspection bungalows at Lohardaga and Opa. The number of seedlings of various kinds planted in these nurseries was 1,325. In Palamau a sum of Rs. 100 was allotted under this head, but it was afterwards diverted to famine relief. All the roadside trees were maintained from the funds for repairs to the roads, and no new trees were planted or seedlings raised in the nursery during the year. In Manbhum, a sum of Rs. 1,255 was laid out in maintaining trees on the Purulia Station Roads and on the two Provincial roads transferred to the Committee, viz., Rs. 144 for the former and Rs. 1,111 for the latter. Some of the gaps in the avenues on the Station Roads were filled up by planting new trees during the year. In Singhbhum a sum of Rs. 261 was spent in purchasing some plants from the Sibpur Botanical Garden and planting them on the two important roads, Chaibassa-Jyntgurh and Chaibassa-Katbari, and in rearing and protecting the old trees with gabions. Roadside trees do not grow well in this district, the soil being generally poor.

10. Water-supply.—The register of water-sources in forms Nos. I and II prescribed by the Government Circular No. 8T.M., dated 15th May 1896, have been opened and tested by the Deputy Commissioners in their respective districts, and steps are being taken to improve the existing sources and to add new ones. The details of the water-sources (Thana totals) are given in separate statements accompanying the district reports.

11. The District Engineers and their Subordinate Establishments have generally given satisfaction in the discharge of their duties.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee, Hazaribagh, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1896-97.

(Vide letter No. 86D.R., dated 2nd June 1897, from J. L. Herald, Esq., c.s., Chairman, District Road Committee, Hazaribagh, to the Commissioner, Chota Nagpur Division.)

1. District Road Committee.—During the year the reorganization of the District Committee by appointment of members, under section 113 of the Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880, took place. Five meetings of the District Committee were held during the year, in all of which quorums were obtained. The average attendance was 12·4 against 8·3 in the previous year. It appears from the high average that the members took more interest in their duties than in the previous year.

2. Branch Committee.—There is only one Branch Committee in this district, viz., at Giridih. The Branch Committee held five meetings during the year, and the average attendance of the members was 5·6 against 5· in the previous year.

RECEIPTS.

3. Assessment and Collection.—During the year the Road-cess in this district was levied as in previous years at the maximum rate prescribed by law, viz., six pies per rupee The demand for Road-cess on lands and mines during the year amounted to Rs. 55,282 as compared with Rs. 55,669 in the previous year. The amount of additions made to this demand during the year was Rs. 733 and that of reductions and remissions from it amounted to Rs. 637. The net demand for road-cess on lands and mines amounted to Rs. 55,378. The decrease in the demand is attributable to a remission in the cess demand on the Srirampur revenue-paying estate sanctioned by the Board of Revenue in their letter No. 70A, dated 19th March 1897, as well as to a reduction of assessments of the coal mines of the Bengal Coal Company made by the Collector of Burdwan during the year. The principle place of business of the Company being in the Burdwan district, the valuations and assessments of their coal mines are made in that district. The total road cess demand of the district, including the arrears of Rs. 1,615 outstanding at the close of 1895-96, amounted to Rs. 56,993, as compared with Rs. 56,959 in the previous year. Out of the demand of Rs. 56,993, Rs. 55,025, including Rs. 1,352 previously paid in advance for the year 1896-97, were collected as compared with Rs. 55,330 in the previous year, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs. 1,968 or 3·45 per cent. on the total demand against Rs. 1,615 or 2·83 per cent. in the previous year. The advance collections during the year, amounted to Rs. 2,114 against Rs. 1,854 in the previous year. The percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand was 95·97, that of current collections on current demand 96·56, and that of total collections on current demand 99·36, as compared with 98·36, 97·13 and 99·40 respectively in the previous year. Certificate procedure was adopted to recover the arrears during the year, except the arrears due from 26 revenue-paying estates, in which the last instalment of the year was payable on the 28th March 1897, for recovery of which no coercive measures could be taken within the year 1896-97.

5. Repairs, District Roads.—The number of roads in this district was 48. Of these 37 roads, aggregating 564 miles in length, were repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 25,100, as compared with Rs. 34,759 for repairs to 33 roads aggregating 532 miles in length in the preceding year. No provision for the remaining 11 roads could be made for want of funds. The following table compares the cost incurred on each class of roads during the years 1895-96 and 1896-97 :—

Description of roads.	1895-96.		1896-97.

The cost of maintenance of the village roads amounted to Rs. 5,726, viz., Rs., 1,918 for the head-quarters subdivision and Rs. 3,308 for the Giridih subdivision, as compared with Rs. 6,238, viz., Rs. 1,811 for the head-quarters subdivision and Rs. 4,427 for the Giridih subdivision in the previous year. A sum of Rs. 5,260, including Rs. 260 for the cost of establishments and contingencies, was placed at the disposal of the Branch Committee at Giridih during the year. Out of this amount Rs. 4,231 were spent, viz., Rs. 3,808 in maintenance of village roads, Rs. 130 for repairs, etc., of inspection bungalow, Rs. 44 in planting and maintaining trees, and Rs. 249 on account of cost of establishment and contingencies of the Branch Committee, as compared with Rs. 5,238 expended in the preceding year, viz., Rs. 4,427 on maintenance of village roads, Rs. 475 in repairs, etc., of inspection bungalows, Rs. 81 in planting and maintaining trees, and Rs. 255 on account of cost of establishment and contingencies. The repairs to the village roads in the Giridih as well as in the head-quarters subdivision, were executed by contractors. As funds were required for relief works, the works in the village as well as on district roads were discontinued from 1st November 1896, and those done up to 31st October 1896 only were paid during the year, hence the whole allotment for the village as well as district roads was not spent during the year.

12. Water-supply.—The registers of sources of water-supply, Nos. I and II, prescribed by the Bengal Government circular No. 8T.M., dated 15th May 1896, were prepared for this district, and the entries therein have been tested by the Chairman of the Committee during his tours. Out of 220 villages entered in these registers, each containing 100 houses or more, scarcity of water was reported in 34 villages only. Measures are being taken to increase the water-supply in those villages. During the year 1896-97, 2 pucka wells and 56 dari (spring) wells were excavated according as they were required in different villages in this district. A statement showing the thana totals of Form I as prescribed in paragraph 3 of the above circular is given below :—

13. The monthly accounts were as usual audited by a Sub-committee consisting of the Vice-Chairman and two members appointed under section 174 of the Cess Act, IX (B. C.) of 1880.

SURES CH. DAS,
Vice-Chairman.

F. J. HERALD,
Chairman.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Lohardaga, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district during the year 1896-97.

(Vide letter No. 54D.R., dated 4th June 1897, from H. C. Streatfeild, Esq., C.S., Chairman, District Road Committee of Lohardaga.)

1. Working of the Committee.—The attendance of both official and non-official members was satisfactory. Out of eight non-official members one attended eight, one seven, one six, three four, and one one meeting only. Of the ten meetings held during the year, nine were special and one ordinary. The average attendance was five against four of last year. Out of eight non-official members, one died during the year and no one was appointed in his place.

RECEIPTS.

2. Collection.—The demand on account of cesses on lands and mines during the year, including the arrear of the preceding year, amounted to Rs. 58,487, of which Rs. 48,136 was collected within the year, leaving a balance outstanding at the close of the year of Rs. 10,351. The whole of the balance fell due on the 28th March and could not therefore be realized under the Certificate Act within the year. It has since been realised.

EXPENDITURE.

3. Original works.—The following works were carried out during the year:—

(1) The construction of the Kundgari river bridge on the road from Lohardaga to the boundary of the district towards Sumbulpur. A bridge of 3 spans of 20 feet each with rubble stone masonry abutments, pier and wing walls and sal timber roadway was constructed over the Kundgari river on the 9th mile of the road.

(2) The construction of the Birgora Nala bridge on Palma-Lohardaga road. A bridge of 2 spans of 20 feet each with brick masonry abutments, piers and wing walls and sal timber roadway was built over the Birgora nala on the 20th mile of the road.

(3) A staging hut consisting of one room and a bath-room with kutcha walls and floor and tiled roof, together with an out-office, was built at Gomla on the 32nd mile of Lohardaga-Sumbulpur road.

4. Repairs, District roads.—482¾ miles of District Roads were maintained passable for traffic by surface and petty repairs, patch repairs to metalling and gravelling, and repairs to temporary bridges. Surface repairs were also done to class V roads, so far as it could be executed out of the small allotments made for them. Besides the above the following were also done:—

(a) Twenty-two miles of Ranchi-Lohardaga road were regravelled; an arch with portions of abutments in a culvert of the road was thoroughly reconstructed; earthwork was executed in repairs to flanks of gravelled portion, in widening the road here and there and in making good the portions of embankments washed away at places during the rainy season.

(b) A diversion to Ranchi-Chandil road was constructed and six temporary bridges rebuilt.

(c) The sal timber platform of a culvert, 16 feet span, of the Ranchi-Palma road was thoroughly renewed.

(d) A temporary bridge on the Ranchi-Pithoria road, which was washed away during the rains, was reconstructed.

(e) Seven temporary bridges on Ranchi-Palkote Road were rebuilt.

(f) Twelve temporary culverts, from 6 to 20 feet spans, on the Sumbulpur road were reconstructed with dry rubble masonry and pucka sâl bulla platforms.

(g) One bridge, 45 feet long, on the Bero-Toto road was reconstructed with dry rubble masonry and rough plank roadway.

(h) Two temporary bridges on Chapka-Surguja road were reconstructed.

5. Repairs, village roads.—Village roads, of which 151 miles third class and 217 miles, fifth class, were maintained. Several temporary bridges were reconstructed, and petty repairs executed. 12 miles of mere track were converted into roads.

6. Arboriculture.—Seedlings of mango, jack, teak, karanj, jamun, kanack-champa, ponicіana regina, and others, 1,348 in number, were planted along different roads to fill up vacancies in avenues previously planted. Out of these some 800 were taken from the nurseries, and the rest, small seedlings, procured locally by the malies in charge of different roads. Twelve mango grafts were planted in the compounds of the four Inspection Bungalows. The following statement shows the progress made during the year :—

Length of road planted in—		Number of roadside trees in—		Planted in filling up gaps.

1	2	3	4	5
67¼	67¼	12,584	13,526	1,348

A large number of plants died owing principally to the drought during the last 5 months of the year, in spite of attempts to water them as far as funds would permit during the year. All the roadside trees were maintained throughout the year; 2,200 large bamboo gabions of approved type were supplied for the protection of plants.

7. Nurseries.—A nursery was maintained at head-quarters and seedlings of various kinds were reared in it. Three small nurseries were also kept up in the compounds of the Inspections Bungalows at Lohardaga and Opa and near the Staging hut at Jamchua. The total number of seedlings planted in these nurseries was 1,525. The following statement shows the numbers and varieties of plants in each nursery :—

8. Staging Bungalows.—Four Inspection Bungalows, viz., those at Lohardaga, Opa, Lodhma, and Jaria, and six Staging huts were repaired. Out-houses were constructed at four Staging huts, viz., Nagri, Dorma, Bharno and Murgu. The Road Cess Office and godown were also thoroughly repaired.

9. Sanitation.—The Registers I and II of the rural villages containing 100 houses for existing water-supply of the entire districts were prepared under Bengal Government Circular No. 8T.—M., dated 15th May 1896, and verified by the District Superintendent of Police, Civil Surgeon of the district, and tested by the Chairman. A sum of Rs. 998-12-7 was spent by the District Road Committee of this District during the year in constructing four pucka wells at Lohardaga, Opa, Lodhma, and Jaria on the Road Cess bungalow compound for the use of the public and passengers. There is absolutely no fear of a failure of drinking water in this district. Every village has one or more daris or natural springs which are perennial and afford a wholesome supply of water. In isolated cases daris run very low in the hot weather, and some delay and inconvenience is caused to the people in obtaining a sufficient supply, but this is not generally the case. There are wells in nearly all big villages, but it is difficult to be sure how far these are perennial. Most wells in this district are apt to run dry or nearly so in May, and owing the rocky nature of the soil, it is difficult to make them of any very great depth. As a rule the people prefer dari water to well water, and do not drink tank water at all. The registers do not appear to be reliable, no distinction having as a rule been made between wells and daris. The following statement shows the thanawari totals of Form No. I of the Register of water-supply prepared under Bengal Government Circular No. 8T.—M., dated 15th May 1896 :—

10. Tools and Plant.—Thirty-six pickaxes, twelve kodalies, twenty-four iron rammers, some furniture and crockery for the Inspection bungalows, and a few other articles, were purchased. Repairs were also done to tools and furniture.

11. Generally it may be said that more attention has been paid to good and lasting works in the roads and buildings than to quantity of work. The works have all been executed by contract during the year, and the small sums advanced to the contractors have been adjusted.

12 The increase of expenditure under head 'Stationery and printing,' 'Establishment,' 'Staging bungalow Establishment and Contingencies' and 'Staging bungalow petty construction and repairs,' is due to the payment for revaluation printed forms supplied by the Superintendent of Stationery, suspense allowance of late Sub-Overseer, Babu Gouri Prosad Roy, the increase of Staging huts and thorough repairs of the Road Cess Office and godown respectively during the year.

13. The Establishments entertained under the Road Cess Act are:—

(a) Establishment for Collection of Revenue.
(b) Committee's Office Establishment·
(c) Engineering Establishment.

The Establishment for Collection of Revenue consists of one Head Clerk and Accountant, one Assistant Clerk, and one Peon. These officers also do the work of the Committee's Office, for which there is no separate Establishment. The several Establishments employed under the Committee performed their duties satisfactorily.

14. The following statement shows the relative expenditure on Works and Repairs, compared with expenditure on Establishments, &c., in 1896-97:—

Original works.	Repairs.	Total.	All the rest.	Percentage of expenditure on Works.	Percentage of Establishment, &c.

15. Accounts.—The Monthly Accounts of the Road Fund and of the District Engineer's Office were examined and audited by the Vice-Chairman and two other English-knowing members of the Committee who were appointed for the purpose. The Accounts of the year were duly examined and audited by a Sub-Committee consisting of the Vice-Chairman and two other English-knowing members of the Committee. The Local Auditor inspected this and the District Engineer's Office of the 13th May 1896 and the result was very satisfactory the Accounts have not since been audited.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Palamau, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district during the year 1896-97.

(Vide letter No. 57D.R., dated 20th July 1897, from R. H. Renny, Esq., Chairman, District Road Committee, Palamau, to the Commissioner, Chota Nagpur Division.)

1. Working of the Committee.—Twelve meetings of the District Road Committee were held during the year, of which one fell through for want of a quorum. The average attendance of the members was 6·7, against 7·0 in the preceding year, out of a total of 16 members.

RECEIPTS.

2. Working of the Cess Act.—Road-cess was levied at the maximum rate of half an anna in the rupee both on the annual value of lands and on the annual net profits from mines. The demand on account of cess on lands and mines for the year was Rs. 43,524, against Rs. 43,537 in the preceding year. The year commenced with an arrear balance of Rs. 7,200 plus Rs. 9, the arrear due from Gogda transferred to the Government Khas Mahal, and this, together with the current demand for the year, minus Rs. 1,437 previously paid in advance, gave a total of Rs. 49,296 for collection within the year. Of this sum Rs. 7,198 were realised on account of arrears, and Rs. 33,286 on account of the current demand, leaving a balance at the end of the year of Rs. 8,812, against Rs. 7,200 in the preceding year. Besides the arrear and current collections mentioned above, a sum of Rs. 1,154 was collected as advance for future year. Thus the total collections during the year 1896-97, amounted to Rs. 41,638, against Rs 42,161 in 1895-96. Out of the balance of Rs. 8,812, the sum of Rs. 5,155 is due from the following principal Estates:—

	Rs.
(1) Sonepura	2,229
(2) Chandaigir	483
(3) Nawdiha	215
(4) Nowagarh	296
(5) Tori	1,932
Total ...	5,155

13. Constructing a Charitable Dispensary and Hospital building at Daltonganj ...	11,600	11,600	2,567	9	9
Total ...	...	26,457	13,855	2	4

It will be observed that the total allotment for Original Works was Rs. 26,457 and the total expenditure Rs. 13,855, the large difference being mainly due to the expenditure on item 13 being much less than would have been the case had the difficulty of procuring sâl wood from the Government forest reserves, consequent upon the absence of cart-roads, been not so great as it is.

(1) The first section of the Garhwa-Sirguja road, on which an expenditure of Rs. 10,465 was reported in the last report, was not completed during the year, owing partly to the unsatisfactory progress made by the contractor, and partly to the general scarcity of food-grains. An expenditure of only Rs. 810 was incurred during the year, against an allotment of Rs. 2,495 in the Budget. More work than is represented by Rs. 810 was done during the year; but as it was not all done in one stretch, and difficult portions involving rock-blasting have been left out in many places, payment has been withheld until the work is satisfactorily completed.

(2) The second section of the Garhwa Sirguja road, from Ranka to the border of the district towards Sirguja, 18 miles in length, the earthwork of 4 miles of which was reported to have been completed in the last report, progressed fairly satisfactorily in the early part of the year; but with the first signs of an impending famine, as indicated by rapidly rising prices early in November, the number of coolies, the majority of whom were imported from Lohardaga and Gaya, began to fall off until the work came to an absolute standstill. The expenditure on this work was Rs. 3,889 during the year, which, together with Rs. 2,998 recorded in the last report, makes the total expenditure to date Rs. 6,887, against a sanctioned Estimate and Government grant of Rs. 23,346. A sum of Rs. 15,000 out of the unexpended balance has since been placed by the District Road Committee at the disposal of the Deputy Commissioner owing to urgent famine necessities having to be met in other parts of the district. Out of the 18 miles of road, the earthwork on about 7 miles has been done up to date, including some temporary culverts on this length.

(3) The extension on the Daltonganj to Hussenabad road to the border of the district at Dingwar, a length of 7 miles, on which an expenditure of Rs. 1,296 was reported in the last report, was completed during the year, at a total cost of Rs. 2,154. The final payment has been deferred owing to the contractor not having rectified some defects in the temporary culverts, several of which collapsed during the last rains.

(4) The constructing of two pucka culverts and easing certain steep grades in the approaches of unbridged rivers on the Daltonganj to Garhwa road, the expenditure on which during the year was Rs. 299 only against an allotment of Rs. 869, subsequently revised to Rs. 319; the total expenditure to date being Rs 1.403 against a sanctioned Estimate of Rs. 2,043. All the items of works in the sanctioned Estimate have been completed, except regrading the approaches of the Tulley river on the 12th mile, which involves rock cutting and blasting. It is extremely difficult to do this class of work in a district so remote from skilled labour, and as the demands for famine relief necessitated the diversion of the unexpended balance to relief works, the proposal for regrading has been for the present given up.

(5) The construction of a number of pucka culverts on the Daltonganj to Hussenabad Road.—An Estimate amounting to Rs. 9,699 was sanctioned, and Rs. 2,950 expended during the year against an allotment of Rs. 4,000 subsequently revised to Rs. 2,950. The following culverts were completed during the year, and materials for some others were got ready:—

2½-feet single slab culvert	... ...	1
2½ ,, double ,, ,,	... ...	4
4 ,, arched culvert	... ...	1
5 ,, Ditto	... ...	3
6 ,, Ditto	... .	1
8 ,, Ditto	... ...	1
Total ...		11

The masonry portion of a 10-feet culvert on the 14th mile was completed some time ago, but the sâl beams and planking have not yet been supplied by the contractor, owing to the difficulty of procuring sâl timber in this district.

(6) Special repairs to 18 existing pucka culverts on the Daltonganj towards Sherghatty Roard.—A sum of Rs. 500 was sanctioned, and work to the value of Rs. 572 was executed. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 500.

(7) The construction of a 20-feet masonry bridge with timber roadway on the 12th mile of the Daltonganj towards Sherghatty Road.—An Estimate of Rs. 1,156 was sanctioned for the work. But as the sanction was received towards the close of the year, materials only which had been collected in anticipation of sanction were paid for during the year. The allotment in the Budget was Rs. 679, of which Rs. 402 only was spent. The work has since been put in hand and is fast approaching completion.

(8) The construction of the 20-feet arched bridge on the 23rd mile of the Daltonganj towards Sherghatty Road.—Out of the total cost of Rs. 1,053, Rs. 1,000 were expended in 1895-96, and the balance of Rs. 53 was paid during the year.

(9) Materials to the value of Rs. 369 were collected and a payment of Rs. 300 made for a 20 feet masonry bridge on the 41st mile of the Daltonganj towards Ranchi road. An Estimate amounting to Rs. 1,120 for this work is awaiting sanction after the usual preliminary scrutiny by the Superintending Engineer.

(10) The construction of a two-roomed Inspection bungalow at Latiahar on the 41st mile of the Ranchi Road.—A sum of Rs. 900 was sanctioned for the work, including a small outhouse, and it was completed during the year at a cost of Rs. 899.

(11) The masonry well at Chandwa.—An expenditure of Rs. 384 on the work was reported in the last report. The total cost of the well having been Rs. 411, the balance of Rs. 27 was paid during 1896-97.

(12) The construction of the three pucka wells at Latdag, Kurso and Manatu.—Out of an allotment of Rs. 1,000 made for them in the Budget, Rs. 299 were expended in constructing the Latdag well, which is 28 feet deep and 6 feet inside diameter. The sâl wood platform has yet to be done, and the work finally paid for. Rai Gobind Prosad Singh Bahadur of Runka, a member of the District Road Committee, received an advance of Rs. 100 for the construction of a well near Kurso out of this allotment. He agreed to bear one-half of the total cost of the well, the District Road Committee paying the other half. The well has been sunk to a depth of 26 feet with some difficulty, and hard rock has been struck. The work will have either to be abandoned or completed at a heavy cost. Materials were collected and all arrangements made for the pucka well at Manatu, the sinking of which was about to be commenced in December, but the demands for famine relief works in other parts of the district have prevented this work being carried out.

(13) The construction of a pucka terraced-roofed Hospital building on the type plan.—Plans and Estimate, the latter amounting to Rs. 11,600, were prepared by the District Engineer and sanctioned by Government with certain modifications. The Dispensary Committee of Daltonganj made over Rs. 11,600 to the District Road Committee of Palamau for this work. The brickwork has reached the beam level all round, and an expenditure of Rs. 2,568 was incurred during the year. Endeavour is being made to do the terrace roofing during the rains of 1898, and to complete the building before the year is out.

4. Original Works: Provincial Buildings.—The following table shows the estimated cost and outlay in original works, Provincial, of all descriptions executed by the District Road Committee from the Provincial Funds during the year:—

The works costing Rs. 500 and upwards executed or undertaken by the District Road Committee from Provincial Funds placed at their disposal were as follows:—

(a) Reconstructing the roof of the Palamau Zilla School building at Daltonganj.—This building was transferred to the Public Works Department in 1895-96, when it was found that the reconstruction of its roof was necessary. An Estimate amounting to Rs. 1,952, was sanctioned for this work in Bengal Government letter No 2385B. of 5th May 1896, and collection of materials was at once ordered Owing to the great difficulty of procuring sâl timber for building purposes, no contractor could be got to tender for the work until towards the close of the year. Consequently no expenditure was incurred during the year.

(b) Special repairs to the District Superintendent of Police's bungalow at Daltonganj.—Were undertaken and completed during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,228 against a sanction of Rs. 1,278.

(c) Constructing a third class Mortuary according to the type plan at Daltonganj.—A sum of Rs. 647 was sanctioned for it. About two-thirds of the work was done during the year, but no payment made.

(d) The construction of a pucka court building for the Munsif at Daltonganj.—The sanction of Rs 9,570 for this was received in the middle of December 1896, and out of this a grant of Rs. 2,500 was made in advance to enable the necessary materials to be collected. Owing to absolute want of competition in this remote and out-of-the-way district, no tender for the work could be accepted till the 4th January 1897, when orders were issued to the accepted tenderer for collection of materials. Up to the 31st March 1897 materials to the value of Rs. 310 were collected, and the necessary record-racks were obtained from the Dehri Workshops, at a cost of Rs. 509, making the total expenditure to end of year Rs. 900 against a sanction of Rs. 9,570.

The following original works costing below Rs. 500 each were undertaken, many of which were completed, and a few were in progress when the year closed:—

(1) Constructing a Meteorological Observatory shed at Daltonganj.—This work was not done satisfactorily, and therefore no expenditure was made during the year. The defects are being rectified.

(2) Constructing of two temporary latrines on the "separation principle" one in the Deputy Commissioner's compound and another in the Deputy Magistrate's bungalow at Daltonganj, was sanctioned in Bengal Government Public Works Department letter No. 2601B., dated 11th May 1897. This was completed, but no payment made, as the money was not then placed at the disposal of the District Road Committee.

(3) For the fixing of a pump and the covering in of the well of Daltonganj Intermediate Jail.—A sum of Rs. 300 was given in March 1897, in anticipation of sanction of detailed estimate for the work. Pipes, &c., have been ordered from Calcutta, but no expenditure was incurred during the year.

5. Repairs, Local.—There are no Provincial or Imperial roads in the district, nor is there, unlike any other district in Bengal, a single road of class I or class II, whether Provincial or Local. The 16 fair-weather roads maintained by the District Road Committee aggregate 318 miles in length, of which 3 miles are of class III, 256½ miles are of class IV, and 58½ are of class VI (new classification). The above is exclusive of the 31 miles of Gurhwa-Sirguja road under construction, of which 18 miles are nearly completed and 13 miles yet untouched. The total expenditure on III, IV and VI class roads during the year was Rs. 9,136, or an average of Rs. 28-8 per mile, as against Rs. 10,034, or Rs. 32-8 per mile, respectively, in the preceding year. The principal items of work executed in repairing the roads were:—

(1) Petty repairs to the road surface, including jungle-clearing and surface-dressing.
(2) Cutting new drains and clearing old ones to improve drainage.
(3) Regrading some steep approaches in and out of unbridged rivers and nalas.
(4) Gravel patch repairs on a few miles that are gravelled.
(5) Repairing and rebuilding temporary culverts, &c.

6. Repairs, Village roads.—There are 25½ miles of road of this class in the printed Schedule of roads, of which 3 miles are class III, 1½ miles are class IV, and 21 miles are class VI. The total expenditure on 25½ miles of village roads was Rs. 325-3-7, or Rs. 13 per mile, as against Rs. 13½ in the preceding year.

7. Repairs, Staging and Inspection Bungalows.—A sum of Rs. 671-2-6 was expended during the year in executing repairs to these bungalows.

8. Repairs, Provincial.—The year opened with an unexpended balance of Rs. 741-1-2 of the annual Government grant for repairs to Public Works Department Civil Buildings at Daltonganj. This sum, together with the grant of Rs 1,981 for the year, viz., Rs. 2,722-1-2, was the amount available for repairs during the year. The principal works executed during the year under this head were as follows:—

(a) Thorough quadrennial repairs to the Deputy Magistrate's bungalow and one out-house at Daltonganj at a cost of Rs. 1,120.

(b) Thorough quadrennial repairs to the Deputy Commissioner's Court building with four out-buildings at Daltonganj. This work was in progress when the year closed, and an expenditure of Rs. 588 was incurred during the year.

Besides the above, urgent petty repairs to roof leaks, whitewashing, &c., were executed to the District Superintendent of Police's Residence bungalow, Intermediate Jail buildings, and Deputy Commissioner's Residence bungalow. The total expenditure during the year for repairs to the last-named building was recorded at Rs 427, which includes the amount of Rs. 315 paid to the contractor for his dues on account of quadrennial repairs to the building executed by him in 1895-96. The following table shows the amount spent during the year in quadrennial and petty repairs to the Public Works Department buildings at Daltonganj:—

Register number of buildings.	Name of building.	Amount expended during 1896-97.	Nature of repairs.
1	2	3	4
		Rs. A. P.
2	Deputy Magistrate's bungalow ...	1,120 0 0
5	Deputy Commissioner's Court building	588 8 6
3	Deputy Commissioner's Residence bungalow	426 15 2
1	District Superintendent of Police's Residence bungalow.	15 9 0
6	Intermediate Jail building	59 12 9
	Total	2,210 13 5

The unexpended balance of the Provincial grant for maintenance of Civil Buildings on the 1st of April 1897 was therefore Rs. 2,722-1-2 less Rs. 2,210-13-5, or Rs. 511-3-9.

9. A requisition amounting to Rs. 65-1-6 was sanctioned in Bengal Government Public Works Department letter No. 690G., dated the 20th February 1897, for paying Municipal taxes on the Public Works Department Residential bungalows at Daltonganj. Of this Rs. 22-4-6 was expended during the year. The sanction having been received too late, the Municipality realised the taxes on these buildings from the official occupier, who paid them on receipt of the first orders of Government conveyed in Bengal Government letter No. 2511G., dated 23rd November 1896.

10. Arboriculture.—A sum of Rs. 100 only, as against Rs. 300 in previous years, was allotted under this head, but afterwards diverted to famine relief. All road-side trees were maintained from the funds for repairs to the roads, and no new trees were planted or seedlings raised in the nursery.

11. Establishment.—The Public Works Department agency having been withdrawn from this district, there was no Public Works Department Establishment employed under the District Engineer. The engineering establishment of the district for the design and construction of works during the year consisted of one District Engineer on Rs. 250 per month, of which Government contributes Rs. 100 per month, and one Sub-overseer on Rs. 35 per month. Two temporary Sub-overseers, one in charge of Sirguja road, and the other in charge of the construction of the Charitable Dispensary and Hospital building at Daltonganj on Rs. 60 (including Travelling Allowance) and Rs. 40 per mensem respectively. The pay of the latter is provided in and charged to the estimate for the work. Besides the above, there were 3 Munshis and 2 Office and 2 Road peons as Petty Work Establishment for both the Provincial and Local works and repairs. The cost of the engineering establishment during the year was Rs. 6,670-7-7 against the budget grant of Rs. 6,900. The following statement shows the relative expenditure on works and repairs compared with the expenditure on establishment employed on roads :—

Year.	Revenue.	Amount spent on Original Works.	Amount spent on Repairs.	Total expenditure on Original Works and Repairs.	Expenditure on account of Establishment employed on works. 12. Tools and Plant.—The expenditure under this head was Rs. 85-12 against an allotment of Rs. 155.

13. Staging bungalow Establishment and Contingencies.—A sum of Rs. 817-2-10 was expended under this head against an allotment of Rs. 898. Besides the wages of chaukidars, a sum of Rs. 207-8 was expended in providing new articles of furniture in the Latiahar and Runka bungalows, and some additional ones in the other bungalows.

14. The opening balance of the District Road Committee in the preceding year was Rs. 26,734-2-4, and that in the year 1896-97, Rs. 25,513-3-3. This balance could not be brought down to the limit of one quarter's income, as prescribed by the rules, in consequence of the unexpended balance of about Rs. 9.032 out of the contribution for construction of a Charitable Dispensary building at Daltonganj, and Rs. 11,769 out of the Government contribution for the execution of certain petty works connected with the Public Works Department, Civil Buildi gs.

The Inspecting officers do not speak of any deficiency of the water-supply of those villages visited by them, except in Bhandar, a village in Patan thana, where a tank is to be repaired, and in Nagar Untari, where a pucka well has to be sunk. In the famine relief works every advantage has been taken of the opportunity of improving existing tanks and to make new ones, and also to repair old and construct new reservoirs both for purposes of irrigation and for increasing the supply of water for both human being and cattle.

16 The Accounts of the Committee's Office are kept under direct supervision of the Chairman. These Accounts, as well as those of the District Engineer's office, were audited monthly by the standing Sub-Committee composed of the Vice-Chairman and two other English-knowing members, appointed under the provisions of section 174 of the Act. The Accounts have not been checked by the local Auditor.

The outstanding balance of the year 1895-96 was Rs. 29,128, and the demand for the year 1896-97 was Rs. 78,423 against Rs. 22,147 (outstanding balance) and Rs. 83,012 (demand) respectively for the previous year. The decrease in demand was due to the low assessment of some of the collieries on account of the fall in price of coal. The collection during the year was Rs. 70,510 against Rs. 75,379. The percentage of the total collection on the total demand is 65·6. The deficient collection due to a large amount of arrears due from the Pachet Estate has been realised after the close of the year, and certificates have been issued against all the estates except those which are under the management of the Manager of the Encumbered Estates for realization of the balance. The following statement shows the total amount placed in the hands of the District Road Committee consisting of Road Cess and other miscellaneous collections, and the expenditure during the year:—

5. Original Works, (a) Communications.—The allotment under this head in the revised budget for the year was Rs. 4,350, of which Rs. 4,000 was for construction of the Balarampur-Bagmundi road, and Rs. 350 for construction of a village road from the 6th mile of the Purulia-Barakar road to Sarbari. The works done on the Balarampur-Bagmundi road consisted of some earthwork (5,38,638 cubic feet) and construction of some temporary culverts with a total waterway of 8 running feet. Works for the entire amount have been executed, but only Rs. 2,238-5-9, were paid during the year, partly on account of want of funds and partly because the works could not be measured, the Sub-Overseers being engaged in famine relief works. The total amount actually spent up to the end of the year was Rs. 7,238-5-9 against Rs. 17,056 the total sanctioned amount for the work.

(b) Buildings.—A sum of Rs. 628 was received from Government for constructing a boarding-house attached to the Purulia Zilla School. The building in question was completed within the year, but final payments could not be made for reasons stated above. The amount actually paid was Rs. 179.

(c) Sanitation and water-supply.—The only work done under this head consisted of the excavation of two pucka wells, one at Kantadi on the 9th mile of the Purulia-Chaibassa road, and the other at Gangiara on the 47th mile of the Purulia-Bankura road. No payments have been made on this account for reasons stated above.

6. Repairs; Communications.—The total length of roads under the District Road Committee is 467½ miles, of which 59 miles are Provincial roads transferred to the Committee in 1893-94 and 408½ miles district roads of all classes. The annual Government grant for the Provincial roads (two in number) is Rs. 12,900. The unspent balance of the previous year was Rs. 2,375. The total amount available for expenditure was therefore Rs. 15,275. The total amount spent was Rs. 10,578 only. All the works were completed, but for reasons stated above final payments could not be made within the year. A detailed statement showing the expenditure under different heads in these roads is given below:—

In addition to ordinary necessary repairs, the following works were executed during the year in the above roads—

(i) About 4 miles of the Purulia-Barakar road which is a first class road, bridged and stone metalled, were remetalled and two miles, gravelled over old metalling.

(ii) Portions in all 4 miles in length, Chass-Gulbera road which is a kutcha road were improved with gravel work.

The amount spent on district roads of all classes during the year was Rs. 18,178 against a revised budget grant of Rs. 28,176. Sub-overseers having been employed on Famine Relief Works and the funds at credit of the District Road Committee towards close of the year not permitting, final measurements and payments, could not be made, though all the estimated works were completed within the year. A classified statement showing expenditure under this head on the several roads is given below:—

The operations of the year were chiefly restricted to the maintenance of the several roads. Petty improvements by gravel work in places easing down approaches to unbridged nalas and rivers and adjusting formation and slopes of old banks were also effected in most of the roads. Nothing else was done which deserves any particular mention.

(b) Buildings.—The only buildings in charge of the District Road Committee are the Inspection bungalows and the cart serais. These were maintained in fair condition.

7. Arboriculture.—A sum of Rs. 144 was spent under this head in maintaining trees on the Purulia Station roads. Some of the gaps in the avenues were also filled up by planting young trees. The work done under this head in the Provincial roads under the Committee consisted chiefly in the maintenance of the young and established trees in the portions of road under plantation. The total expenditure on this head on the above (Provincial) roads was Rs. 1,111; being Rs. 396 on the Chas-Gulbera road and Rs. 303 on the first section and Rs. 412 in the second section of the Purulia-Barakar road.

8. Working Establishment.—During the year there has been no change of the Executive Establishment.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Singhbhum, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1896-97.

(Vide letter No. 67R.C., dated 17th June 1897, from C. H. Bompas, Esq., the Chairman, District Road Committee, Singhbhum, to the Commissioner, Chota Nagpur Division.)

1. Working of the Committee.—The District Road Committee held eight meetings during the year, in all of which, except in one on the 18th January 1897, a quorum was obtained: the average attendance being 5·28 against 6·00 in the previous year.

RECEIPTS.

2. Working of the Cess Act.—The road cess in the district was, as in the previous year, levied at the maximum rate prescribed by law, and it was published in Government notification No. 2102P., dated 31st March 1896. The demand, collection and balances on account of road cess on lands, quarries and jungles during the year, are shown in round figures in the statement below.

Arrear outstanding from last year.	Demand for the year.	Remissions of demand.		Net demand.		Collections during the year.		Net gross balance.	Remarks.

19	5,229	7	9	12	5,220	12	5,205	15	The collections made from 1st to 13th April (12th being holiday) not included in this statement.

Out of the arrear demand of Rs. 19, Rs. 7 was remitted under Commissioner's order No. 332R.C., dated 2nd November 1896, as irrecoverable. The balance of Rs. 12 was recovered in full within the year. Out of the current demand of Rs. 5,229, a sum of Rs. 9, appertaining to cesses on lands, was remitted under Board's order No. 577A., dated 29th October 1896, with effect from 1892-93. The whole of this amount was deducted from the current demand on lands; as the previous year closed without arrears to recover. Thus the net current demand of the year, including cess on lands, mines, quarries and jungles, amounted to Rs. 5,220. Out of this sum, Rs. 5,205 (including Rs. 117 due to the Collector of Midnapore on account of road cess for 35 villages of taraf Parihaty, appertaining to Midnapore district) were recovered within the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 15 for realization in the next year. The whole of this sum is under realization by coercive measures. A large amount out of the current balance was realized after the close of the year. The percentage of arrear collection after deducting remission is 100, and that of current collection over the current demand, after deducting remission, is 99·71. The valuations of three rent free estates, Porahat, Kera and Anundpur, were completed towards the close of the year, and the final report submitted to the Commissioner on the 26th March 1897, and hence no cess could be realized from them within the year. The annual valuation of immoveable properties, viz., forest, quarries, mines, etc., under Chapter V of the Cess Act in pargana Dhalbhum, Porahat Kera and Anundpur, were completed in time and in a systematic way, and the valuation resulted in an increase of Rs. 514 during the year.

3. The receipts (Rs. 964) shown in the receipts side of the Annual Account against sub-head 'Miscellaneous,' include Rs. 46 realised on account of cost in certificate cases under section 97 of the Cess Act, Rs. 462 credited to the District Road Fund under Accountant-General, Bengal's order by transfer from Provincial Revenue on account of pension of the late Sub-Overseer, but subsequently the amount was refunded into the treasury in favour of Government from District Road Fund, Rs. 236 on account of sale-proceeds of Kochang and Bandgaon Inspection bungalow, and Rs. 220, on account of other miscellaneous petty items.

4. The unusual flood of the year caused heavy damage to the several roads and bridges; and as the fund at the disposal of the Committee was quite insufficient to meet the requirements, the Raja Bahadur of Seraikela was asked to help the Committee with a contribution of Rs 700 to make good the damage caused to the Chaibassa-Subarnarekha river road, which passes through his elaka. The Raja Bahadur generously paid the Committee Rs. 600 for the purpose.

EXPENDITURE.

6. Public Works.—Original Works.—A sum of Rs. 4,922-1-6 was expended under this head during the year, against a budget allotment of Rs. 5,082, and the following works were carried out:—

(a) About 7 miles of the heavy portions of the following districts roads were gravelled at a cost of Rs. 3,650-11-2, the average being 521·56 per mile:—

(1) Chaibassa-Bend,
(2) Chaibassa-Subarnarekha river road,
(3) Chaibassa-Katbari road,
(4) Chaibassa-Jyntgarh road,
(5) Chakradharpur-Milipiri road.

(b) The ghats of the Sanjoy nala on the Chakradharpur-Koksinga Road and the ramps of nalas on the Chaibassa-Subarnarekha river road were eased at a cost of Rs. 66-2-10 and Rs. 704-11 respectively.

(c) The 12 wooden culverts on the Dudkurhi-Kumararha village road in Dhalbhum (old Sumbulpur road) commenced on the previous years, have been completed and findly paid for during the year. The total cost incurred is Rs. 514-5-7, including Rs. 400-6-3 paid for during the year. The estimated cost for this work was Rs. 618.

(d) Arboriculture.—A sum of Rs. 100-2-3 was expended during the year in purchasing some plants from the Superintendent of Sibpur Botanical Garden, and planting them on the two important roads, from Chaibassa to Jyntgarh, and from Chaibassa to Katbari, the budget allotment being Rs. 100. Roadside trees do not grow well in this district, the soil being generally poor.

7. Repair Works.—There were hardly any important Repair works carried out during the year. A sum of Rs. 5,995-7-7 was expended under the head 'Repairs' against a budget grant of Rs. 6,307. Only petty or patch repairs, renewal of gravelling, and reconstruction or repairs of temporary bridges or pucka culverts and the shelter houses and inspection bungalows, and maintaining roadside trees, were executed with the amount during the year. The works carried out during the year under this head are classified thus:—

(a) 104 miles of class II roads were maintained at a cost of Rs. 1,602-13-3, the average cost being 15·41 per mile.

(b). 49 miles of class III roads were maintained at a cost of Rs. 1,332-15-2, the average cost per mile being Rs. 27·20. This sum includes Rs. 105 incurred in doing petty repairs to some of the culverts on the Chaibassa to Jyntgarh and Chaibassa to Amda roads.

(c) 82 miles of class IV roads were maintained at a cost of Rs. 649-10, the average cost being Rs. 7·93 per mile.

(d) 177 miles of class V roads were maintained at a cost of Rs. 1,644-10-7, the average cost being Rs. 9·29 per mile. This sum includes Rs. 171 spent in repairing some temporary wooden culverts on the Gamaria-Jaggarnathpur and Jaggarnathpur to Jamda, class V roads in the Kolhan Government Estate.

(e) 51 miles of village roads both in Kolhan and Dhalbhum were maintained at a cost of Rs. 206-13-8, the average cost being Rs. 4·05 per mile. The works on some of the village roads in Kolhan and some of the class V roads, as reported last year, were made over to the Mundas and Monkis in the Kolhan, and the outturn of works, as reported by the District Engineer, was much better than the contract system. It is intended to try this system on larger scale during 1897-98.

(f) Three Inspection bunglows furnished with suitable furniture, and seven roadside shelter houses (Milipiri, Lochang, Gamaria, Burhi, Shulko, Dugni and Roghunathpur), and the Committee's Office building were repaired at a cost of Rs. 397-4-11 Towards the close of the year, the old bungalow at Bandgaon and the Kochang Bungalow were sold for Rs. 70 and Rs. 150 to Babu Jagamohan Singh, zamindar of Bandgaon, and to the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardaga respectively.

(g) Arboriculture.—A sum of Rs. 161-4 was expended during the year in rearing trees and protecting them with gabions. The remarks made in paragraph 6(d) against the original arboriculture work apply to this also mutatis mutandis.

8. The following table shows the Revenue of the Committee (excluding Advances and Deposits), the expenditure on Original and Repair Works and on the Establishment employed on the Works, the percentage of cost of such Establishment on the amount spent on Works, and the percentage on total expenditure on Works, (including Establishment calculated on the Revenue):—

GURU CHARAN ROY,
Road Cess Accountant, Singhbhum.

M. M. GHOSE,
Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Singhbhum.

C. H. BOMPAS,
Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Singhbhum.

Abstract of the Report by the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Parganas on the operations of the District Road Account of the District for the year 1896-97.

[Vide letter No. 304P.W., dated 12th July 1897, from R. CARSTAIRS, ESQ., C.S., Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Parganas, to the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division and Sonthal Parganas.]

1. This district is not under the operations of either the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 or the Cess Act of 1880. No Committee has been formed in it, but the Deputy Commissioner controls all road works throughout the district with the aid of the Subdivisonal Officers and the District Engineer.

RECEIPTS.

2. There being no cess collections, funds were provided by Government grants-in-aid. The receipts for the year, compared with those of the preceding year, are shown below:—

3. In 1895-96 a larger number of cooly-recruiters and their agents occupied the Inspection bungalows than in the year 1896-97, and hence the receipts under 'Rents of serais, bungalows, &c.,' during the year fell short.

4. Rs. 48 shown under 'Private donation,' is the balance of the amount of Rs. 73 promised by the villagers of Ghormara to be paid for construction of a rubble masonry irrigation channel and for protection of Ghormara bridge on the 30th mile of the road No. 3, Dumka-Deoghur Road.

5. The receipts under 'Government grant,' viz., Rs. 80,927, are made up thus:—

		Rs.
(1) Annual grant for road works	... ...	34,000
(2) Additional annual grant for road works	... ...	16,000

The increase of Rs. 107 under 'Administration—Establishment and Contingencies, &c.' is owing to payment of grain compensation allowance and to payment of contribution for 1894-95 for pension to the accountant, under Rule III of the Pension Rules sanctioned by Government in its No. 1000L.S.-G of 12th March 1895. The decrease under 'Stationery and Printing is due to non-payment of cost during the year for printing and publishing in the Calcutta Gazette the annual accounts and reports of the District Road Account. Out of the increase of Rs. 5,256 under 'Tools and Plant,' Rs. 323 was spent for the purchase of furniture for the District Engineer's office, and the balance for Tools and Plant for famine work. The increase under 'petty construction and repairs' is due to partial quadrennial repairs having had to be made to the two dâk bungalows at Sahibganj and Rajmahal. In 1895-96 Rs. 325-4 was spent from 'Land Revenue' to meet the cost of survey made for settlement of Teliaguri boundary, and Rs. 11-5 for vaccination in the Damin-i-koh; whereas Rs. 45 was spent in 1896-97 to meet the cost for the latter only. This, together with the amount of Rs. 793 accounted for under 'Original Works,' have been shown under 'Land Revenue, Miscellaneous.' In 1895-96 there was only one officer who contributed to the Provident Fund, whereas in the year 1896-97 there were three, and hence the increase. As to advances owing to the introduction in 1895-96 of the rules sanctioned by Government in its No. 3556F., of 25th June 1894, for administration of Road and other funds by the Subdivisional officers and the Forest officer, under which no advances are required to be made to them, the advance payment is decreasing every year.

7. Original Works.—The expenditure under 'Original works' and 'Repairs' is shown in the Annual Account for 1896-97 under two major heads, 'Public Works' and 'Land Revenue' under instruction from the Accountant-General, Bengal, unlike that for the previous year; and in consequence comparison is made here with the expenditure under the two heads added together. Thus Rs. 14,972 (Public Works, Original Works, Rs. 5,174 + Land Revenue, Original Works, Rs. 7,927 + Land Revenue, Miscellaneous, Rs. 793, + Land Revenue, Sanitary improvement, Rs. 1,078) were spent on Original Works during the year, against an expenditure of Rs. 27,313 in the preceding year. Under Government Orders No. 5855A., dated 25th November 1896, expenditure was curtailed under this head to meet that for Famine Relief works, and hence the decrease under this head.

8. The following are the principal Original Works done during the year:—

From District Road Account.

(1) Improvement of Pakour-Dhulian Road:- Out of the estimated cost of Rs. 16,414, Rs. 452 was spent during the year in addition to Rs. 10,000 spent previously.

(2) Certain improvements were made to Nunihat Inspection Bungalow at a cost of Rs. 512 against an Estimate of Rs. 685.

(3) A rubble stone masonary bridge of 2 spans of 13′ 7½″ each, in place of a timber bridge over the Chiricmara nala on the 58th mile of Bhagalpur-Suri Road was completed during the year 1896-97 at a total cost of Rs. 583 against an Estimate of Rs. 600, of which Rs. 184 was paid during the year.

(4) A bathroom in the Palajuri Inspection bungalow, on the 17th mile of Dumka-Madhupur Road was made at a cost of Rs. 30.

(5) Two dongas for the ferry in Moar on the 6th mile of Dumka-Deoghur Road were made at a cost of Rs. 92.

From Land Revenue.

(6) Rupees 50 was paid to the late District Engineer, Babu Apurva Krishna Mittra, as honorarium for supervision of a stone masonry bridge over the Aluara stream on the 11th mile of Dumka-Pakour Road under article 89(b) of the Civil Service Regulations. The total amount spent on this work, including this, comes to Rs. 1,729.

(7) The iron girder bridge over the Morel stream on the 19th mile of Rajmahal-Partabpur Road was opened for traffic during the year. The Estimate sanctioned for the work amounts to Rs. 16,389, against which Rs. 4,662 was spent during the year in addition to Rs. 11,716 spent up to end of 1895-96.

(8) The Hatigurh bridge, in the Pakour Damin, was partially improved this year at a cost of Rs. 136.

(9) Three masonry culverts, each of 5 feet span, were constructed in Rajabhita-Karmataur Road in the Godda Damin at an outlay of Rs. 614.

(10) A masonry culvert of 2 spans of 8 feet each at Patna in the Rajmahal Damin was taken in hand. The Estimate for the work amounts to Rs. 525, against which Rs. 90 only was expended in 1896-97.

(11) A hill road from Burhait to Tinpahar. The Estimate sanctioned for the work amounts to Rs. 800, against which Rs. 158 was spent in 1895-96. and Rs. 99 in 1896-97.

(12) Masonry bridges on Godda-Simlong Road in the Godda Damin. Of the total expenditure of Rs. 3,952 incurred up to 31st March 1897, Rs. 2,255 was spent in 1896-97. The estimated cost of the work is Rs. 5,920.

From Public Works Fund.

(13) Three combined latrines and urinals of corrugated iron for ministerial officers at Godda, Jamtara and Pakour. The Estimate sanctioned by Government amounts to Rs. 900 and the works were completed at a total cost of Rs 802

(14) Two mortuaries at Rajmahal and Pakour. The estimated cost of the works as sanctioned by Government is Rs. 890. They were commenced in 1895-96 and have been completed at a total expenditure of Rs. 880.

(15) Certain additions and alterations to the Post Master's quarters at Dumka were carried out at a cost of Rs. 399 against an Estimate of Rs. 400.

(16) The Sinking of the well in the compound of Madhupur Post office was completed at a cost of Rs. 226.

(17) A letter box was fixed in the wall of the Sakrigalli Post office at a cost of Rs. 10.

From Private Donation.

(18) Improving Ghormara bridge and constructing an irrigation channel, 30th mile, Dumka-Deoghur Road. The villagers of Ghormara contributed Rs. 73, of which Rs. 48 was paid during 1896-97. The work was completed at a cost of Rs. 73

9. Repairs.—Rupees 34,683 (Public Works, Repairs, Rs. 33,713 + Land Revenue, Repairs, Rs. 940 + Land Revenue, Sanitary improvement, Rs. 30) was expended in 1896-97 on repairs against Rs. 48,803 spent in the previous year showing a decrease of Rs. 14,120, which is due to the reasons explained in accounting for the decrease under "Original Works."

10. The total expenditure of Rs. 34,683, under this head is detailed below:—

(a) Two miles of which are maintained by a zamindar.
[Note.—Roads have been classified under column "1895-96" according to the old Schedule.]

All the scheduled roads in the district were repaired during the year, with the exception of road No. 19, Kumerabad Road, which is maintained by the zamindar of Belpatta. The cost of its maintenance is not accounted for in the District Road Account.

2. The number of the Inspection bungalows and huts is 24. Of these, two Inspection bungalows are maintained by the zamindars. The rest were kept in fair repair. The Inspection bungalow at Nunihat was improved at a cost of Rs. 512. The maintenance cost is charged against the road on which they stand.

13. The road office bungalow was improved by adding two rooms, one for the District Engineer and the other for his office Establishment at a cost of Rs. 1,101.

14. The following table shows the income and expenditure of the three staging bungalows in this District as compared with those of the previous year:—

15. Land Revenue.—Under Government orders contained in its No. 47F. of 8th January 1895, the Government Estate Improvement Fund is administered jointly with the Road Fund. Out of the Budget grant of Rs. 15,290, Rs. 10,812 was expended during the year, against Rs. 2,792 in the previous year.

16. Provincial and Imperial Funds.—A sum of Rs. 5,146 was expended during 1896-97 for the up-keep of the Public Works Department Buildings made over to the District Road Account, against Rs. 6,510 available for expenditure, leaving a balance of Rs. 1,364 at the end of the year.

17. Sanitation.—Owing to insufficient funds at our disposal, much could not be done under this head. Rs. 659 were, however, expended from the District Road Account, and Rs. 1,108 from Land Revenue Government Estate Improvement Fund for construction and repair of Wells, Tanks, Baudhs, &c., at places where they are most needed.

18. Water-supply.—The preparation and check of the registers in forms I and II annexed to Government Circular No. 8T.—M. of 15th May 1896, are not as yet complete in respect to all the subdivisions. The following statement shows the thana totals of sources of water-supply in the district:—

The Sub-divisional Officer of Jamtara reports that 'there are numerous springs, water-courses and rivers in his subdivision which, if uncontaminated, would provide wholesome and abundant water to the village people, but these are frequently used for partial cremation of dead bodies, and the unburnt remains and bedding of the deceased are then washed into the stream.' The Sub-divisional Officer of Deoghar reports that certain gentlemen are willing to make over some tanks to the District Road Account for the use of the public, but they plead their inability to repair them properly before they are made over. In one instance such a proposal was refused, as it required an expenditure of Rs. 500 before the tank could be set apart for drinking purposes. The district being not under the operations of the Cess Acts, it is impossible to take any satisfactory action in the direction of improving existing sources of water-supply and of providing new ones with the limited funds at the disposal of the District Road Account, all of which and more are wanted for communication.

19. Arboriculture.—A sum of Rs. 613 was spent in 1896-97 in planting and maintaining trees on road sides and in maintaining nursery gardens in this district, against Rs. 641 in the preceding year. Nine hundred and thirty-nine trees are reported to have been planted during 1896-97 against 1,182 in the previous year, and in all 1,358 died, leaving 25,124 Established roadside trees.

20. Establishment.—The following table shows the distribution of the outlay on Public Works compared with the expenditure on Establishment during 1895-96 and 1896-97:—

(2) specially empower any Salt-revenue Officer or any officer of the Police, Land-revenue, Customs, Excise or Forest Department to exercise all or any of the powers conferred by section 16.

General power to make rules.

40. In addition to the rules which the Local Government is hereinbefore empowered to make, it may from time to time make rules to regulate all or any of the following matters, namely—

(a) the manufacture, deposit, storage, sale and removal of salt or saltpetre in and from any salt-works; [Ben. Act VII of 1864, s. 11.]

(b) the deposit, storage and removal of salt or saltpetre in and from any enclosed place used for the deposit or storage of salt on which duty has not been paid;

(d) the disposal of things seized or confiscated, and the grant of rewards to informers and others; [Ben. Act VII of 1864, s. 40. Mad. Act IV of 1889, s. 85 (h).]

(e) the payment of duty on salt; [Ben. Act VII of 1864, s. 11.]

(f) the cases in which, the officers to whom, and the conditions subject to which, orders made under this Act by Salt-revenue Officers shall be appealable; [Act XII of 1882, s. 28 (b).]

(g) the statistical returns to be furnished by dealers in imported salt and manufacturers of excise salt;

(h) generally, the carrying out of the provisions of this Act. [Mad. Act IV of 1889, s. 85 (i).]

Publication of rules in draft.

41. (1) The Local Government shall, before making any rules under this Act, publish a draft of the proposed rules for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby. [Act I of 1867, s. 6.]

(2) The publication shall be made in such manner as the Local Government directs.

(3) There shall be published with the draft a notice specifying a date at or after which the draft will be taken into consideration.

(4) The Local Government shall consider any objection or suggestion which may be received by it from any person with respect to the draft before the date so specified.

Final publication of rules.

42. All rules made under this Act shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette; and such publication shall be conclusive proof that the rules have been duly made. [Act I of 1867, s. 6 (5).]

Possession or removal of salt by servant or agent.

43. The possession or removal of salt by a servant or agent of any person on that person's account shall be deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to be possession or removal, as the case may be, of such salt by such person himself. [Ben. Act VII of 1864, s. 3; Bom. Act II of 1890, s. 3 (o).]

Presumption as to possession of contraband salt.

44. All contraband salt found in any enclosed place shall be presumed, until the contrary is proved, to be in the possession of the occupier of such place. [Mad. Act IV of 1889, s. 83.]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE main objects of this Bill are—

(a) to provide for the abolition of the system of salt passes (rawánás);

(b) to enable the Government of Bengal to resume charge of the administration of the Salt Department in Orissa; and

(c) to introduce certain changes in the law which experience has shown to be necessary in the interests of the salt revenue.

2. The Bill accordingly repeals Bengal Act VII of 1864, which, as amended by Bengal Act I of 1873, is now in force in the whole of Bengal except the Patna, Bhagalpur and Orissa Divisions and the town of Calcutta, where it has been ousted by Act XII of 1882.

3. Section 3 (4) defines "contraband salt" so as to include salt-earth, which does not come under the definition of "salt" contained in section 3 of the Bengal Act of 1864.

4. Section 3 (11) defines "salt" more fully and precisely than section 3 of the Bengal Act of 1864, and enlarges that definition by withdrawing the condition embodied in the words "used or intended to be used with food."

5. Sections 4 to 7 deal with the subject of establishment and control more fully than the Bengal Act of 1864, which is admitted to be defective in respect of these points.

6. Sections 8 to 14, which are modelled on the corresponding provisions of the Bombay and Madras Salt Acts, give power to control dealings with natural salt and salt earth or saltpetre in any quantity.

7. Sections 12 and 13 reserve power to regulate the movement of salt in the neighbourhood of customs ports and salt or saltpetre factories.

8. Section 14, which enables the Lieutenant-Governor to frame rules for controlling the use of salt-earth, while chiefly directed against illicit manufacture on a large scale, is also intended to mitigate the severity of the law in the case of indigent persons who may make use of salt-earth in small quantities for their private consumption. Under these provisions it will be possible to allow people in saliferous tracts to possess the small quantity of salt-earth which the poorer classes may require for the purposes of domestic manufacture, while still retaining the power to proceed against people who collect large quantities of salt-earth in order to manufacture panga salt for sale.

9. Sections 15 to 26 confer upon Salt-revenue Officers powers of search, inspection, seizure, arrest, inquiry, taking bail and discharge, generally similar to those exercised by Salt Officers in Madras. Except in cases of urgency, searches can only be made under a warrant from a Magistrate, and, when this is dispensed with, the officer must record the information on which he acted.

10. The rest of the Bill consists of supplementary provisions based for the most part upon the Indian Salt Act of 1882 and the Salt Acts of Madras and Bombay.

SOUTH PACIFIC OCEAN.

Particulars of certain banks.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 145 of 1898) that the undermentioned particulars of certain banks in the South Pacific Ocean are derived from recent examinations by Captain A. Mostyn Field, H.M. surveying vessel Penguin:—

(1) Lalla Rookh bank, originally discovered and sounded on by Sir Edward Home, H.M.S. North Star, is 3½ miles long north-east and south-west, with an extreme breadth of 1½ miles.

The north-east end of the bank is in approximately lat. 12° 54′ 30″ S., long. 175° 38′ W., with general depths of 10 to 14 fathoms on it, over a sand and coral bottom.

The central portion of the bank is slightly deeper than the rim, but not very markedly so. From the edge the soundings drop down steeply to depths between 200 and 300 fathoms.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (October 1897) the current was found to set between W.N.W. and S.S.E., from a half to one and a quarter knots. The southerly set was most pronounced between 3h. and 8h. after high water at Wallis island.

(2) Home Knoll, named after Captain Sir Edward Home, was found by H.M.S. Penguin while searching for Lalla Rookh bank.

It is a small coral knoll, extending east and west about one mile between the 100-fathom limits, by little more than half a mile in breadth, with a least depth of 10 fathoms on it, and general depths of 12 to 16 fathoms, over a sand and coral bottom.

Its centre is in approximately lat. 12° 54½′ S., long. 175° 36½′ W., and it is situated one mile eastward from the north-east end of Lalla Rookh bank with soundings of from 200 to 300 fathoms between.

The 1,000-fathom line encircles the two banks, Lalla Rookh and Home knoll, at distances varying from 1½ to 3 miles.

(3) Pasco Bank, reported by several vessels as situated between Savaii and Wallis islands, and marked "7 P. D." on the Admiralty Charts, is 5 miles in width at its eastern end, from whence it extends nearly 20 miles in a westerly direction, narrowing to a width of 3 miles in its centre, westward of which it contracts to a breadth of three-quarters of a mile, thence broadening out and forming a narrow ridge.

The general depths in the centre are from 22 to 27 fathoms, sand and coral, with a shallow rim of growing coral running round its outer margin, having depths of 8 to 10 fathoms on it. The shoalest soundings, 7½ fathoms, were found on the southern edge of the bank, where it is most contracted in width. On all sides it drops down steeply into depths of from 200 to 400 fathoms.

The western extreme of this bank is situated in approximately lat. 13° 4 S., long. 174° 37½′ W.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (October 1897) the current was found to set from N.W. to S.W. from a half to one and a quarter knots.

(4) Field Bank, probably identical with a bank reported in 1874 by Captain Turpie of the Missionary barque John Williams, was examined by H.M.S. Penguin in October 1897, and as there is already a Turpie bank in this vicinity, the name of Field has been given to it.

Its eastern extremity is situated in approximately lat. 12° 10¾′ S., long. 174° 43½′ W., and the bank thence extends W. by S. ½ S. for 6½ miles. with a breadth of 2½ miles towards the centre, and contracted at the eastern end to a narrow ridge, which is 2 miles long and barely half a mile in width.

The least water found was 13 fathoms, situated on its northern edge; the general depths over the shallow rim encircling the bank range from 14 to 16 fathoms, and the depths in the centre from 18 to 21 fathoms, over a sand and coral bottom.

The edge of the bank drops steeply on all sides into depths of from 200 to 300 fathoms.

It lies S.W. by S., distant 14 miles, from Tavuni bank, with soundings of upwards of 1,200 fathoms between.

The shoal to which the name Turpie was attached having been previously shown 50 miles northward of this position on the Admiralty Chart, a search was made by the Penguin over a considerable area in that locality, but no sign of shoal water was found there. It has therefore been expunged.

(5) TAVIUNI BANK, originally reported by the schooner of that name, is a small oval-shaped bank of sand and coral, 2 miles long. E. ¼ N. and W. ¼ S., within the 100-fathom limits, and upwards of a mile broad.

Its centre is situated in lat. 12° 6′ S., long. 174° 34½′ W. The least water found by H.M.S. Penguin was 9 fathoms, the depth over the greater portion of the bank ranging from 11 to 14 fathoms.

Outside the 20-fathom line it drops steeply down to depths of over 100 fathoms, the 1,000-fathom line maintaining a distance of 2 miles from it all round.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (September 1897) the current was setting N.W., half a knot.

(6) ROBBIE BANK, originally reported by the Master of the schooner Taviuni in 1888, is nearly circular in shape, 8 miles in diameter, and situated with its centre in approximately lat. 11° 3′ S., long. 176° 53′ W.

It is composed of sand and coral, and is of the usual atoll-like formation, which is such a common feature in all these banks, having general depths of 26 to 29 fathoms over its central portion, with a shallower rim, running round the edge, of growing coral, about one mile in width within the 20-fathom line, with depths of 10 to 15 fathoms over it.

The shallowest part is on the north-western edge where this rim rises to depths of 7 and 8 fathoms for a distance of about 2 miles along its periphery.

The edge of this bank drops down steeply on all sides, within a very short distance, to depths of from 200 to 300 fathoms.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (November 1897) the current varied considerably. East and S. E. currents, from a half to three-quarters of a knot, occasionally setting to windward against a fresh E.N.E. wind.

(7) ADOLPH KNOLL, originally reported by the German schooner Adolph, is a small coral bank, one mile in extent, rising steeply from depths of 300 to 400 fathoms, with a least depth of 16 fathoms on it on its western side.

Its centre is situated in approximately lat. 11° 54½′ S., long. 178° 9½′ W. and it bears S.E., distant 3 miles, from Tuscarora bank, with soundings of from 300 to 400 fathoms between.

(8) TUSCARORA BANK, discovered by H.M.S. Penguin, is situated with its centre in approximately lat. 11° 48¾′ S., long. 178° 14′ W.

It is 10 miles long, east and west, and about 6 miles broad, having depths of 26 to 29 fathoms, sand and coral, over its central portions, with a shallower rim of growing coral, over which the general depths are 20 to 22 fathoms.

On the south-western edge there is a shallower patch of 14 fathoms, and on the northern edge a patch of 16 to 18 fathoms. The bank drops down steeply on all sides into depths of more than 200 fathoms.

Whilst at anchor on this bank (November 1897) the current varied in direction between W.N.W. and South, with a rate of from a quarter to one knot. The southerly current commenced with great regularity each day 3 hours after the moon's passage and continued for 6 hours, showing that these variations are due to tide.

Both the Adolph knoll and the Tuscarora bank appear to stand on an extensive deep bank, the 1,000-fathom limit of which it was not practicable to determine.

NOTE.—Captain Field remarks that in no single instance was the presence of any of these banks detected from the masthead, although the conditions for doing so were usually favourable, and in addition to the ordinary "look out," a Fijian, familiar with the appearance of coral water, was always stationed at the masthead.

Charts Nos. 780, 1829 and 1830 have been cancelled.
